

LOCAL NOTES.....

The Chestertown Lyceum is furnishing the best in motion pictures every night during the week. The management is sparing no expense to get the very latest and best including the talking pictures.

Joe Williams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Williams, of Rock Hall, has made his debut as a professional ball player with Waynesboro in the Blue Ridge loop. Young Williams is playing in center field and has been hitting the ball at a rapid clip. He drew the attention of scouts from the St. Louis Cardinals. His play was witnessed by a scout for this club and J. Thomas Kibler and as a result he has signed with the St. Louis outfit. Williams had been playing with the St. James team in the Chesapeake Bay loop and performing at an infield station. He was shifted to the outfield when he reported to Waynesboro.

A clinic for diseases of the chest will be conducted in Health Center, Chestertown, Monday, September 9, 1929, at 10.30 a. m.

Mrs. M. E. Newsome has a beautiful side yard at her home next to Christ M. P. Church. It is adorned with a dozen or more plants known as "Joseph's Coat."

The Town Commissioners are improving the north side of Kent street with a new concrete walk starting from Henry Gill's Corner.

The summer excursion schedule of the Baltimore-Tolchester Ferry was changed Monday and the season practically closed. According to a statement made by Superintendent C. Frank Wheatley, the season has been successful and large crowds have visited the resort practically every day during the summer.

"CIRCUS DAY IS CIRCUS DAY"

Always has been and will always remain so through succeeding generations. It is a day when old and young figuratively merge into one throng of happy children. The street parade, the big tents, the side shows with all its wonders from all parts of the globe; the novelties, the pink, lemonade, peanuts, and hot dogs, all add to the atmosphere and help to recall even to the oldest "old timer" the happy days of childhood.

The Barnet Brothers Three Ring Circus and Trained Animal Shows will exhibit at Chestertown on Saturday, September 14th, afternoon and evening at 2 and 8 p. m. Doors open one hour earlier. A Grand Street Parade at noon on the day advertised, rain or shine. A free exhibition on the show ground immediately after the parade. Our mammoth tents are waterproofed and lighted by electricity and will be located on Washington avenue on Bell lot.

Louis C. Robinson, county school superintendent, called a meeting of all public school teachers for yesterday, preparatory to the opening of the following Monday. Methods of instruction will come up for discussion.

Little Miss Estelle Beaver was given a surprise party Friday afternoon at her home on High street. It being her ninth birthday by quite a few of her little friends and school mates. Those present were Miriam Sewell, Harriett and Henrietta Gill, Nina Ford, Marjorie Dixon, Naomi Russell, Henrietta Clark, Charlotte and Maryland Russell, Ellen Hoggans, Ruth Adams, John Russell and Milton Hoggans. A very enjoyable afternoon was spent in playing games. After which refreshments were served. All the little folks departed wishing Estelle many more birthdays.

The Triangle Club of M. P. Church held a lawn fete recently, a Rook party Wednesday afternoon, a bake Saturday and next Tuesday a "treasure hunt" will be the feature of Miss Catherine Smith's unit.

The Chestertown Fire Company was called out Thursday to the home of Leon Brown where a fire was extinguished before much damage was done.

DEATHS

Mrs. Isabelle McDaniel, one of the most active members of Union M. E. Church, Wilmington, for many years died suddenly early Saturday morning at the home of her niece, Mrs. Margaret Cann, in Newark.

Mrs. McDaniel was the widow of Howard H. McDaniel, who died about five years ago.

Mrs. McDaniel had spent practically all of her life in Wilmington and was greatly interested in the affairs of Union Church.

Her death followed an illness of one week.

She is survived by one brother, Richard Groves, of Chestertown, Md., another brother, Thomas H. Groves, died on March 13. She also has a number of nieces and nephews.

The funeral of Walter Wood, 52, prominent farmer and land owner of the county, who died at his home four miles from Chestertown on Friday of heart failure was held Sunday, from his late home conducted by the Rev. Oliver Friedel, pastor of Pomona M. E. Church. Interment was made in Chester Cemetery, C. L. Dodd, undertaker.

Katherine V. Price, wife of William Price, of Millington, died on Thursday morning last at her home. She was 68 years old and leaves a husband and two sons. Funeral this afternoon at 3 o'clock from Tobin's funeral parlors; interment at Millington Cemetery.
