CHESTERTOWN TEAM FOR THE FINALS

The names of four members of the Chestertown horse-show e-pitching team to compete against teams from other communities in the county for the county championship on August 26 have been forwarded to officials of the Playground Athletic League, who, with the Sunpapers, are sponsoring a State-wide contest for the State title, to be held in Baltimore September 13 and 14.

The Chestertown team will be composed of Richard H. Collins, Jr., who is supervising the county-wide contest; Spencer Peterson, Charles Harris, Sr., and Edward Culley.

The finals will be held in Chestertown on the courts in the rear of the court house, which have been provided by the Board of County Commissioners, Raymond B. Gosman and John E. Biggers, of Still Pond, who held the State championship for two consecutive years, are expected to be among those present when the whistle blows for the start of the county finals.

GALENA FETE A SUCCESS

The lawn fete given Thursday night for the benefit of St. Dennis Catholic Church, at Galena, of which Rev. John M. Walsh, is pastor, was a splendid success. One of the largest crowds in the history of the church was in attendance, and the guests included many from Queen Anne's, Kent, Cecil and Dorchester counties, as well as a large number from Delaware.

Charles H. Goll, of Summit Bridge, Del., was the winner of the Howard watch, which was given away. The watch stopped at 40 minutes and 15 seconds past twelve o'clock. William Lecates, of the Galena Sweet Shop, was awarded the rope of Latosea pearls, for the best work in the interest of the affair, and Andrew Woodall, now in Wilmington, formerly of Galena, won the wrist watch, which was awarded as a second prize.

Father Walsh, who is pastor of the church has many friends in this county, and throughout the Shore—having been pastor for several years of St. Mary's Church, at Cambridge.

OIL FIRE FIGHT

One of the largest crowds of Carnival Week witnessed two thrilling spectacles here designed by the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company as educational features for those interested in the welfare of community fire companies. The first feature was a demonstration of extinguishing a serious oil fire. A pit was dug, into which 400 gallons of oil was poured and set afire. Then members of the fire company extinguished it.

Following this firemen from the Easton Fire Company gave a demonstration of leaping from the Voshell House in Chestertown to a life net as a means of saving life in case of fires in crowded buildings.

PICKED FOR TRAINING CAMP

Walter T. Morris, of Kent County, and Dorothy Robinson, of Harford County, have just been announced by E. G. Jenkins, State Boys' Club Agent for the University of Maryland Extension Service, has been selected to represent the 4-H Clubs of Maryland at the Seventh Annual Training School which will be held from September 8th to 14th in connection with the Eastern States Exposition, Springfield, Mass.

The two Maryland delegates were selected for the honor of representing the State because of their outstanding records as leaders in their communities in 4-H Club Work.

Owing to the absence of several members of a committee recently appointed by the Kent County Public Health Association to select a location for the erection of Chestertown's new hospital, no action has yet been taken by the committee.

Several public spirited citizens of the town have offered to donate locations which will receive serious consideration when the committee meets for a decision.

MID-SUMMER WEDDINGS

Emmanuel P. E. Church, Chestertown, was the scene of a beautiful wedding Wednesday evening. The interested parties were Miss Elizabeth Dukes, daughter of Mrs. Lulu Dukes, of Queen street, and Ormond Andrew, a business man of Denton, with the Rev. Charles L. Atwater, rector, officiating. Guests were present from all parts of the Delmarva Peninsula as well as from Wilmington and other nearby cities. Prior to the wedding Mrs. E. Bonwill Dukes, sister-in-law of the bride gave a buffet supper to the bridal party.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, John Dukes, of Philadelphia. She wore ivory satin with a bridal veil of ivory tulle with orange blossoms and carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and wore satin slippers.

The bridesmaids were Misses Mary Simpers, Ann Welch and Ann Bonwill, of Chestertown, and Miss Edith Stranghn, of Denton. Miss Gladys Worrell, of Baltimore, was the maid of honor. The bridesmaids' gowns were of point d'esprit with satin slippers to match and hat of geise horsehair. They carried bouquets of pink roses.
