HOTTEST MONTH IN HISTORY U. S.

July, 1930, passed into histor Friday with preliminary figures at the the weather bureau indicating figures it was the hottest month ever recorded. While report from all of the weather stations have not been analyzed, a compilation of temperatures registered at the larger stations shows it was hotter for a longer time and over a larger area than in any previous period since temperature records were established.

From July 4 to July 30 not a single day passed without a temperature of 100 or hotter being officially registered at some place in the country. This was exclusive, weather bureau officials said, of such points as Phoenix and Yuma, Arizona, where 100 is a Summer commonplace.

The coming of August brought no sign of relief from the crop-devastating and water supply menacing drought which also has set a record for duration and extent of territory affected.

The July hot spell was the worst the South ever experienced. Fort Smith, Arkansas, with 17 days of temperatures of 100 or higher, set the pace for the nation. Shreveport, Louisana, with 12 days of century marks, was second and Little Rock Arkansas, and Lincoln, Nebraska, tied for third with eleven day each.

In July, 1901, the previous record month for torridity in the United States, Fort Smith had 13 days of 100 or higher and Shreveport had only three. Last month Memphis had eight days in the 100 class and only three in July, 1901. Huron, South Dakota, had nine this July and six in 1901, while Nashville scored nine and five respectively.

PERHAPS A BLESSING IN DISGUISE

The present dry spell though somewhat broken in parts of Kent has done untold damage to crops, many of which are too far gone now to revive even though heavy rains should fall. Nor is the damage limited to this season for clover and other croops necessarily will show the effects next year.

But when all things are considered perhaps this year's hard luck is a blessing in disguise for those who can weather the storm. Certainly reduction in milk now and the slaughter of non-profitable cows later on will prove advantageous to the dairy industry as a whole, and so it goes with canning crops which were threatened with over production.

In the final analysis these things governed by Mother Nature work out about right so why waste good time worrying over something which cannot be helped

GOV. RITCHIE VICTORY SONG

Miss Amelia B. Jardin, of Baltimore, a former resident of Chestertown, who is visiting friends here, has composed a poem which she has dedicated to Gov. Albert Ritchie, to whom she has forwarded a copy.

Miss Jardin is an ardent Democrat and strongly favors the reelection of Governor Ritchie for a fourth term. The poem is intended to be sung to the tune of "Maryland, My Maryland." Miss Jardin hopes it may be used as a campaign song throughout the State.

A similar poem was written by Miss Jardin during the campaign for the election of the late Gov. Edwin Warfield, and in acknowledging the receipt of a copy sent to him by Miss Jardin, the late Governor stated that he felt sure the poem had helped him to win the fight.

Miss Jardin's latest production, which is dedicated to the Hon. Albert C. Ritchie, Governar of Maryland, follows:

We greet you one and all today,
Ye Democrats of Maryland,
Democracy shall have full sway
In Maryland, dear Maryland.
CHORUS:
Hip, hip, hurrah, let us all unite
And help Al Ritchie win the fight;
He always battles for the right,
Democracy and Maryland.
Let all unite with heart and voice
To ratify the people's choice;
Yes, let us cordially indorse
This true, tried son of Maryland.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

It has come to my attention that a rumor has been circulated to the effect that Rolph's Wharf and Booker's Beach have been quarantined because of either unhealthy conditions or the prevalence of typhoid. These reports are utterly unfounded and entirely false.

Madame Rosaetta will tell the future at her tent for any one interested. All candidates take notice.

An entertainment of readings and music will be given at 8 P. M. Among those participating will be Miss Helen Tyler, Mrs. Wm. T. Dixon, Howard Rasin, Lan Stauffer, Geo. R. Rasin, Jr., Jesse D. Maxwell, Freddie Fetter and his silvertone saxaphone and Mrs. Joshida Mitchell, who conducted a Ladies' Orchestra and also had charge of the music at a St. Louis broadcasting station. A rare treat Benefit Worton Ladies' Aid and Epworth League. Admission 25 cents. a2-2t

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Leaverton have sold their property in Fairlee to Jos. Leaverton and wife. The price is said to have been $2800. Mr. and Mrs. Leaverton expect to reside in Chestertown while Joseph Leaverton will return to Kent from Baltimore.

KENT BOYS WIN NATHAN CUP

At the Dorchester County Fair the Five-County 4-H Judging Contest on Wednesday, Aug. 6, was won for the third successive time by the Kent 4-H Boys. The Nathan cup comes into permanent possession of the county boys.

Kent's score was 3285 points; Dorchester county 3050 points; Caroline county 2935 points. Norman Sutton was the high scoring individual with a total score of 725. A Dorchester county boy was 2nd, Caroline county boy 3rd. Edwin McCrea, of Rock Hall was in a virtual tie for 3rd place. The Talbot county boy was 5th.

The Kent county boys ranked as follaws:

Norman Sutton, 1st, Edwin McCrea 2nd, Walter Rees 3rd, William Carroll 4th, Stephen McCrea 5th.

It is very gratifying to all to have the cup won permanently by the 4-H boys.

Older Club Boys, no longer eligible to compete, deserve credit for their assistance and the enthusiasm they impart to the younger members.

Stanley Sutton, Walter Morris and Wilbur Morris rendered valuable assistance to County Agents McVean ang King in coaching the Club Boys for this contest.

Albert Nicholson who was indisposed did not compete at Cambridge but is hoped that he will be on the Kent county team competing at the State Fair.

Louis Ackerman and Barbara Bigelow represented the Girls' 4-H Club of Kent county in the Five-County Judging Contest. The results of this contest are not yet available but these girls made a very creditable showing for Kent county.

Serious Drought Still Continues

Mr. Tabor, head of the Farm Grange, says we people in Maryland and Delaware don't know anything about a drought. He says there are places in the West that are simply burning up. Corn is ruined in many places.

The mercury in Chestertown reached 99 Sunday, 100 on Monday and 101 on Tuesday. In Baltimore and other cities the mercury climbed to 105.

Scarcity of water for domestic uses is making itself felt throughout the country as the worst possible feature of the heat wave that remains unbroken by rain at this writing. Thruout Pennsylvania and the mid-west streams are going dry and there are reports of fish perishing both because of the scarcity of water and by reason of its being so heated by the long and uninterrupted domination of sunshine. Some of the rivers of great volume are shrunken to tiny trickling streams while the "Father of Waters" has dwindled from 40 feet deep in some of its northern reaches to less than two feet.

Perhaps no one of our present day citizens can recall a period when the supply of water thruout the country was at such a low minimum, and possibly there has never been such anxiety regarding the matter.

The desperation of many communities is demonstrated by the fact that streams, springs and wells that have before been affected by the absence of rain are now drying up while in many Western communities stock is driven from inland farms and quartered along rivers where water is obtainable.

We have been much favored in that direction. Our supply has been ample for all purposes and we are assured that there need be no apprehension regarding the immediate future if we use the water sparingly.

Farmers and dairymen are facing exceptionally heavy loss as a result of the prolonged drought which which has rendered numerous corn fields almost valueless, has burned up pasture lands and now is threatening to seriously injury tomato production.

Dairymen are facing a particularly acute situation because of the scarcity of feed.

Tomatoes, in spite of the long dry siege, are making a brave stand against unfavorable weather conditions. An early rain will, it is believed, save the crop of very serious curtailment.

With reports of acute distress in the drought-stricken areas of the Middle West accumlating from hour to hour, three administrative departments and the Federal Farm Board swung into action Thursday in an effort to render prompt assistance to the farm communities upon which the full force of the unprecedented disaster has fallen.

DEALER PAID FOR SHEEP KILLED

Israel Heller, Chestertown stock dealer, who placed a large flock of sheep on Airy Hill farm, three miles from here, appeared before the Board of County Commissioners at their weekly meeting Tuesday and filed a claim for damages for the loss of 27 sheep and marketable lambs which were killed on Monday night by stray dogs. This is the heaviest loss that has been sustained by anyone in Kent county from this cause for a number of years. The commissioners allowed the owner $6 for each animal killed, which is paid from a fund created for the purpose by the board through annual taxes collected by the county on dogs.

Chester River Bridge Opens Oct.

The work of erecting the new concrete bridge across Chester river is progressing so rapidly that officials of the contracting firm of Spencer, White & Prentis, Washington, believe that it will be possible, with favorable weather, to finish the structure by the middle of October instead of around Thanksgiving Day, as was first announced.

Much of the concrete superstructure has been completed and the sixty foot bascule draw has been put in place. Approaches to both ends of the span arebeing built, and both the contractors and the State Roads Commission under whose supervision the span is being erected are pleased with the progress being made.

American Legion Posts here and in Centreville have proposed to the State Roads Commission officials that the structure be made a memorial to the ex-service men of the two counties.

YACHT RACES POPULAR

The Chester River Yacht and Country Club was well represented at the annual regatta of the Miles River Yacht Club held Friday and today of this week off the club's property at St. Michael's.

The two log sailing canoes which fly the pennant of the local club, made a noble effort to bring the Governor's Cup, the trophy offered for that annual race back to Chestertown.

The Mayflower, owned by Howard B. Strong, and the Island Blossom, owned by Stanley Evans, have been put into first class shape for the St. Michael's events. Both boats were sailed in the free-for-all sailing event on Friday and will appear again in the Chesapeake Bay Log Canoe race today, Saturday.

R. Hynson Rogers, member of the regatta program committee of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, has on display at Kreeger's store a photograph of the $5,000 gold cup which is being offered by the Raskob family as the trophy in the star event of the second annual regatta to be held here August 21.

HORSE SHOW ON FRENCH FARM

At a meeting of the committee held on Monday it was finally decided to hold the Sixth Annual Kent County Horse Show on the farm where Wm. French lives, on Wednesday, August 20th.

Last year's show was held on this farm but the field used then is now in corn. The field selected for this year is somewhat smaller than the committee would like to have, but it seems that it is the best that can be obtained. All of the other fields which have been offered or looked at by the members of the committee on the Show Grounds have been found to be too rough, and full of ravines or too far from the places where most of the horses are stabled, or not on a State road.

The officers of the Horse Show Association are the same as those last year, they are as follows: Wilbur R. Hubbard, president; C. M. Newcomb, secretary; Stephen R. Collins, treasurer.

Show Ring Committee: Harry Nicols. William J. French, William Touslon, Grover Coleman, and Frank Coleman.

Marshall: Edmund Hurtt.

Announcer: H. Stockton Start.

The Kent County Horse Show has always aroused a great deal of interest throughout the county and has drawn horses and spectators from the neighboring counties and some people from Baltimore, Wilmington and Philadelphia.

C. S. HURLOCK DIES AT MASSEY

Clarence S. Hurlock died at his home in Massey Tuesday, aged 80, after a long illness.

Mr. Hurlock was one of the leading Democrats in Kent county in his younger days. He served as County Treasurer from 1892 to 1894 and from 1912 to 1914, and also served one term of six years, 1897 to 1903, as Register of Wil ls.

For many years he was regarded as the Democratic leader in the First election district. He was one of the largest landowners in the county, at one time owned thirteen farms. He is survived by a son, Samuel S. Hurlock, and three daughters, Mrs. J. D. Lucas and Mrs. Woodall Jones, of Masesy, and Mrs. Nellie Moore, of Wilmington.

He was a citizen of generous impulses, intelligent and loyal to old friends. He was courteous to everybody and a gentleman in the truest sense of the word.

The funeral took place Friday at 11 A. M. at St. Clement's P. E. Church, Massey, conducted by the Rev. J. H. Garner. Burial was in the cemetery adjoining the church.

Alvin R. Brown, 47, died on Monday, August 4th, in Mercy Hospital, Baltimore. Funeral services were held at his Baltimore home on Tuesday morning with burial in Chester Cemetery Wednesday at 10 A. M.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Margaret J. Brown and the following children: Alvin R. Brown, Jr., Katherine Brown, Marion B. Ogden, Alice C. Brown and Billy Lee Brown.

He leaves eight brothers and sisters as follows: C. Henry Brown, Samuel W. Brown, George M. Brown, Ralph Brown, Mrs. Alice C. Bowers, Mrs. Bessie Lee, Mrs. Emma B. Maloney and Mrs. Delia Gray. He also leaves a mother, Mrs. A. B. Krauss, of Baltimore.

The funeral services were conducted by the Reverends E. A. Sexsmith and Harry Wright with the Masonic Order officiating. The bearers were J. Samuel Kreeger, Chas. H. Schreiber, Rollison Baxter, Harry Fallowfield, C. J. Harris and Lawrence G. Brown; Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.

Mrs. Barbara A. Hughes, 83, widow of William D. Hughes, died at her home in Keedysville last Friday following a briefillness. Mrs. Hughes was born in the house used by General McClellan as his headquarters during the Battle of Antietam.

She was the mother of Dr. H. C. Hughes, of Chestertown.

She was a member of the United Brethren Church Keedysville, and Queen Esther Chapter, No. 3, Order of Hagerstown, Md. Dr. Hughes lost his father just a few weeks ago.

Mrs. Jeannette Shriver, 47, died at her home in Piney Neck on Tuesday, August 5th. She is survived by her husband, Carroll Shriver, and one daughter, Elizabeth, and one son, William.

Funeral services held on Thursday at 2 P. M., from home in Piney Neck, with Rev. Barrett officiating; interment in Wesely Chapel Cemetery, Charles L. Dodd, undertaker.

The bearers were Charles and Harry Vansant, Clarence and Wm. Edwards, Leonard Ward, John Glenn.

WHEAT JUMPS TO 90 CENTS

Wheat was selling for 88 and 90 cents in Chestertown Wednesday afternoon and Thursday morning. The price quoted yesterday A. M. was 86½ and 88½ cents. Corn was selling in Baltimore at $1.00.

Noland's Annual August Bargain Sale Week will begin today. Read the county papers for particulars and go look over his many money saving bargains.

The Bantum car arrived in Chestertown this week and may be seen at A. S. Turner and Sons' Garage. It is the American Austin and uses only a gallon of gasoline every 40 or 45 miles and will go 1,000 miles on 2½ quarts oil. It sells for $498 delivered.

Chestertown has been visited this week by a tramp who visited a number of homes begging for something to eat. He said he was from Baltimore and New York but out of work. This is unusual.

The prizes at Rock Hall parade on Wednesday night were as follows: Chestertown $20 for best band; Millington for largest distance; Sudlersville for best appearance; Church Hill for having most men in line.

George Burris' horse from Quaker Neck, won second money at Harrington Fair last Friday.
