SATURDAY, MAY 3, 1930

The annual financial report of the Board of Town Commissioners has been audited for the year ending April 25. The total receipts of money from all sources is the largest in the history of the town, aggregating $27,755.77, the bulk of which was secured from an annual tax rate of 75 cents on the $100, which amounted to $15,199.09. A total $1,796.67 was received as property holders' share of laying cement pavements in the town while the Board of County Commissioners contributed $2,000 for street improvement, while $1,816.73 was received from the county as the town's share of the tax on the stock of corporations. A total of $3,662.50 was paid to the commissioners by the Water Board for the payment of bonds and interest on the water department's bonded indebtedness. The total disbursements amounted to $26,850.01, the bulk of which was paid for the repair and maintenance of streets, sidewalks and gutters, and in salaries of town officials. The board contributed $655.51 to the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company for maintenance, and the damage suit of Mrs. Mabel S. Baker, of Baltimore, against the board growing out of the death of her daughter, Miss Mae Appler, in an automobile accident on the town streets in 1927, cost the town $819.54 in lawyers' fees and other costs. The total assessment of all property in the town is placed at $2,100.000, while its bonded indebtedness is only $44,500.

ROCK HALL 127 AHEAD

The population of Rock Hall as shown by the 1930 census is 699, as compared with 672 in 1920.

On the face of incomplete reports, indications are that the 1930 census will show the population of Salisbury has increased nearly fifty per cent since the 1920 enumeration.

A. Stengle Marine, District Supervisor, stated Saturday afternoon that reports of enumerators tabulated in his offices to date gave Salisbury a population of 10,532 with a part of Parsons district lying within the city incompleted.

The 1920 census gave Salisbury a reported population of 7,553. The 1930 count may reach 11,000.

The reports in Salisbury indicate that Wicomico will hold its four representatives in the House of Delegates. The county was awarded a fourth delegate when the 1920 census showed the population above 28,000. A fifth delegate cannot be obtained until the figure reaches 40,000.

Easton has been completed, the count showing that town has 4,091 as compared with 3,442 in 1920. Cambridge has showing a gain of about 800 with reports of two enumerators incomplete.

Those who have apple orchards which they desire to spray should apply at once the "petal fall" spray. This spray is designed to protect all new foliage from scab and leaf spot infection; to poison curculio and to prevent entry of coddling moth worms through the calyx. All of which is important if yield and quality of fruit is desired.

BRIDGE CONCERN TRIES FINANCING

Negotiations for financing a Chesapeake Bay bridge by private capital have been reopened by the Chesapeake Bay Bridge Company. Explaining the postponement of the next meeting of the Bay Bridge Commission until May 7, B. Howell Griswold, Jr., chairman, said the change had been made at the request of representatives of the bridge company, who had been scheduled to opear before the commission this week and who are engaged in negotiations with bankers.

Mr. Griswold pointed out that Governor Ritchie in appointing the body of which he is chairman, had said private capital still might go ahead with the construction of the span in the event financial conditions proved favorable.

Mr. Griswold said that since the last meeting of the commission he had been in consultation with engineers who had been gathering statistics and information on estimated and final costs of thirty bridges and seven tunnels constructed recently in in other States. Comparative traffi studies will be undertaken later.

He indicated that this data, embodied in a preliminary report, would be submitted at the next meeting of the commission, which will be held in the Merchants Club.

At this meeting the commission will hear representatives of the business and public bodies of the Eastern Shore. Various sections have been invited to send representatives prepared with data sought for the study of the project.

Among those who will appear are Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of Washington College and of the Chestertown Chamber of Commerce, and W. Irving Walker, of the Rich Neck Chamber of Commerce.

"If the State should determine to enter the project." Mr. Griswold said, "an act of the Legislature will be required and as the Legislature does not convene until next January, the commission, in the event of further delays on the part of private capital, will have opportunity for a thorough and detailed investigation before recommending that the State commit itself to the project.

On Tuesday evening, May 6th at 8.30 o'clock, the Women's Federated Clubs will hold their song contest at Salisbury under the direction of Mrs. Cleveland S. Smith, State Chairman of Community Singing. The following clubs will compete: The Woman's Club of Glyndon; Neighborhood Improvement Club of Govans; Woman's Club of St. Michaels; Woman's Club of Federalsburg; Woman's Club of Salisbury. Three prizes in money will be awarded. The three judges are Dr. Walter Rockwood Ferris, of Easton, Miss Virginia Blackhead, of the Peabody, and Mrs. Joseph C. Byron, State Persident of Federated Clubs of Music. Following the contest there will be a concert of fifty Peninsular singers and Washington College Double Male Quartette.

The New Lyceum is showing fine pictures nightly.

The Modern Funeral

The methods and systems in vogue a few years ago, and still adhered to by many, are no longer applicable. In this age and generation a better understanding of the duties of the funeral director has changed the old order. One of the most difficult problems confronting the modern funeral director will be solved when the public realizes that SERVICE is the principal, and in fact, only commodity which we have to offer.

The casket and funeral appurtenances are negligible, or practically so, requiring little or no expense and, in the matter of expense, consist only with the costs of production.

Service is the main consideration—the care and disposition of the body of the one that has passed on. Knowledge and ability and a readiness to relieve the burden of those who are left to mourn.
