LOCAL NOTES.....

Kent, like the whole East, is in the grip of a hot, dry spell.

George Pendleton, the colored lawyer, who represented Wm. Waters at the recent session of Court, filed an appeal to the Court of Appeals. The prisoner is therefore detained at the jail here until after the appeal is heard.

The annual "Donation Day" for "The Home for Aged Women," of Easton, Md., will be Tuesday, May 20th. The ladies of the Board cordially invite you to visit the Home on that day. There will be an exhibit of rugs, patch work, etc., done by the ladies of the Home and lunch will be served free of charge to all visitors. Donations of all sorts will be gratefully received.

George Carroll, of Double Creek, was arrested Tuesday on Cross St., near Maple Ave., by Officer Storm charged with the possession of two gallons of liquor. Officer Storm noticed an obstructed tag and it was this that attracted his attention and was surprised when he found the large quantity of wet goods. Carroll was carried to Denton where a hearing will be held Saturday before U. S. Commissioner Carter. Thomas Healey, Esq., will represent the accused.

Rev. J. H. Wright is able to be at his work and will preach Sunday. His pulpit was supplied last Sunday by visitors. The other occupants of the car in which Rev. Wright was riding are also convalescent.

Mr. and Mrs. Romie Fogwell entertained Sunday evening in honor of their son's birthday. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Romie Fogwell, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Fogwell and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Biggers and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Goodman and family, A. Kelley.

Barclay Eshman and family have removed to the Knight apartment on Queen street.

WASHINGTON STILL WINNING

In the most colorful baseball game played here this season Washington College nosed out Pennsylvania State Teachers College, of West Chester, by a 12-to-9 score on Wednesday. Both sides used three pitchers and the visitors had led the Maroon and Black by a 8-to-4 score at the end of the fifth inning.

Badart followed Carey on the mound and with the game apparently sewed up by West Chester in the eighth, the veteran Griffin began pitching for Washington. A batting rally brought in eight runs in the final frame. Our college team has not been defeated this season.

SONG CONTEST AND CONCERT

In connection with the meeting of the Federated Women's Club of Maryland at Salisbury on Tuesday last, there was a most interesting contest for prizes in the rendering of a chosen piece of music. Choruses from five of the Women's Clubs were entered.

The concert, following the contest, was by the Kent County Musical Club of Chestertown, aided by more than twenty voices from Easton and other adjacent towns, under the direction of Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith, and with Misses Russell and Covey accompanying.

The entire evening's work held the close and interested attention of the large audience, and received enthusiastic applause. Some of these numbers will be repeated at the big concert at the college Monday evning.

C. A. Douglas, connected with the Chestertown Gas Co., and Miss Lottie Cramer, of Lancaster, Pa., were married in Philadelphia Friday, May 2. They will arrive in Chestertown next week and remain here for the summer. Welcome to Kent.

DEATHS.

News of the death of Rev. Lewis B. Sheen, former rector of St. Paul's P. E. Church, which occurred in a New Jersey hospital Saturday morning, was received Saturday by friends here. He was undergoing an operation when he failed to revive from the anaesthetic. The deceased made many friends here. He formed a troup of cavalry from the boys of Fairlee and vicinity and was beloved by all of them. He was a former rector of Berlin and Ocean City.

Miss Lizzie L. Hepbron passed away at her late home in Lynch on Sunday morning after a lingering illness. She was a charter member of the Lynch M. P. Church. Her christian spirit and her devotion to her church and the home endeared her to her many friends and acquaintances.

She is survived by her father, William Hepbron and one brother, Frank R., of Lynch, and six nephews, Percy M., Walter J., Harry H., Archie R., W. Ernest, Louis S. Hepbron, and two nieces, Ida Louise and Anna Elizabeth Hepbron.

Martin Harris Widmark, age 3 years and 9 months, son of Evelyn Ford Widmark and Martin Widemark, died in St. Luke's Hospital, Jacksonville, Fla., Saturday morning May 3rd. The body was brought to Still Pond Monday afternoon and interment in the Still Pond Cemetery; Rev. J. C. Hopkins officiated; B. R. Fellows, undertaker.

Girl Given $8,750 Verdict In Cash

Damages of $8,750 for injuries received June 25, 1927, in an automobile collision that took place on the DuPont Boulevard, near St. Georges, Del., were awarded Vera Martin, 16, Friday night by a Kent County Circuit Court jury that deliberated six hours.

The verdict was against Leslie Jones, of Federalsburg, Md., driver of a truck that figured in the collision, and the owner, Wilmer Davis, of Federalsburg.

The suit was for $25,000. The defense filed notice of appeal.

Four other suits for a total of approximately $25,000 growing out of the collision are pending.

The plaintiffs are Mrs. Herman Schurr, of Linfield, Pa., whose husband was killed; Mrs. Elmer Schurr and her two sons, Elmer and Clarence, all of Linfield, who were injured.

The Martin girl was a guest of the Schurr family in their touring car and lost an eye and received facial disfigurement.

H. W. Vickers was local attorney for plaintiff and Senator S. Scott Beck for defendant.

Serves Useful Purpose

The term "dunking" is applied to the moistening or softening of zwiebacks, cakes, crackers and bread crusts in coffee, tea or milk. While it is not considered good form, it is greatly enjoyed by small children and old people whose teeth are no longer strong enough to cope with such hard substances.
