WEDNESDAY MARCH 19

Offering these values at the price we do reminds us of the story of the Auctioneer who was selling the horse "How much am I bid?" "Will some one start it?" There was a pause--then a voice from the rear said "One Dollar" "Gentlemen, Gentlemen" protested the auctioneer "This Horse is Alive."

These are the livest values we know of in Town and it is only a question of how long the assortments will last so take our advice "Its better to wait in line than wait and be out of luck."

"ARROW-TRUMP" SHIRTS

Made by Cluett, Peabody & Co. and nationally advertised at $1.95 for White and $2.15 for the Colors.

The manufacturer has cooperated with us for this occasion and let us have 30 doz. of these fine quality, lustrious broadcloth shirts, collar attached, in White, Blue, Tan and Green that are slightly imperfect.

Last year many customers were disappointed because we sold out of sizes before the day was over. Although we have prepared greater quantities this year it is only a question of how long 30 doz. will last.

"THE STORE FOR THE LAD AND HIS DAD"

CHESTERTOWN MARYLAND.

LOCAL NOTES.....

The men's turkey and oyster supper at Wesley Chapel hall netted $174.

The season for catching shad and herrings in the waters of Talbot county opened last Saturday. Shad sold in Easton at $1.50 for roes and $1 for melts, while herrings sold four for 25 cents. It is said that there are prospects for a good season for the fishermen, as the fish are reported plentiful both in the Chesapeake Bay and the Choptank River.

The College Glee Club and orchestra gave a concert at Perry Point Hospital Sunday afternoon under the auspices of the Charles H. Jarman American Legion Post, of Chestertown. There are 800 soldiers at this hospital.

An employee of the Sun Oil Co., while enroute to the bank, dropped a bag containing over $500 near the Chestertown depot. It was found by Harrison Jenkins, Jr., and promptly returned.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bacon have purchased from C. Albert Raleigh the dwelling on Cannon Street, just being completed, and will take possession April 1. The price is said to have been $2,700.

The Bayside Land Co. held their annual banquet at the Maryland Tea Room Saturday evening. This company have had a fine year.

The official board of the Methodist Episcopal Church has extended a unanimous invitation to the Rev. J. Harry Wright to return to the charge for the second year. The Rev. Wright is closing a successful first year's pastorate here and it is believed he will be returned for another year by the persiding bishop, at the annual conference which meets in Walmington on March 26.

Mrs. Fannie L. Edwards who has geen visiting her daughter Fannie for sevtral weeks in Baltimore was given quite a surprise over the week-end it being her 74th birthday. She received quite a lot of nice presents. Those attending were Mrs. Raymond Bowers, of Chestertown, Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Wheeler and daughter of Randallstown, Mr. and Mrs. J. Frank Blake, Jr., of Elkton, Mr. Chester Harden of Garrison and several of her Baltimore friends.

Dr. S. S. Hepburn visited Virginia last week. Dr. Hepburn went to his former charge where he shepherded the flock from 1893 to 1903. The new church was opened for the first service last October and the Doctor preached the first sermon to 500 people. P. A. M. Brooke, of Chestertown, was also present. It is an interesting community far removed from any town or village. This is the second contribution from China in memory of Dr. Nelson, builder of the first church. It is an evidence that the mission to China is not a failure.

Jerry Solomos, who for more than eighteen years has conducted the Chestertown Candy Kitchen here, has sold that business to G. C. Kellas, of New York, and Perry Kontos, of Centerville, who will conduct the business in the future. Kontos conducts the New York Restaurant in Centerville and Kellas will handle the local end of the restaurant chain. Solomos expects to return to Greece for a prolonged visit. He, with his family, will leave Chestertown sometime after Easter.

TRACTORS AND GAS ENGINTS CHEAPER THAN BEFORE WAR

Gasdriven machines—tractors, gasoline engines and other gas-driven farm machinery—are the cheapest in twelve years, according to Jones & Satterfield, who will have a full line of tractors and gas engines on display next week in connection with their Farm Equipment Week display. These prices are in nearly all cases actually lower than before the war. This information was obtained from a survey recently made by Ohio University economists, who reported that 30 per cent of the farm machinery sold is now gas driven.

It is generally recognized that tractors today are better engineered and more efficient in their operation than ever. One thousand dollars buys a better machine now than $2,000 did before the war.

James D. Davis, Jr., whose herd of purebred Holstein dairy cattle is well known in Chestertown, Md., has recently chosen a trade mark name to identify his herd, according to an announcement made by the Holstein-Friesian Association of America which registered the name for the breeder. The name chosen as a part of the name of each individual animal in the herd is "Friendship."

All registered Holsteins hove a name and the name usually indicating the ancestral blood lines.

This prefix trade mark will be used by the breeder as a further means of identifying individual animals by indicating the farm where the animal was bred. More than 7,800 of these trade mark names are now in regular use by Holstein breeders.
