

LOCAL NOTES.....

J. Z. Miller, assistant county farm agent, is conducting an educational campaign among the members of the 4-H Boys' Calf Clubs in the county for the purpose of establishing a cow testing association. Members of the boys' clubs are taking a leading part in the organization of a dairy herd improvement association, the object of both of which is to raise the standard of the dairy industry and to increase the profit from milk production.

Robert S. Crew returned this week from a four-months business trip to Virginia. He says the conditions there among truckers is very bad as far as business is concerned but in the manufacturing centers it is better.

Dr. Albeus Perry, member of the Chestertown Rotary Club, who has just finished conducting a tour to the Holy Lands, spoke before the local club on Monday evening. He told of the charter meeting of the Cairo, Egypt, club, which he had attended during his tour. Bishop Cannon, renowned dry leader, was a member of the party conducted by Dr. Perry. Other speakers on Monday were J. S. Kreeger and Charles Kibler.

Henry W. Catlin, Esq., has been removing some of the beautiful box wood trees and plants from his Chestertown house to his estate in Worton. J. E. Stouffer did the hauling.

Some of the beautiful and expensive evergreens, planted by Dr. Parsons, about the home of Mr. and Mrs. Sudler Baxter, on Philosopher's Terrace, have been sold to Mrs. Rasak for her estate in Queen Anne's.

A subscriber to the News, noticing in the paper last week that Dr. Wheland's marriage took place in 1819, writes to know how old was the doctor when married? The date should have been 1879 and not 1819. Excuse the error.

Edward A. Richardson, conductor on the Massey and Chestertown passenger trains sold his residence on the corner of Calvert and Mill Sts., to Deputy Clerk of the Court J. Thomas Dixon, Jr., for $5,400. Mr. Richardson and family will make their headquarters in Franklin City. Mr. Dixon and family will shortly occupy their new home.

Henry Nehus, who recently sold his 310-acre farm on Eastern Neck Island, one of the finest ducking lodges on the Chesapeake Bay to Philadelphia sportsmen for $75,000, will shortly leave for an extended tour of Europe, spending a month or more in visiting his home country, Germany, which he has not visited for 36 years. Nehus has purchased the farm near Fairlee belonging to the estate of the late Harry Thomas, of Philadelphia, to which his son has moved his family.

The "short idea" is a youthful idea. That's why it has such a universal appeal. Men like the athletic world shorts suggest and their trim, smooth comfort.

Their color's a smart point, too; trunks bloom with it; shirts are all white or pastel shades, in cotton or rayon.
