LOCAL NOTES.....

TODAY IS FLAG DAY

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Carvel, of Bethlehem, Pa., are spending several weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Kratzer, here. Mrs. Carvel is the owner of a purebred Doberman-Pinchot Vono Von Poul puppy which recently won three ribbons and other prizes in a national dog show held in Madison, N. Y.

Kent county authorities are on the lookout for a thief or thieves who are alleged to have stolen an automobile in Baltimore on Tuesday and driven to Bohemia brige where they stole a mahogany speed boat moored near the bridge, leaving the car. The boat, whose owner cannot be ascertained, was found on the Shore of the farm on Churn Creek in Worton, tenanted by William O. B. Knight, who said that the thieves abandoned the boat on the shore, walked to a nearby filling station, and induced a man to take them to Bohemia bridge.

Delegates elected by the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company to attend the annual State convention of the Maryland Firemen's Association is meeting in Baltimore, left here last evening. Friday morinng the company's 41-piece band, with a large representation of members of the Ladies' Auxiliary and Associate Organization left to participate in the street pageant which was held Friday afternoon. The delegates are: Fred S. Russell, Barber R. Bartley, Carl M. LeCates, R. Clarke Davis and C. Arthur Bacon. The alternates are Wm. H. Elliott, Willard H. Thawley, Alvin C. Brown, J. Hydie Thompson and Wm. J. Smith.

Sylvester Whaley, of Fairlee, who recently served six months in the Eastern Penitentiary, Philadelphia, on an assault charge, was sentenced to 18 months in the House of Correction Monday night by Magistrate Olin B. Stafford on a charge of threatening Jesse and Sarah Hicks with a shotgun. All are Negroes. Whaley had previously served three months in Maryland on a similar charge.

Bayard Wilson, of Rock Hall, was given nine months in the same institution for starting a mob disturbance at a recent Negro celebration and with an assault on several persons. He was arrested in Camden, N. J., by Sheriff J. T. Hadaway when he reported for work at a laundry near the Camden police station.

TAKES FIVE TO 'TAME' MAN ON THE SHORE

Albert C. Cedia, aged twenty-five, of 1208 West Lexington street, Baltimore, landed from the ferry, Express, Sunday and started to "clean up" this resort. He proved too hard a nut to crack for local police as they called on Sheriff J. T. Hadaway, of Chestertown, Deputy Sheriff Robt. E. Lee and Chief of Police Samuel E. Cooper.

Five men were required to take Cedia into custody after he had attacked and slightly injured Officer George A. Crayton, of Baltimore, beach police, and the sheriff.

Prior to his arrest he is said to have tried to drown himself in the bay and was taken out of the water by officers. At Chestertown Monday night he was fined a total of $101 and costs on charges of assault and battery and resisting officers.

TO EXTEND WORK HERE

E. J. MacPhail, sales director and Roland W. Bates, Eastern Shore representativeof the Eastern Properties Corporation, were in Chestertown last week, preparatory to extending the field of the corporation in Kent county.

The company has acquired and now is developing two extensive tracts in the rapidly growing sections adjacent to Baltimore. Investment opportunities will be offered county citizens in an important announcement which appeared in Kent News last week.

Thirty members and friends of the Woman's Literary Club of Chestertown will make their annual pilgrimage next Tuesday. The party will go to Baltimore, via the Tolchester ferry where they have chartered a bus for the trip which will be made to Harpers Ferry, W. Va., the Antietam battlefield, and the Crystal Caverns, near Hagerstown, returning to Baltimore in time to catch the evening ferry to Tolchester.

Announcement was made Tuesday that the deal which was to have transferred the Voshell Hotel from the heirs of C. H. Eshman to Herbert Effinger, hotel man of Philadelphia, has fallen through and that Mr. Effinger has changed his mind. The Eshman heirs will retain the hotel, it is said, until other arrangements are made to dispose of it.

Meeting Of Fresh Air Committee

The first meeting of the Fresh Air Committee was held on June 5th at the home of Mrs. Thomas Massey, chairman. The date for the little visitors to come to Kent has been set for July 22 to August 5.

The question has been asked why New York City is sending its needy children so far away from home as Maryland and Virginia and why New York State is not caring for them entirely. While this question is not in keeping with the much-vaunted spirit of Southern hospitality it is a natural one and is answered by quoting the figures given the committee that there are 50,000 little children in New York needing these vacations and only some 17,000 are being sent out each year. This leaves an overflow that other states, whose own metropolis have no such organized work, may well absorb.

Invitations for the children are coming along slowly but the committee feels confident that Kent will not fail to live up to its name of a friendly community.

Beginning July 22 a number of children from New York City will arrive in Chestertown where they will be assigned to homes in the town and country district by a committee which has been organized for the purpose of assisting a New York newspaper which is sponsoring the outing.

The Chestertown committee in charge of the securing of homes is Mrs. Thomas Massey, chairman; Mrs. T. Barclay Kilbourn, vice-chairman; Mrs. Nell C. Westcott, secretary; the Rev. J. H. Wright, the Rev. Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, Misses Helen Schellinger, Anne B. Smith, Maude Kemp, Mrs. G. H. Cannan, Mrs. J. Gale Usilton, Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton, Mrs. L. W. Wickes, the Rev. John White, Mrs. T. H. M. Bramble, Mrs. W. O. Selby, Mrs. Walter T. Morris, Mrs. Harry T. Williams, the Rev. J. F. Earner, Mrs. Elizabeth Baxter. Each of the children from the city will be furnished a home for two weeks.

A noted writer once said that if a man cannot be for his employer 100% he ought to get out and get another job. This is good rhetoric and good doctrine, but the goal is perhaps too high for human nature.

TILLING TOMATOES

A frequent mistake in tilling tomatoes is too deep cultivation. This deep cultivation accomplishes little if weeds are kept down by frequent cultivation. The main objective to the deep tillage is thae it lessons the yield per acre very materially. That this is true is apparent when we realize that the deep tillage is merely pruning off the feeding roots. The more the roots are pruned the less use the plant can make of the fertilizer and plant food in the soil, therefore less yield results. Frequent clean, shallow cultivation is the best type of tillage.
