PROCLAMATION

Proposed Amendments to the Constitution of the State, 1930.

WHEREAS, at the January Session of the General Assembly of Maryland, held in the year 1929, two Acts were passed, to wit: Chapter 133 proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, title "Treasury Department," to authorize deputies in the Treasury Department to sign checks and warrants; and Chapter 348, proposing an amendment to the Constitution of Maryland, title "Legislative Department," regulating the compensation of the members of both Houses of the General Assembly of Maryland; in words and figures as follows:

CHAPTER 133

AN ACT to propose an amendment to Sections 2 and 3 of Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Treasury Department," so as to confer upon the Legislature power to authorize deputies, employed in the Treasury Department, to sign, countersign, sign, counter sign and grant warrants, drawal of funds from the State Treasury under regulations prescribed by the Legislature; and providing for the submission of said amendment to the legally qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection.

Section 1. Be it enacted by the General Assembly of Maryland, (three-fifths of all of the Members of both of the Houses concurring), That an amendment to Sections 2 and 3 of Article VI of the Constitution of the State of Maryland, title "Treasury Department," be, and the same is hereby proposed, the said amendment, if adopted by the legally qualified voters of the State, as herein provided, to become a part of said Constitution, and the said Sections as amended to read as follows:

2. The Comptroller shall have the general superintendence of the fiscal affairs of the State; he shall digest and prepare plans for the improvement and management of the revenue, and for the support of the public credit; prepare and report estimates of the revenue and expenditures of the State; superintend and enforce the prompt collection of all taxes and revenue; adjust and settle, on terms prescribed by law, with delinquent collectors and receivers of taxes and State revenue; preserve all public accounts; and decide on the forms of keeping and stating accounts. He, or such of his deputies as may be authorized to do so by the Legislature, shall grant, under regulations prescribed by Law, all warrants for money to be paid out of the Treasury, in pursuance of appropriations by law, and countersign all checks drawn by the Treasurer upon any bank or banks in which the moneys of the State, may, from time to time, be deposited. He shall prescribe the formalities of the transfer of stock, or other evidence of the State debt, and countersign the same, without which such evidence shall not be valid; he shall make to the General Assembly full reports of all his proceedings, and of the State of the Treasury Department of each Session; and perform such other duties as shall be prescribed by law.

3. The Treasurer shall receive the moneys of the State, and, until otherwise prescribed by law, deposit them, as soon as received, to the credit of the State, in such bank or banks as he may, from time to time, with the approval of the Governor, select (the said bank or banks giving security, satisfactory to the Governor, for the safekeeping and forthcoming, when required of said deposits), and he or such of his deputies as may be authorized to do so by the Legislature shall disburse the same for the purposes of the State according to law, upon warrants drawn by the Comptroller, or his duly authorized deputy, and on checks countersigned by the Comptroller, or his duly authorized deputy, and not otherwise. The Treasurer or such of his deputies as may be authorized to do so by the Legislature shall take receipts for all moneys paid from the Treasury Department; and receipt for moneys received by him shall be endorsed upon warrants signed by the Comptroller, or such deputy as may be authorized to do so by law, without which warrants, so signed, no acknowledgment of money received into the Treasury shall be valid; and upon warrants issued by the Comptroller, or his duly authorized deputy, the Treasurer shall make arrangements for the payment of the interest of the public debt, and for the purchase thereof, on account of the sinking fund. Every bond, certificate, or other evidence of the debt of the State shall be signed by the Treasurer, and countersigned by the Comptroller; and no new certificate or other evidence intended to replace another shall be issued until the old one shall be delivered to the Treasurer, and authority executed in due form for the transfer of the same filed in his office, and the transfer accordingly made on the books thereof, and the certificate or other evidence cancelled; but the Legislature may make provisions for the loss of certificates, or other evidences of the debt; and may prescribe, by law, the manner in which the Treasurer shall receive and keep the moneys of the State.

Sec. 2. And be it further enacted by the authority aforesaid, That the aforegoing sections, as amended, shall be, at the next General Election to be held on the first Tuesday after the first Monday in November, nineteen hundred and thirty, submitted to the legally qualified voters of the State for adoption or rejection in pursuance of the directions contained in Article XIV of the Constitution of this State, and at said General Election the vote on the proposed amendment to the Constitution shall be by ballot, and upon each ballot there shall be printed the following synopsis of said amendment, under the caption of:

"CONSTITUTIONAL AMENDMENT

NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

The new telephone directory, the most popular book in Chestertown, is now being delivered. In making the directory delivery, every effort is being made to have each subscriber receive a new book and return the old one to the delivery forces since there have been a great many changes in telephone numbers, and in the listings of new subscribers to telephone service since the last directory was delivered. Unless the old directories are recovered, users will, in many cases, get wrong numbers on making calls, R. C. Harris, manager of the company states.

This new directory not only contains the listings and numbers of telephone subscribers in Chestertown, but it also includes the names and numbers of subscribers to the service in Centreville, Denton, Easton, Federalsburg, Greensboro, Oxford, Preston, Queenstown, Ridgely, St. Michaels, Tilghman, Galena, Millington, Rock Hall, Still Pond, Cecilton, Chesapeake City, Elkton, North East, Perryville, Port Deposit, Havre de Grace, Hurlock and Warwick.

Issuing a telephone directory is no small undertaking, officials of the company state. Of course, the names, street addresses, telephone numbers, and other information contained in the directory must be accurate, and since listings in the directory change on an average of thirty-five per cent in each issue of the telephone book; it calls for general active supervision on the part of the directory forces in seeing that the listing changes are made accurately.

Paper is a real factor in the cost of directory production. Today more than 30,000 tons of paper are being used annually by the telephone companies in the United States in the manufacture of telephone directories. In Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and the District of Columbia, territory operated by the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Companies, 1,500 tons are used in the manufacture of the 35 directories issued twice each year.

"Watermelon contains four vitamins," says a scientific finding. Of course if you like watermelon for its own sake, you con eat around them.

Democratic Platform Stands Comparison

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE SHOULD BE SAUCE FOR THE GANDER

With the State campaign now on in earnest, and the leaders of the various counties and districts giving out the arguments to be used by the "workers the "uninitiated" wonder what it is all about. They hear much about party tradition, and national loyalty, etc. and so on. But when they apply the arguments to their own personal interests, somehow they are left with no understanding as to what it all means.

For instance, locally, the anti-Ritchie "workers" are using the thought that the Governor has already had public office long enough as their basis for the election of Broening. The NEWS has already pointed out that no business concern dismisses its manager because he has worked for them over a period of years, particularly if he has made good. In the Ritchie case, each year sees an improvement in the State's affairs, with still bigger things on the program of accomplishment for the future. When these "workers" leave the "length of time" argument, in bated breath they will talk about the drys and the wets, and there is just about as much merit to their discussion of the last subject as there is to that of the first.

In the Evening Sun of September 29, T. L. Mencken, editor of the American Mercury, in an article titled "The Issue Is Joined," speaking of the Republican platform says: "Who framed the final text I don't know. Whoever he may be, he deserves a high place on the roll of political literati, for his wet-dry plank is the most disingenuous and preposterous document that American statecraft has produced since the Harding inaugural. Standing on it, with the anti-saloon League pulling one of his coat tails, and the Moose heaving yo-ho-ho on the other, Dr. Broening will be lucky if he gets through the campaign without having his wishbone wrenched asunder.

"I look forward to his campaign with the pleasantest of anticipations, for he will be on what the Chicagoan call a hot spot and his gyrations promise to be amusing, if not edifying. Everyone who knows him at all knows that he is wet, and he will need a good many wet votes in Baltimore if he is to be elected, but on the other hand he can't talk wet without risking all of the more backward counties, and he can't win without them. Thus he will have to do a great deal of hoochie coohine dancing and sword swallowing, and here will be excellent entertainment for the judicious—perhaps the only value they ever get out of politics under democracy.

His natural impulse as a practical politican, of course, will be to avoid the subject altogether, as he did during his maneuvers for the nomination, but the chances are that his rustic running mate, Dr. Robb, will make that impossible."

In that part of his article dealing with the length of time in public service, Mr. Mencken continues:

"Despite Dr. Joseph I. France's characteristically honorable caveat, the Goldsboroughs, Old Man Wellers, Bill Jacksons, and other such mountebanks, will probably try to divert attention from the Prohibition issue by denouncing Gov. Ritchie's long continuance in office—in other words, by arguing that there is something immoral about a politican being adept at his trade, and keeping his job. In this, of course, there is only wind music. All politicans hold on as long as they can; it is of the very essence of their science. Goldsborough (now Republican U. S. Senator and recognized State Republcan leader), himself has spent 27 of his 44 adult years "as a public official," and has never let go voluntarily. He is a chronic and incurable job seeker, and probably holds the Maryland championship.

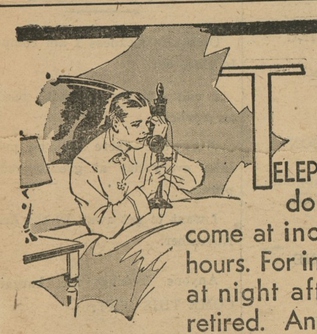

"Allowing everything for his good intentions, it would surely be absurd to compare his public services to those of Gov. Ritchie. The latter made a distinguished record as counsel to the Public Service Commission, and later as Attorney-General, and has been, on the whole, the best Governor that Maryland has had in our time. The Goldsburgian chronicle is far more modest. The honorable gentleman began job-holding at 26 at State's Attorney in his native county, became State Comptroller—then, as now, a soft job for political hacks—at 33, and then fell into the sinocure of collector of internal revenue, holding it for 12 years. Having nothing to do save play politics, he was nominated for Governor in 1912, elected by a small majority, and served four years." He is now in the United States Senate.

Loving and kind in all his ways,
Upright and just to the end of his days,
Sincere in his heart and mind,
Beautiful memories he left behind.
In silence he suffered,
In patience he bore,
Till God called him home
To suffer no more.
