Whale Pulled Boat

A ride on a whale was taken by two brothers. While they were fishing from a flat-bottomed boat off the Donegal (Ireland) coast their craft began to move swiftly along. After going fifty yards the boat's headlong career was checked and soon it lay rocking gently on the calm water. The brothers declare that when they looked over the side they saw the bulk of a huge whale vanishing into the depths, directly underneath their tiny vessel.

There're Many Like Him

It was a sad day for the neighbors when they had Peter Tumbledown take a share in a thresher. They had a terrible time collecting the money to begin with. And now whenever Peter has a chance at the machine he takes the bolts out of it to fix up some of his own implements. If Peter repaired all his machines at once, the thresher would fall into a hundred pieces.—The Farm Journal.

Nature's Wise Provision

It is claimed that a cod weighing 21 pounds will produce 2,700,000 eggs in one spawning period; these are so small that it takes 337,000 to fill a quart pail. As for the reason why most fish produce eggs rather than living young, it may be suggested that this is a wise provision of nature in view of the great loss involved. For each egg destined to become a mature fish there must be thousands sacrificed to be food for other marine life.
