Baccalaureate Sunday In Chestertown

Sunday was baccalaureate day in Chestertown. At 11 A. M. services were held in William Smith Hall, Washington College, where President Paul E. Titsworth delivered the baccalaureate address to the fifty-seven men and women of the graduating class. Splendid music was furnished by the College double quartette and by Mrs. Cleveland Smith and Mr. Wagner.

All church congregations in the town united in this service. In the evening at 7.30 o'clock the baccalaureate services for the fifty-eight graduates of the Chestertown High School was held in Christ M. P. Church. A fine sermon was delivered by Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, pastor of the church, and a large chorus choir under the direction of Mrs. W. Frank Jarrell sang special music.

In the afternoon the last vesper service of the school was held in William Smith Hall, Washington College, when the college orchestra, under the direction of Dr. Fred G. Livingood, gave an elaborate musical program as noted in News last week.

ALUMNI GROUP ELECTS

Wade G. Bounds, of Baltimore, was elected president of the Washington College Alumni Association for the next year at the annual meeting and banquet of that body held here last Saturday evening.

Stephen R. Collins, of Chestertown, was chosen vice-presient of the organization and Dr. J. S. William Jones was re-elected secretary-treasurer. Marion deK, Smith, Jr., of Chestertown and William G. Bratten, of Philadelphia, were chosen members of the executive committee.

Following the suggestion of Miss Anne Rothwell Stewart, founder and first president of the Woman's Eastern Shore Society of Maryland, a set of books 26 in number, "Dictionary of National Biography" by Leslie Stephen and Sidney Lee was given to the library of Washington College, Chestertown, on the occasion of the Annual Alumni Banquet and Dance.

The presentation was made by Mrs. Melvin Stewart, an alumnus of the college and a member of the society, upon the request of Mrs. Benjamin W. Woolford, President of the Society. The gift was accepted with great appreciation by Dr. Paul E Titsworth, of the college.

Some time ago the library of Washington College, containing many valuable records and works, was destroyed by fire, it is therefore a fitting and timely contribution the Eastern Shore women make to one of the oldest institutions of learning in the country. At a meeting today, the Board agreed to keep this dictionary up to date and has so advised Dr. Titsworth.

One of the future activities of the Woman's Eastern Shore Society is a benefit card party to aid in its educational program to be held at the Woman's Club of Roland Park on Tuesday, June 17th, at 2.30 day-light time.

Mrs. Charles Lorentz, Tudor Arms Apts., is chairman of the card party committee. Mrs. John Broening, Jr., 2218 Mt. Holly St., is making reservations.

Exactly one year after Charles Brown, son of Mr. and Mrs. James W. Brown, of Pomona, well-known farmer of Kent county, was killed in an automobile accident in the Middle West, another son, Randolph, was seriously injured in a motor accident at Bloomfield, N. J., and now lies in a critical condition in a Philadelphia hospital.

Brown has been a member of the Marine Corps for 17 years and recently was stationed at Lakehurst, N. J. In three years he is slated for retirement on pay. Three weeks ago he was returning from a visit with friends at Bloomfield, to Lakehurst, when his car collided with a parked car on the highway. His skull was fractured and since then physicians have been afraid to operate, it is said by his parents. An operation will, however, be performed, it is believed, in an effort to save his life. His mother is at his bedside.

The Kent County Chamber of Commerce will hold its semi-annual banquet on Wednesday, July 9th, at the Cheaspeake Hotel at Betterton.

This banquet will have as its chief purpose the gathering of county people for the discussion of a Products Show to be held in the early Fall.

GOV. RITCHIE TELLS A SECRET

At the Rotary dinner at Tolchester Hotel on Friday night Governor Albert C. Ritchie told the reason why he was running again for the high office of Governor of Maryland.

The Governor made one of the best short addresses we have ever heard him deliver. He seemed to be more than usual at his ease and with his sympathetic audience made a most pleasing and telling address.

In the course of his talk he said that he was an honorary member of the Annapolis Rotary Club as the Governor is usually so made. When asked a short time ago why he wanted another term as Governor, he replied that he wanted to continue an honorary member of Rotary and could only be by continuing as Governor. This hit "brought down the house." The Governor said the two outstanding achievements of his tenure of office of Governor have been its progress in health and its advance in public education.

The Rotary dinner was the annual meeting of the Elkton, Denton, Centreville and Chestertown Clubs, with Centreville putting on the program. President Thomas Gordon Bennett, of the Centreville Club, was master of ceremonies and acquitted himself handsomely, his address of welcome being a splendid exposition upon the duties of Rotarians. The musical selections by local Centreville artists was enthustically received. Each lady was given a souvenir of a solid silver Stieff pickle fork.

The dinner served by the Tolchester Hotel consisted of soft, crabs, fried chicken, bay mackerel and other Eastern Shore delicacies.

The Chestertown Rotary will be the host club next year.

At the regular meeting of the Chestertown Rotary Club on Monday evening last at the Maryland Inn a fine talk was given by Rev. John White. His subject was the new Upper Queen Anne's-Kent County Hospital.

The Hospital Committee has received revised plans and specifications for the proposed building from the architect and will advertise for bids in a few days.

Jack Bonwill purchased from the State Roads Commission for $50 the bridge-keeper's residence at Chester-river bridge. He has employed Ellsworth Newcomb to raze same and use the lumber in the erection of a bungalow on his farm near Urieville. glow on his farm near Unievelle. The old bridge house is now nearly all torn down and will make a big improvement to the bridge approach.

J. Raymond Simpers and Thomas W. Perkins have been named to make an audit of the books of the Commissioners of Chestertown. The audit is being made at the request of the newly organized board.

When the fire bell rang at 6.30 yesterday morning to summon the firemen for their trip to Baltimore, a well known citizen having read of the shortage of water, drew buckets of water, filled the tub, etc., thinking the alarm was to notify the public that water was to be cut off.
