HERD IMPROVEMENT ASSOCIATION MEETS

The Kent County Dairy Herd Improvement Association is completing a year's work this month. Reports on the work of this Association will be made Wednesday night, May 28, in a meeting at the Court House. County Agent McVean is much pleased with the outcome of the testing program.

Members have had production facts to guide their grain feeding. They have found out which cows are the best source of calves to raise for herd replacements. They have learned which cows to beef and which to retain. They are in position to make real progress in increasing profits from their herds.

The Dairy Herd Improvement Association is of sound economic importance in that it is the best known means of measuring the man and his feeding practices; the cow and her ability to produce; and the sire's ability to transmit to his daughters greater production than that of their dams.

DEATHS OF WEEK

Robert C. Morgan died at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Mae Woodall in Fredericktown Friday afternoon, aged 83. He had been ill for a month.

Mr. Morgan was for years one of the leading Democrats in Kent county, having served for four years as a member of the Board of County Commissioners and during his late years as police justice in Galena and also as clerk to the Board of Galena Town Commissioners. Besides his daughters, Mrs. Woodall, and Laura, he leaves two sons, Edward and James Morgan.

He was widely known and his home always was a place of hospitality and cheer. Mr. Morgan's uppermost quality was that of loyalty—to his family, to his church, to his party and to a large circle of friends. He was a man of high character, gentle manners and intelligent.

The funeral was held Monday in Galena Protestant Episcopal Church, conducted by the Rev. J. R. Baird, rector of Shrewsbury parish, of which the Galena church is a part.

The bearers were Wm. A. Hyland, Philip Ireland, Elmer Jarman, Harry Bolton, Frank Cohee, Thomas Cruikshank.

Capt. George Akers, well-known waterman and resident of Rock Hall, this county, died Sunday at Maryland General Hospital, Baltimore, aged 71 years. He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Annie T. Akers, and the following children: Capt. Frank Akers, Hilliary Akers, Mrs. Andrew Stevens and Mrs. A. T. Hogans. Funeral services was held Wednesday afternoon from Rock Hall Adventist Church, interment in Wesley Chapel Cemetery, Rev. Leslie Shoup, of Washington, D. C., officiating. The bearers were Capt. Henry Urie, Russell Sewell, John Dowling, Raymond Hersch, James Taylor and Capt. Geo. Ayres.

Mrs. Anna A. Hall, widow of the late Fred Hall, died Tuesday, May 20th, at her residence in Centreville, Md., after being in declining health for several months. Mrs. Hall, formerly Miss Anna Reed, of Church Hill, spent the greater portion of her life in that town, only going to live in Centreville a few years ago.

The deceased is survived by one daughter, Mrs. E. Stephens Valliant, of Centreville, two sons, J. Wilmer Hall, of Church Hill, and Fred Hall, of Tonowanda N. Y., and a number of grandchildren.

The annual meeting of the members of Christ Methodist Protestant Church was held Thursday evening in the lecture room of the church. The Board of Stewards was re-elected with the addition of J. Albert Wheat was a new member. Reports from each of the church organizations were made. The return of the pastor, the Rev. Dr. E. A. Sexsmith, is expected. Charles S. Smith was elected delegate and Rollison Baxter alternate. Conference will meet in Cambridge, June 11th.

At the members meeting of St. James M. P. Church Robert G. Nicholson was elected delegate to conference and Harry Parsons alternate.

At a meeting of all Sunday Schools in the Diocese of Easton held in Easton, the Sunday school of Emmanuel P. E. Church won the banner for the largest contribution made to the cause of missions by any Sunday school in the diocese during the past year. Its total contribution was $643. This is the second year in succession that the school has carried off the prize.
