Fishermen Meet Govern't Officers

At a conference of fifty Kent county fishermen and War Department officials held in Firemen's Hall in Rock Hall last Saturday night, a compromise was reached whereby a series of controversies between watermen and Government engineers was brought to a conclusion. Congressman T. Alan Goldsborough, representing the Eastern Shore district, State Senator S. Scott Beck, of Kent county, Senator Earle Withgott and Mason Shehan, of Talbott, and Col. Warren T. Hannum, U. S. A., chief engineer of the Maryland district took part in the parely which resulted in the fishermen being allowed to retain their stake nets in the bay for three more weeks with the provision that at the end of that period they would be removed to the legal twenty-five feet depth limit.

The decision of Colonel Hannum followed arguments presented by the two counsel who maintained that an earlier removal of the nets would be derogatory to the fishermen's interest.

The meeting was the result of Rock Hall fishermen stringing a line of nets in the bay, excepting the boat channel. Fishermen recently complained that fish were being prevented from proceeding northward and that while local watermen were making good catches, netmen were taking only a small catch from the water. Two weeks ago a vessel, under command of Major William Boyle, drew an anchor through a number of the Rock Hall nets in the bay, beyond the twenty-five feet limit. Local watermen entered a complaint, in turn, and contended that the water was legally theirs to fish in. They also protested against the government regulation which prohibits the placing of nets outside the limit prescribed since they are a menace to navigation up and down the bay.

Colonel Hannum said he realized what a harship it would be to have the fishermen draw up their stakes and that he would go over the grounds and all who were interfering with navigation would be ordered to pull up stakes. It is thought that only two or three will come under three will come under this order and the meeting closed with most of them in a happy frame of mind.

WASHINGTON COLLEGE SQUADS DRILL DAILY

Although there is a lull in the sports schedule of Washington College, daily practice is going forward in anticipation of a baseball game with the Pennsylvania State Teachers' College at West Chester and for the lacrosse tilt with Randolph-Macon College. Both settos will be played April 26.

Coach J. D. Makosky will take his tennis team to Selinsgrove, Pa., May 10, to meet Susquehanna University. During the Easter holidoy light practice was indulged in by baseball and lacrosse squads.

Tom Kibler is more than pleased with the showing of his diamond squad. Against the professional Hagerstown outfit the Maroon and Black handled themselves like veterans and Griffin pitched a heady game as did Carey, who relieved him midway of the tilt.

HAPPY WEDDINGS THE PAST WEEK

The bride, who was given in marriage by her uncle, Howard E. Ash, of Trainer, wore a gown of white satin, which was quite long and formed a train. Her veil of tulle, which also, formed a train, was held in place by a cap of duchesse lace fastened with orange blossoms. She wore white satin slippers trimmed with lace and lilies of the valley and carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley.

Miss Verna Ash Longhurst, a sister of the bride, who attended her as maid of honor, was attired in a gown of Langford pink lace with pink satin slippers, and wore a pink horsehair hat trimmed with ribbon velvet. She carried pink roses, snapdragons and sweet peas.

The bridesmaids, Miss Esther Ash, Miss Helen Simpson, Miss Aimee Ross and Miss Reba Lamplugh, were attired in frocks of Langford pink lace and tulle. Their hats were horsehair models trimmed with ribbon velvet and their slippers were pink satin. Their bouquets were pink roses, snapdragons and sweet peas.

The flower girls were Virginia Friedel and Marion Ridgeway, who wore white crepe frocks with white satin ribbons about their heads and carried sweet peas.

Henry Friedel, of Claymont, a brother of the bridegroom was best man and the ushers included: The Rev. Robert Green, the Rev. Sydney Bradley, the Rev. Alton Lowe and the Rev. T. O. Wills, members of the Wilmington Conference.

Blair Harper, who was ring bearer, wore a suit of white satin.

Walter Felton, of Columbia, played the wedding music and the solos, I Love You Truly and O Promise Me, were sung by Miss Anne Simpson, a cousin of the bride; and George W. Turner, of this city. Miss Gertrude Nichols, of Barre, Vermont, played a violin solo, At Dawning.

The bride's mother wore a gown of rose beige georgette with a black horsehair hat. The mother of the bridegroom was attired in dark blue silk crepe trimmed with ecru.

Immediately after the ceremony there was a reception at the home of the bride, after which the Rev. Friedel and his bride left for a wedding trip to Washington. Upon their return they will reside in Pomona, Md.

Among the guests who attended were friends from Maryland, Virginia, Vermont and Pennsylvania.

A cablegram of congratulations was received from Mrs. Janet Earnshaw and Miss Christine McCorkindale, of Paisley, Scotland.

Rev. Mr. Friedel and bride arrived at Pomona Tuesday evening where a reception was held and over a hundred were present.
