FAMOUS Ohio Rotary Hoe

For Breaking Crust, Weeding, and Conditioning the Soil

With a Famous Ohio Rotary Hoe you can cover as much ground in a day as two men with single row cultivators. Thus with a team this implement will cover 15 to 20 acres per day of corn, peas, beets, potatoes, mint, wheat, oats, clover or alfalfa. With a tractor, 30 to 40 acres.

Wheels can be raised or lowered, permitting deep or shallow cultivation. Hoes can be raised clear of the ground when moving from field to field, saving wear and tear and preventing breakage of the hoes.

A grass seeding attachment can be supplied for the Famous Ohio Rotary Hoe.

Watering a Hanging Plant

To water a hanging plant place a small funnel in the center of the basket, leaving the cup part above the soil, but hidden by the foliage. Fill this funnel daily with water. The water will soak into the soil gradually and will not run through onto the floor.

Looking Ahead

Some day, an anthropologist tells us, the human brain may work 100 times as efficiently as it does today. Then we had better begin thinking of things to think about.—Stoddard King in the Spokane Spokesman-Review.

RT. REV. GEORGE W. DAVENPORT, D. D.
Bishop of Diocese of Easton, Md.

EASTON DIOCESE MAKE GAINS

Statistical evidence of a healty growth, both materially and spiritually, in the Diocese of Easton, in the last decade, was presented in the annual address of Bishop George W. Davenport, at Tuesday's session of the sixty-second annual diocesan convention held in Salisbury. The anniversary sermon, at the opening service, was by Bishop Philip Cook, of Delawore.
Samuel E. Shanahan, Easton, was elected secretary of the convention for the eighteenth term.
Six churches, closed a decade ago, have been opened, parish houses have grown in number from eleven to nineteen, and improvements in all church properties, including rebuilding of the Children's Home, Easton, were cited by the bishop. Contributions in the ten years totaled $1,067,192.
In 1920 there were 3,437 communicants in the diocese, while today the number has grown to 4,034, and 2,174 persons were confirmed within the diocese.
One of the pressing needs cited was the establishment of a work for boys similar to that now done for girls in the Children's Home.
"In those things which make for material culture, there has been remarkable progress," the speaker asserted: "On the other hand, we have witnessed an increasing disrespect for laws with its attending evil."
"Education," he said, "can accomplish much, provided it is linked with religion."
Speculating on why churches today are not better attended, Bishop Davenport said:
"No doubt many people lack a sense of worship, but it is doubtful whether this will be developed until the pulpits of our land sound a note of religious truth which will satisfy the natural religious lingings of people seeking a better way of life."
Bishop Davenport suggested to his clergy that in the days to come "we give greater attention to our preaching mission."

While Dobbin Grazed

The members of the younger generation needn't think the clutch used in an automobile is something new. Dad can tell you it was often used in the old-time buggy on a quiet country road.—Louisville Times.

Normal Hearing

The distance which can be distinctly heard under average conditions spoken in an ordinary speaking voice is about 30 feet; a person whispering can be heard about 15 feet from the speaker.

Tulips in Holland

The miles and miles of bulb fields in Holland are a rare sight in spring. But the Dutch grower is no sentimentalist; the bulb fields would soon disappear, an unprofitable industry, if he did not send his workers out, day by day, to cut off the full blooms and thereby strengthen the bulbs for future flowering. The tourist is welcome to as many flowers as he can carry away from the "refuse pile" beside every patch.

GIVE YOUR FLOWERS NOW

"If with pleasure you are viewing,
any work a man is doing,
If you like him or you love him,
tell him now,
Don't withhold your approbation till
the person makes oration,
Or he lies with snowy lilies o'er
his brow.

For no matter how you shout it, he won't really care about it,
He won't know how many teardrops you have shed;
If you think some praise is due him,
now's the time to slip it to him
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead.

More than fame or more than money
is the comment kind and sunny,
And the hearty, warm approval of a friend;
For it gives to life a savor, and it makes you strong and braver,
And it gives you heart and spirit
to the end.
If he earns your praise, bestow it,
now's the time to let him know
it;
Let the words of true encouragement be said:
Don't wait till life is over and he's underneath the clover,
For he cannot read his tombstone
when he's dead."

Natural Gentleman

He that can enjoy the intimacy of the great and on no occasion disgust them with familiarity or disgrace himself with servility, proves that he is as perfect a gentleman by nature as his companions are by rank.—Colton.

OBITUARY

In sad and loving remembrance of Ruth A. Copper Diblin, who passed from our midst one year ago, May 11th, 1929.
Remembrance is a golden chain,
Death tries to break, but all in vain.
To have, to love and then to part
Is the greatest sorrow of one's heart
The years may wipe out many things
But this they wipe out never,
The memory of those happy days
When we were all together.
