GOOD ROADS COME HIGH

The Board of Kent County Commissioners met in special session on Wednesday and fixed a tax rate of $1.90 on the $100 for the coming fiscal year beginning July 1. This is an increase of 36 cents over the present rate of $1.54, the increase representing an additional amount of $45,000 necessary for the payment of the first year's interest on the $1,000,000 bond issue for improved roads and bridges, and nearly $20,000 for slag and additional work on roads and bridges. The school tax is 67 cents and the amount levied amounts to $107,425.96. The State tax for coming year is 25 and 74-100 cents. The increase in the tax rate is chargeable to the effort to give to the public better and improved roads. In 1920, the rate was $2.51 and in 1910 it was $1.85. The levy in detail will be published next month.

CONTRACT AWARDED

The Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College on Monday opened the bids for remodeling Held Hall. The capacity of the building will be doubled and it will be able to house, under one roof, all of the women boarding students at the college. The exterior will be in colonial style, modeled largely after Mt. Vernon.

H. B. Pilchard, of Pocomoke City, was awarded the contract his bid being $28,075. There were no local bids. Mr. Pilchard's offer was $8,000 below the highest bid. He is now finishing The Chestertown Bank of Maryland and will begin on this new job at once.

The following were the bids: E. C. Turner, $36,388.00; Cogswell & Koether, Baltimore $1,950.00; Davis Construction Co., $1,982.00; Northeastern Const. Co., N. Y. $3,955.00; Thos. Hicks & Son, $2,244.00; C. E. Brohawn, Cambridge $2,805.00; McCall & Watts, Baltimore $2,805.00; H. B. Pilchard, Pocomoke City $2,075.00

RESIGNATIONS ANNOUNCED

President Tisworth announced the following resignations from the faculty and official body of the college: E. Leo King, for three years in charge of the college cafeteria, who will be succeeded by Miss Florence Pontz, of Lancaster, Pa. Mrs. Charlotte Moore, matron of the girls' dormitory. Dr. Viola Graham and Prof. R. L. Lasley, of the faculty, no successors for the matron and members of the faculty have been appointed. It was also announced that Prof. L. Ford, who had been on a year's leave of absence to complete a course leading to the degree of doctor of philosophy, will return to the faculty at the beginning of the fall term in September. One of the most picturesque and unique functions of the commencement exercises was the annual Maypole dance and fete held on the campus Monday afternoon, under the direction of Miss Doris Bell, director of physical education for girls and noted pageant.

COMMENCEMENT DANCES

Commencement Days In College & Schools

Another delightful Commencement program was presented to the people of this Community the past week. William Smith Hall was thronged with relatives and friends of the largest graduating class in the history of Washington College for the annual exercises which marked the closing of the one hundred and forty-seventh year of the venerable institution. Following the academic procession which was led by Fred W. Dumschott, of the class of 1927 and assistant coach at the college, the invocation was made by the Rev. Frank White, of Snow Hill. First-honor oration, "The United States and Peace," was delivered by George Francis Carrington, of Chestertown, Second-honor oration, "The Role of Chemistry in the Development of Medicine," was delivered by Robert Wilbur Farr, of Millington. The address to the graduates was delivered by Rollins Holt, LL. D., president of Hamilton College, Winter Park, Fla. Dr. Holt, who is one of the foremost supporters of the conference plan in colleges, spoke about the "advantage in common sense education" which is being carried out at Rollins College. He said, in part: "If I should be asked to name the chief fault of the college today, I would unhesitatingly say that it is the insatiable impulse to extend materially. Expansion may be not without justification as a means to some end, but as the end itself it is, I believe, a delusion. "Far from being a radical movement, the Rollins plan simply goes back to Socrates," declared the speaker, "and places that noble Athenian on an eight-hour day."

President Holt's appeal was to perfect and dignify the small colleges under conditions that will put the "college through the student" rather than the student through the college. He believes this can be done by rewarding those men and women who "have the nobility of character and the grit of teaching, which alone can inspire youth" — and placing them in intimate contact with students.

President Holt severely criticized the lecture system used by the majority of universities today and characterized it as "probably the worst scheme ever devised for imparting knowledge." President Holt's solution of the problem lies in the establishment of an eight-hour academic day in the course of which teacher and student values are substituted for performance task performance values. In other words, the glorification of individual effort and individualized instruction.

President Paul E. Tisworth read his annual report, in which he recounted the achievement of the past year and announced a number of valuable articles from friends of the college during the year. He also spoke hopefully of the future of the institution and outlined plans for raising a large fund for building and endowment purposes, which were further discussed at a meeting of the board of visitors and Governors following the Commencement exercises, as were also plans for converting two properties recently acquired by purchase and the enlargement of Normal Hall, the present girls' dormitory.

SOME CONSTRUCTION AND REPAIRS

At the May Board Meeting the Visitors and Governors voted to remodel Reid Hall so as to double its capacity and thus house, under one roof, all the women boarding students of Washington College. The proposed changes at the girls' dormitory will give this institution a modern building. The exterior of the building will be in colonial style modeled largely after Mt. Vernon which style is in keeping with the colonial origin of the college and with its name. Work will start not later than July 1st. The architect is Harry Hopkins, of Baltimore.

THE COLLEGE PROPOSES ALSO TO RECONSTRUCT

fundamentally the present boys' dormitory so as to make them much more attractive and convenient than those affording the men of Washington College a homelike atmosphere. This work will be started as soon as definite arrangements can be made with suitable builders.

Those two projects represent a beginning of putting the physical equipment of buildings and grounds in a much better condition than they have ever been. It is also the beginning of adopting definitely a colonial motif for subsequent construction on the campus. It marks, furthermore, not quantitatively but qualitatively a big step in the progress of this fine old institution.
