Farmall Price REDUCED!

We have just received a big piece of power farming news—the McCormick-Deering FARMALL price has been cut $50, and we are at once passing the information on to our customers. The Harvester Company's announcement says:

"We are glad to be able to make a reduction in the FARMALL tractor price at this time because right now the farmer is seriously in need of anything that will help him to cut down his costs of crop production.

"Due to manufacturing economies and anticipated reductions in material costs, we were able to reduce prices on the McCormick-Deering implement lines, effective for the present season.

"Recently, by the same process, we lowered the price on the 10-20 McCormick-Deering tractor $40, and cut the 15-30 tractor price $75.

"Now, to complete our program of reductions, we announce a $50 cut in the price of the FARMALL.

"These price reductions, made during recent months, mean a saving to farmers of millions of dollars.

"As the original all-purpose tractor the McCormick-Deering FARMALL has won tremendous popularlty. More than 100,000 FARMALLS have been built. Already this tractor has created a real revolution in farming. It is the best investment a farmer can make.

"The new price, $825 f. o. b. Chicago, is the lowest ever placed on the FARMALL."

You have probably seen the FARMALL Tractor at work. If not we will demonstrate it at any time, on any job. The FARMALL replaces 6 to 10 horses and 2 to 3 men. It plows 7 to 9 acres a day—double disks 18 to 25 acres—drills up to 45 acres—plants 24 to 46 acres—cultivates 33 to 50 acres and, in later cultivatings, 50 to 65 acre . It handles every farm power job, including row-crop operations. Put the best tractor power to work now—at the new FARMALL price!

The Modern Funeral

The methods and systems in vogue a few years ago, and still adhered to by many, are no longer applicable. In this age and generation a better understanding of the duties of the funeral director has changed the old order. One of the most difficult problems confronting the modern funeral director will be solved when the public realizes that SERVICE is the principal, and in fact, only commodity which we have to offer.

The casket and funeral appurtenances are negligible, or practically so, requiring little or no expense and, in the matter of expense, consist only with the costs of production.

Service is the main consideration—the care and disposition of the body of the one that has passed on. Knowledge and ability and a readiness to relieve the burden of those who are left to mourn.

FIVE BARRELS JAP BEETLES

Five barrels of Japanese beetles that had been collected in fifteen days on a fifteen acre estate north of Philadelphia, was one of the striking sights observed by about 40 Maryland growers, County Agents and specialists, who made a trip into the territory that is heavily infested with the pest. The beetles were collected by means of 500 traps, such as are used quite generally in the area where the insect has been found.

The Japanese Beetle Laboratory at Moorestown, where the specialists concerned with the different phases of the Japanese beetle situation addressed the assembled Marylanders and then gave them an opportunity to observe the experimental work in progress. This included various kinds of soil treatments, the rearing of parasites, and other methods whereby it is hoped that the damage done by the insect may be held at a minimum.

In the afternoon, the party proceededto the vicinity of Mullica Hill, where extree foliage injury to fruit trees and ornamental shrubs was observed. Some of the trees had been almost entirely stripped of their leaves. The visitors were given an opportunity to witness spraying demonstrations in which poison geraniol sprays were used for the purpose of attracting the beetles into apple trees and killing them when they fed upon the poisoned material.

The Japanese beetle is a serious menace to a number of crops and ornamental plants in Maryland, according to Dr. E. N. Cory, State Entomologist, and strenuous efforts are being made to control it. Every precaution is being observed to prevent its spread into territory that is not now infested, and methods are being devised to reduce the damage in areas where the insect has bees found.

Appendicitis Is Making Gains

An unexplained increase in appendicitis fatalities among the policyholders of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company since 1911 has assumed the proportions of a medical and surgical mystery, according to statisticians writing in the current issue of the company's statistical bulletin. The year 1929 had one of the highest death rates in the disease on record, the bulletin reports, adding that, comparing the last five years with the first five of the period from 1911 to 1929, there was an increase in deaths of 20 per cent for white males and 14 per cent for white females.

"The increases in fatalities have varied by age," the bulletin says. "For children under five years the appendicitis death rate in 1925-29 was 11.5 per 100,000 for white males, an increase of 126 per cent since 1911 to 1915. (For white females the recent death rate at this age period was 9.2 per 100,000, an increase of 92 per cent since 1911-1915.

"Only between 10 and 19 years of age was there any decrease in appendicitis mortality for both males and females. Here the decrease was about 3 per cent for white males and between 10 and 15 for white females. Beginning with adult life, however, the appendicitis death rate showed marked increases in the period 1925-1929, as compared with 1911-1915. During adult life it was generally true that the higher the age the greater the rise in mortality since 1911."

In the first five-year period considered, the death rate of males exceed that of females by 26 per cent, and in the second by 33 per cent, the bulletin declares.

Faddist schools of diet, changes in habits of living and the abuse and self-prescription of laxatives and mineral oils have hitherto been considered possible causes of the disease, the bulletin declares, but thus far their role, either singly or in combination, has not yet been definitely determined.

42-Inch Rock Chokes To Death

While working at the wharf of the Gulf Refining Company, adjoining Abbotts Wharf, along the Susquehanna River, in Havre de Grace, several workmen saw a fish floating on top of the water and an investigation revealed it to be a dead rock, measuring exactly 42 inches in length..

M. B. Hurford, superintendent of construction for the Gulf Refining Company, who measured the fish, noticed the tail of a fish part way out of the rock's mouth. He pulled it out discovered a big roe shad.

The shad was dead and it is thought it had choked the rock lsh to death.

There is no doubt about business being sound, but the trouble is that the sound is so mournful.

Niblick—My wife says if I don't give up gold, she'll leave me.

Putter—Gee, that's hard luck!

Niblick — Yes, I'm surely going to miss her.

Mrs. Kidder — My husband got rough with me yesterday.

Mrs. Prune—Why don't you have him jailed?

Mrs. Kidder—Because he's still in the hospital.

Moron—Your spelling is atrocious. Why don't you look up the words in the dictionary

Robot—I can't spell well enough to find them.

Lady Gosch-Darnn — The duchess comes of a famous old family, I believe

Lady Pusch-Button — Yes, very! An ancestor of hers was beheaded in the Tower of Londan during the reign of King Edward IV!

Lady Gosch-Darnn—Oh, how perfectly thrilling!
