SATURDAY, JUNE 14, 1930

As noted elsewhere in the News the Kent County Commissioners have cut down the tax rate 27 cents from what it was last year. Excellent work and we are proud of Messrs. Johnson, Jones and Wood and their Clerk Wm. A. Wheatley.

NEW PAPER IN BALTIMORE

"The Stonewall" is the name of a new newspaper started in Baltimore. The paper will be Democratic and tabloid in shape. It will be a sort of standoff to the Observer and Marylander and instead of finding fault with everything the Democrats do it will call attention to the hundreds of fine things the Democratic administration has done and is still doing. In other words it promises "to dedicate itself to the best and most efficient form of government in City and State, through the agency of the Democratic Party.

Here's hoping much success to the new paper.

SENATOR SIMMONS DEFEATED.

Furnifold M. Simmons, United States Senator from North Carolina, Saturday joined Senators Grundy, of Pennsylvania, and Deneen, of Illinois, in defeat for renomination.

The veteran Tarheel legislator, who has been virtual dictator of the Democratic party in the State since he defeated Senator Marion Butler, Republican, in 1900, was snowed under by Joshua W. Bailey, Raleigh attorney, by a majority of around 70,000 votes.

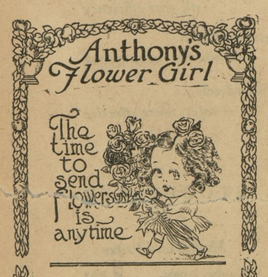

The switch is regarded in the State as entirely due to Senator Simmons' refusal in 1928 to support Alfred E. Smith, Democratic nominee for President. He threw his influence to Herbert Hoover, the State going Republican nationally for the first time in a third of a century.

Bailey entered the primary with the avowed intention of "punishing" Simmons. He had the support of the State Democratic "machine" which Simmons built up and which seldom in the last thirty years had failed to support the Senator's candidates.

State Conservation Commissioner Swepson Earle has notified all watermen in this county that any person renting boats or nets to non-resident fishermen will be arrested and heavily fined and their boats and nets confiscated. Numerous reports reaching the office of the Conservation Commission regarding such violations are the cause of the issuance of the edict. The law prohibits any person who is not a bona fide resident or land owner of Maryland from fishing in the tidewaters of the State with nets of any description.

POULTRY DISEASE CLINIC JUNE 20TH

Dr. H. M. DeVolt, in charge of The James Todd Laboratory of the University of Maryland at College Park, will continue the Poultry Disease Clinic in Kent County on Friday, June 20th. All Kent county poultry raisers who have diseases or troubles with their poultry are welcome to bring or send birds to this free clinic. For want of a better place, the clinic will be held again at the Farm Bureau office, Friday, June 20th, 10.00 A. M. to 3.00 P. M., is the time. Sick or troubled birds may be sent by the farmer direct to Dr. DeVolt if they prefer to ship them rather than to deliver them to the Clinic. Send as much information as possible regarding the actions of the birds, length of sickness, number lost, etc., as a guide to the Doctor. Dr. DeVolt locates and identifies the trouble and makes recommendations for treatment, prevention or cure if such is known.

THERE is no especial time to send flowers. Morning, noon and night they are welcome in her home—in your home—at the hospital—up at the home of a friend who is ill—anywhere, anytime you can send flowers and they will be welcome. You will like the welcome and the treatment you receive at this shop.

Cornerstone Is Twice Laid At The College

When Washington College authorities, preparatory to laying of the cornerstone of Reid Hall, women's dormitory, looked for the stone Saturday morning shortly before the Masonic ceremonies were to begin, they found the stone had been carefully laid the night before and cemented into place.

It is believed students took it upon themselves to perform the cornerstone laying rites under cover of darkness. Chisels and hammers were hastily called into play by college workmen and the stone broken away from its foundations, which had hardened over night.

In the stone was found a note which stated that the stone had been laid with out any hot air.

The Masonic ritual was successfull carried out at 11 o'clock Saturday morning.

President Paul E. Titsworth, was in charge of the program. The ceremonies were conducted by George R. Gorsuch, grand master, of the Masonic lodge of Maryland assisted by his official staff—by Grand Lecturer Harry B. Wright, of Preston; Assistant Grand Lecturer, Roscoe Wheatley, of Easton, and representatives of the Chestertown Lodge.

The procession composed of members of the Grand Lodge, and representatives from a number of Eastern Shore towns, formed at William Smith Hall and marched across the campus to Reid Hall, where the ceremonies took place.

An address by Dr. Harry V. Holloway, Grand Master of the Masonic Order of Delaware, and a graduate of Washington College, was a feature. The speaker gave a short history of the founding and development of Washington College, and paid a tribute to those officials of the institution who have been instrumental in its most recent evelopment.

Reid Hall has jjust been remodeled at a cost of $30,000. Its architecture is a reproduction of Mount Vernon, the home of George Washington, Whose name the college bears.

It is surrounded by a beautiful landscape garden and is one of the most imposing structures in the present scheme of college buildings. Members of the alumni association from New York, Philadelphia, Baltimore Wilmington, Texas and sections of the Eastern Shore as well as college officials witnessed the ceremonies.

Ladies of the Eastern Star of Chestertown served a fine buffet luncheon at the Gymnasium after the ceremonies.

Free speech is the safety valve. Workers blow off steam. Then they feel better. It is all very human.

Scholarship Examination
