ANOTHER EDISON?

Governors of many states are cooperating with Thomas A. Edison to help him to find his successor. The great inventor, after half a century of work in which he revolutionized modern life, is seeking a youth of unusual capabilities who may perhaps be able to continue the work he so well started.

To the high school boy who gives the best answers to one of his questionnaires, Edison offers a free college scholarship. One boy from each state, the one considered the possessor of the highest ability in scientific subjects, will be given a free trip in August to Mr. Edison's office, N. J. laboratories, where the questionnaire will be presented to him. Each of these boys will be entertained and made a gift of an Edison radio-phonograph.

We have no doubt much rare talent will be discovered in the search, and several promising youths will be given an impetus that may result in new benefits to humanity.

WILL AID FIGHT FOR TOMATO DUTY

An ad valorem duty of 40 per cent. on canned tomatoes and on tomato paste is included among amendments to the tariff bill which were reported by the House Ways and Means Committee. In the bill as reported to the House originally a duty of only 25 per cent. on canned tomatoes was incorporated.

Senator Townsend said that when the tariff bill reaches the Senate, an effort will be made to increase the duty to 50 per cent. ad valorem. In this effort the Senators from New Jersey, Delaware and Maryland will lead the way.

In the meantime the Tariff Commission is about ready to return to President Hoover its report on tomatoes, amended so as to equalize duties on paste and canned tomatoes.

It is the present intention of the representatives from the tomato States to ask President Hoover to raise the duty on canned tomatoes from the present 15 per cent. ad valorem to 22 1/2 per cent. This he could do under the flexible provision of the tariff law.

URGE SUMMER WHITE HOUSE ON PENINSULA

President and Mrs. Herbert Hoover have been formally presented with an especially prepared individual copy of a survey prepared by the Del-Mar-Va Eastern Shore Association, offering locations for a Summer White House on the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula.

The survey, in the form of an engraved portfolio, contained a description of ten outstanding estates on the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula, which early this year were offered as locations for a prospective Summer White House which had been advocated by former President Coolidge. The individual copy for President and Mrs. Hoover was bound in leather and stamped in gold on the cover were the words "President and Mrs. Hoover with a brief title of the survey and a small insignia of the Del-Mar-Va Association."

In addition to photographs and descriptive matter of the several estates a general description of the Del-Mar-Va Peninsula illustrated with views in art photography told Del-Mar-Va's story.

Because of the interest expressed by the President in out-of-door sports, and especially fishing, several photographs presented views of the wonderful results which fishermen have found in Del-Mar-Va's waters.

Following the presentation to President Hoover, Congressman Goldsborough made an address from the House explaining why the Del-Mar-Va Association had prepared this survey and then presented to each member of the House and Senate a replica of the portfolio. He also introduced a bill, similar to the Fess measure, which had provided for a Summer White House during the last regular session and which had been reported out of committee favorably but died automatically when the session adjourned.

Kent county was represented by several pretty places.

32 OUT FOR EVERY $1 IN

When President Hoover issued a call for a special session of Congress it was generally understood that the purpose was to provide for promised relief of the farmers. When it was suggested that some radical changes be made in the tariff law increasing duties all along the line and imposing duties on things not now protected the President warned that that was not the purpose but that tariff legislation should be limited and provide mainly for duties on farm products as a companion measure in farm relief. Such it appears was far from the purpose and plan of tariff beneficiaries and members of Congress and the tariff bill now pending carries out their plans by increasing all along the line and taking many things off the free list and placing them on the dutiable list. Especially is this true as to most of the things which farmers buy. They are told that the use of modern farm machinery would help them greatly to farm at a profit. Yet, such machinery is so high priced that few farmers can buy it and it is to be higher if the proposed changes are made in the tariff law. So will be the prices of clothing and building material. It is predicted that $100,000,000 a year will be added to the cost of building supplies alone. The prospect of real farm aid seems slim indeed but that the farmer's bills will be heavily increased by the new tariff bill is pretty sure. If the farmer derives any help from the special session he is likely to lose more than he will gain. It seems that if he has a dollar put in one pocket a hand will follow it and take two if it can find them.—Dover Index.

L. R. Cobert of Fredericksburg, Va., was the lowest bidder for the 7 miles of highway construction on the proposed Eastern Shore Boulevard, extending from Queen Anne to Queenstown. His bid was $143,293.60.

HOW WOULD YOU MANUFACTURE & MARKET A FEED?

First, you would probably search for a new and secret combination of ingredients not known by other manufacturers. Then, you would try to market your product by a method entirely different from present established methods.

But, if you had 86 years' experience in manufacturing feeds, you would know there were no secrets to be discovered. You would select the best and most economical result-producing materials. You would handle and mix them into various balanced rations with the best labor-saving machinery discovered through your long experience, realizing it must be done at a much lower cost than the most economical consumer could do it. You would learn that it costs less to manufacture on a large capacity with day and night shifts.

Finally, you would select the most economical and practical method of marketing your product through retail dealers. They would sell your feeds because you could give them and their customers the greatest value in guaranteed feeds for their dollar.
