LOCAL NOTES.....

Various improvements are being made on the golf course of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club under the direction of Claude E. Truslow, chairman of the greens committee.

H. Stockton Startt, of Chestertown, buyer for a Camden, N. J., firm, purchased fifty squab turkeys from Mrs. Charles B. Nicholson's flock on Tuesday for which he paid 37 cents a pound live weight. While the price paid is not as high by a few cents as the initial price paid last year, it s believed by leading growers that with cooler weather the prices will advance.

W. J. Stenger won the golf championship of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club on Sunday by defeating R. Ellis Clark 7 up and 6 to play in the 36-hole final of the annual club title event.

W. A. Palmer, of Kent Island, reported to the county agent's office in Centreville, that the five acres of top dressed wheat on his farm brought him nine bushels more per acre than the remainder of the field. The top dressed wheat yielded 28 bushels to the acre, while the other acres produced only 19 bushels.

Walter T. Bramble while driving his small truck over Chester river bridge Wednesday was struck by a large auto truck and injured. He was knocked from his seat, head cut and otherwise bruised. Dr. Hines dressed his wounds and he was able to attend to some of his duties the next day.

George G. Pennington has been awarded the contract to build for Mr. and Mrs. Barber Bartley an elegant residence on the Barroll tract just outside the town limits. This site is on Campus avenue extended and near the location of the proposed hospital.

Andrew Downie, of Downie Bros. Circus, wintering in Havre de Grace for the past several years, is criti cally ill at his home in Medina, N. Y

The State candidates on the Republican ticket are to be in Chestertown at the Voshell House next Tuesday at noon.

The official registration notice, published by order of the Board of Supervisors of Elections appears elsewhere in this issue.

At the last session of teh General Assembly the law was amended, so that this year the two registration days will be September 30 and October 14, while the revision day will be at the intermediate sitting on October 7th.

All candidates, politicians and other interested parties should make a note of this, to avoid confusion.

Mrs. H. M. Baker, a pioneer turkey raiser, who is maturing a flock of 1.500 birds, has suggested a plan for selling quantities of the crop this season. Her plan is to retail the turkeys by cuts similar to retailing other meats instead of the present system of wholesale selling. Mrs Baker states that a large turkey weighs more than some Spring lamb and small pigs which are slaughtered and sold in parts and she believes that the sale of from one to two pounds of the various cuts from a 20-pound turkey would prove attractive to small families who may not find it convenient to purchase a whole bird. It is said that the plan is working successfully in sections of the country, and Mrs. Baker may be among the first to try it out in Kent county this year. She has been in conference with C. A. Douglas looking into the feasibility of using his patent box for shipment of fowls.

MAYFLOWER SECOND

Less than the length of a bowsprit separated the "Mayflower," Chesapeae Bay Log Sailing Canoe, owned by Howard B. Strong, from victory in the special race for boats of that class held in connection with the President's Cup Regatta at Annapolis Saturday. The fifty-year old Kent county craft captured the second prize of fifty dollars in gold, and bowed only to the "Magic" Bob Wilson's fast sailing canoe from St. Michaels. The first prize was $75 in gold. Third prize, $25 in gold, went to the "Belle Helen."

After a start which saw the "Magic" away to a 100.yard lead the "Mayflower" skippered by Captain John Frazier, who was handling the tiller for the first time in 25 years, closed up on the winner until less than five feet separated them at the finish.

In addition to Captain Frazier and Howard Strong, the owner, the crew of the Kent craft was composed of Captain Joe Ashley, seventy-nine year old veteran of many races in the days when the "Mayflower" was owned by its present possessor's father who tended the fore-sheet, John Middleton, who saw the workings of the jib, and Miller Strong, Ruthwin Strong, Charles Crouch and Selby Beck, who rode the boards.

W. Belt Townsnend has purchased of Mrs. Frank Plummer her property on Queen street now occupied as a shop by W. H. Thawley. Price is said to have been $1500.

Duck hunters in those sections of Maryland where the State law provides that it is unlawful to erect blinds at a distance greater than 300 yards from the natural shore will not be required to obtain Federal permits, according to a statement issued yesterday by E. Lee LeCompte, State Game Warden.

The areas affected by the regulations are: The bay shore of Anne Arundel county, Todd's and Brannock's Bay in Dorchester waters of the Chesapeake adjacent to Poplar Island and Coache's Neck, and all waters north of a straight line down from Black Walnut Point to Benoni's Point, Talbot county and Prospect Bay, in Queen Anne's county.

The ducking season in Maryland runs from Nov. 1 to Jan. 1, inclusive.
