LOCAL NOTES.....

The schooner "Ltlie Charlie" has been sold by John D. Orie, Esq., to Medford Capel, of Chestertown.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Volunteer Fire Company will meet at the Fire House next Monday evening, at 7.00 P. M.

In another column Leonard Snider advertises rams and ewes at $25 to $50. It was a mistake in last week's paper in naming $20 to $50.

The County Commissioners at their meeting Tuesday named the following trustees to Kent County Almshouse: James B. Newnam, M. Wilbur Thomas, Harry C. Willis, Joseph M. Norris, Elmer S. Jarman; Dr. C W. Whaland, physician.

Members of the By-Kota Club of the M. E. Church selected a fine cast of characters for a three-act comedy which was given in the Lyceum Theatre Tuesday evening. Ellis Clark had the leading role in the comedy, Bashful Mr. Bobbs.

He was well supported by the following: Mesdames Howard Pennington, Agnes Fowler, Helyne Rogers, Regina Kirby, Ruth Emerson, Misses Elizabeth Willis and Elizabeth Starkey, John R. Hadaway, Howard Pennington and J. D. Gutherie. The play was one of the social features of the spring season.

According to information received from Massey the result of a petition recently circulated among the residents of the town showed that its voters, 72 in number, are 88.8 per cent wet. Of the 72 voters whose names appear on the registration books, 64 signed the petition to the Maryland members in Congress asking them to use their best efforts in bringing about the repeal of the 18th amendment, six could not be located, and only two voters refused to sign. The report states that practically as many women signed the petition as men.

President Paul E. Titsworth, of Washington College, is arranging a ceremony to be held in connection with the laying of the cornerstone of Reid Hall the girls' dormitory at the college, which has been remodeled during the year at a cost of $30,000. The ceremony will constitute one of the features of the annual commencement exercises and will take place on Saturday morning, June 7, at 11. The exercises will be under the direction of the Masonic Grand Lodge of Maryland, of which George R. Gorsuch, of Baltimore, is grand master. A short address by Dr. Harry V. Holloway, grand master of the Delaware Grand Lodge, will feature the program.

The National League of District Postmasters for Maryland met in Baltimore Tuesday. Wm. S. Dempsey, postmaster at Kennedyville, this county, is president of the State branch and presided at the sessions. The principal speakers were Mayor W. F. Broening, Postmaster B. F. Woelper, Jr., of Baltimore; S. E. Sullivan, assistant superintendent of the Division of Postmasters' Appointments, Washington; Postoffice Inspector W. Chambers, and H. R. Parvin, of Ramsey, N. J., district chairman of the organization.

Wm. C. Dempsey was re-elected president and also elected a delegate to the national convention which meets in Houston, Texas, next September.

Miss Carrie Walters, senior in the Chestertown High School, won the declamation contest among Kent county high schools at the annual test held here last Friday, May 16. With the honor goes the right to represent the county in the annual Peninsula scholastic contest held Friday night at Washington College, when the nine Eastern Shore Counties were represented, together with the three Delaware counties and the two Eastern Shore of Virginia counties. Last year Delaware was not represented. Miss Helen Jacobs of the Rock Hall High School won second prize in the county contest.

The 35-piece band of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company has accepted an invitation from station WDEL, Wilmington, to go on the air for a concert Friday evening. The band will be under the director of Professor C. Arthur Bacon, and will give a portion of the program presented at a recent concert in the Lyceum Theatre here.

Vernon Watts, a young farmer who tills his father's farm on Worton Point, has proven to be one of the most successful apple growers in the county. He finished selling his entire crop during the past week in the Chestertown curb market and stated today that he sold here more than 1500 baskets of standard variety fruit at prices ranging from $1.25 per peach basket to $2 per bushel, which netted close to $1,000. The apples were gathered last Fall and placed in cold storage and were sold in Chestertown almost daily during the Winter and Spring months.

The youngest parachute jumper in Kent county is a few weeks old and made its trial jump this week when Arthur Harris, Kent County airman, delivered a small white kitten to children on a farm near Worton.

KENT NEWS $1.50 PER YEAR

The annual musicale, presented under the direction of Miss Louise B. Russell, professor of music at Washington College, will be held in William Smith Hall on Tuesday evening, May 27th. Several members of Miss Russell's class will appear in piano selections. In addition to the local talent three artists from the Peabody Conservatory of Music have been secured. Howard Mitchell, celebrated cellist, Amanda Ransdell Harman, well known violinist and Earl B. Lippy, talented baritone, will take part in the musicale.

One day recently a minature parachute came down on the Howell Point Farm. After examining the small parachute and making sure the kitten would be safe Mr. Harris flew to a Worton farm where the kitten was promised as a pet and circled low in his plane until the children ran out to watch him. When he had the attention of the youngsters he gently dropped the little pet which floated down like a good-sized snowflake and experienced parachute jumper making a splendid landing in the upstretched hands of its new owners.

Chestertown banks were represented at the annual meeting of the Maryland State Bankers' Association in Atlantic City on Wednesday and Thursday by the following delegates: Chestertown Bank of Maryland, Alan A. Harris and William B. Usilton; Kent County Savings Bank, William F. Russell, Sr., and J. D. Bacchus; Third National, W. B. Copper, T. G. Wroth, Andrew W. Wilson. Simon Westcott was also present from Chestertown.

Richard H. Collins, Jr., chairman of the publicity committee of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club, announced today that the Rascob family will offer a handsome gold cup to be designated as a memorial to the late William F. Raskob, son of Mr. and Mrs. John J. Raskob, of Pioneer Point estates, who lost his life two years ago in an automobile accident, as the trophy for the winner of an open sailing race for the championship of the Cheaspeake Bay.

The race will be sailed over a course in the bay off Love Point at the mouth of Chester river, and will be the feature event of the first day's program of the second annual regatta of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club to be held August 22 and 23, for which the regatta committee has already begun to make plans.

Members of the Raskob family will be largely represented in the various events on the program, their speed and sail boats as well as the knockabouts now in Corsica river harbor, off Pioneer Point estates. being put in trim for the Summer season.

NURSE'S HEALTH WORK FOR APRIL

The nurse's work during the month of April was intensified due to the activities of the National Negro Health Week which extra visits were made to homes and schools, more clinics were held and a general clean-up campaign was carried on among the colored group. It is reported that many little colored settlements and homes which heretofore had been totally devoid of any civic pride cooperated splendidly in the clean-up work. Yards and houses were cleaned and buildings whitewashed in larger numbers than ever before. Such activities have their effect for the betterment of the entire community, in that laundry goes into cleaner homes and help comes from better homes into those of the white group who employ colored labor.

Between the two nurses 302 visits were made during April which include instructive, nursing, social service and other types of visits. Over 300 school children were inspected and diseases found were scabies, impetigo, chicken pox and scarlet fever. Among defects found were teeth, throat and cases of malnutrition. Communicable diseases are carefully followed up and the spread checked in every possible way. Defects are reported to parents and cases urged to see their family physicians. Follow up calls are made in such cases that require serious and immediate attention.

Pre-school clinics were held by Dr. Kathryn Goodson and the regular monthly clinic for diseases of the chest was held at the Health Center. Ten births were reported for the month, nine of which were delivered by physicians. The one delivered by a midwife was visited by the county nurses as is customary in such cases.

ENTERS BUSINESS HERE

Vernon Kirby, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Kirby, entered business with his father here this week. Mr. J. W. Kirby has conducted a large tombstone and monument business on Cross street for many years.

Vernon Kirby is a graduate of Washington College and after graduating took a position as teacher at the Maryland Industrial School in Baltimore. Later he was in charge of the school and occupied this position until last year when he accepted a more responsible position in Pittsburgh.

A KENT BOY PROMOTED

The News takes pleasure in calling attention to the rapid rise in the business world of a former Kent countian, Roland H. Crew, brother to Mrs. S. G. Roseberry. He graduated at Washington College in 1911 and finished the course at Swarthmore in two years. The Railway Engineering and Maintenance Journal of April has the following:

Roland H. Crew, whose promotion to division engineer of the Akron division of the Pennsylvania, with headquarters at Akron, Ohio, was noted in the February issue, was born at Still Pond, Md., on March 29th, 1893. After graduating from Swarthmore College in 1913, he entered the railway service almost immediately with the Pennsylvania as a rodman on the engineer corps of the New York division. Four years later he was promoted to transitman in the office of the chief engineer maintenance of way with headquarters at Philadelphia, Pa.

On September 11, 1917, Mr. Crew left the service of the Pennsylvania on a leave of absence while he was on overseas duty with the 25th Engineers and the Transportation Corps. On September 8, 1919, he returned to the Pennsylvania as an assistant supervisor of track on the Atlantic division at Camden, N. J., then being transferred to the New York Division at Trenton, N. J., on July 15, 1920; to the Sunbury Division at Wilkes-Barre, Pa., on January 10, 1921, and to the Middle Division at Huntingdon, Pa., on March 16, 1921. He was promoted to supervisor of track on the Buffalo Division, with headquarters at Strouthers, Pa., on April 6th, 1926, then being transferred to the Pittsburgh Division with headquarters at East Liberty, Pa., on March 1, 1928.

On August 1, 1929, Mr. Crew was promoted to assistant division engineer of the Philadelphia Division with headquarters at Harrisburg, Pa., which position he was holding at the time of his promotion to division engineer, effective December 16, 1929.

Four school properties held by the Board of Education, comprising a school house and lot at Melitota, the Quaker Neck Middle school house and lot, the Quaker Neck No. 2 school lot, and Mill Branch school lot, were offered at public sale in front of the Court House door here Tuesday, but were withdrawn because of insufficient bids. The total amount bid for the four pieces did not exceed $500.
