

KENT COUNTY LOCAL NOTES

MILLINGTON

The second quarterly meeting of the W. F. M. S. of the Middletown District, was held in Asbury M. E. Church, Millington, on last Friday, March 8th, with a good attendance. Mrs. Harvey Moore, of Betterton, District President, with her usual tact and grace, presided throughout the meeting. Rev. Roy L. Tawes, pastor of Millington Church, conducted the morning devotions. Mrs. R. J. Taylor, in behalf of the Millington Auxiliary, extended a welcome to all members and visitors. One of the features was the display of Goal Charts and Membership Trees by Auxiliary Presidents which showed an increase in membership and progress along many lines.

Luncheon was served in the community hall at 12.30 by the Millington Auxiliary. The afternoon worship service was led by Mrs. L. B. Harper, of Still Pond, First Vice-President of the District. Two addresses were given by Mrs. Nellie G. Schuh and Miss Lullie P. Hooper, of Baltimore. Let us resolve that the inspiration gained on this day by the addresses, earnest prayers and songs of praise may make this the sixth anniversary—the best year.

Mr. and Mrs. William Vansant and three children, William, Jr., Margaret and James, of Elkton, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Geo. B. Jones, last Sunday.

BETTERTON

CALF AND POULTRY CLUBS

The Kent 4-H Clover Calf Club held a meeting Saturday afternoon at the home of Stanley Sutton. 12 members and the County Extension Agents were present.

Each member present gave a report of work done during the year and each one reported the number of animals he owns. It was planned to hold a demonstration in the near future. The next meeting is called for Monday, April 1st, at 8.00 p. m. at the Court House.

The 4-H Progressive Poultry Club held its regular meeting on Monday night, March 11th, in the County Agent's office at the Court House.

Each member present gave a report of work to date and work contemplated.

The program committee, composing William Carroll, Chestertown, Howard Moffett, Chestertown, and Betty Moffett, met March 13th at 8 p. m. to arrange the program for the year.

The next meeting of the Poultry Club will be Monday evening, April 8th at 8.00 p. m., at the Court House in the County Agents Office. Now is the time to enroll to get in a profitable year's work in the Poultry Club.

DEATHS

Walter S. Trew, 71 years old, a retired farmer who had lived here for a number of years, died suddenly Sunday night. Mr. Trew had not been ill but complained of not feeling well before he retired on Sunday night. He and his sister, Miss Katie Trew, lived together on Mill street.

He was a member of one of the largest and most prominent families in Kent county, Md. Mr. Trew spent his early life in the Quaker Neck district of Kent county and had lived on a farm practically all of his life until he retired several years ago. He was a son of Mr. and Mrs. Baratus Trew. He was for some years the Republican member of the Board of Supervisors of Election and took quite an interest in politics.

His wife, the former Miss Bessie Brown, died several years ago. Surviving him are a number of cousins and one sister.

The funeral was held Wednesday, Rev. A. H. Covey, officiating.

John Medders died at his home on Queen street Friday afternoon after a long illness, aged 73. He was clerk to the Board of County Commissioners and former judge of the Orphans' Court. He was for years one of the leading Democrats in the county, having been prominent in the Kennedyville district, where he formerly resided. He succeeded the late John H. Simpers as judge of the Orphans' Court and was subsequently elected Clerk to the Board of County Commissioners, which position he had held since December 9, 1919.

Mr. Medders was one of the active members of Kennedyville M. P. Church, and served as the superintendent of the Sunday school choir leader for many years. He is survived by a widow and two sons, Jesse Medders, of Chestertown, and Prof. George Medders, of Texas.

Funeral services were held at the home here on Monday morning at 11 o'clock, conducted by the Rev. Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, of Christ Methodist Protestant Church.

Mrs. Emma Gladden, wife of John Gladden, of Annapolis, died Friday night with acute indigestion, aged 67 years. Mrs. Gladden was formerly Miss Emma Jones, of Chance.

Besides her husband she leaves two daughters, Mrs. Arthur Stone, of Ruthford, N. J., Mrs. Alvin Coleman, of Chestertown, Md., two sons, John Gladden, Jr., of Pittsburgh, Pa., and James Gladden, of Annapolis; one step-son, Bernie Gladden, of the Naval Academy, Annapolis.

Funeral services were conducted from the home by the Rev. Dr. Johnson. Interment was in the Episcopal Cemetery.

Clarke Davis, E. Scott Thompson, Carl LeCates and John R. Hadaway, drivers.

CARNIVAL DATES

The Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company at its Monday night meeting decided to hold its annual carnival from August 8 to August 19 this year. This is earlier than in the past seasons for the local firemen.

The starting date is on Thursday and the carnival will continue thru two Fridays, two Saturdays and two Mondays.

The proceeds of the first two evenings, Thursday and Friday, August 8 and 9, will go toward paying the amount still due on the Kent County, Md., Ambulance.

DOUBLE CLUB CHASE

Historic and picturesque old Corsica Neck, famed Queen Anne's county fox hunting country, will resume Friday and Saturday to the familiar sounds of the chase as members of the Green Spring Valley Hunt Club and Corsica Club go into action in their annual offensive against Sir Reynard.

Between thirty and forty members of the Green Spring Valley Hunt Club, many with their own horses and accompanied by sixteen hounds of the famous Green Spring Hunt pack, will launch the two-day chase yesterday morning, in company with members of the Corsica Club and between 50 and 100 Eastern Shore dogs.

The Western Shore hounds will be used for one-day of the chase and the Eastern Shore hounds will furnish the music for the other.

David B. Brewster will be master for the visiting club while Thomas J. Keating, of Centreville, will be master for the Corsica Club. Mrs. John J. Rascoe is president of the Corsica Club.

For many years the Green Spring Valley Club sportsmen have been coming to Centreville for these events.
