The Banquet Was A Big Success

The annual banquet of the Kent County 4-H Boys' Clover Calf Club was held Friday in the assembly hall of the Chestertown High School.

Covers were laid for 125 members and guests for the dinner which was served by the women of St. Paul's Protestant Episcopal Church.

County Agent J. D. McVean, who arranged the dinner menu stressed the serving of ice cream, milk and butter as a means of impressing upon the guests the necessity for a more general use of dairy products as a means of relieving the dairy industry of an over-production of products which he said is the cause of reduced prices for milk.

Albert Nicholson, president of the club, presided and after delivering his annual address introduced Wilbur H. Morris, Jr.. as toastmaster. Ringgold Wilson, Albert Sutton and Walter T. Morris, leading members of the club, spoke of their judging experience at Timonium fair during 1929 and at the 1929 4-H training school at Springfield, Mass.

County Agent McVean, J. A. Conover, dairy specialist from the University of Maryland Extension Service, and E. G. Jenkins, State leader of Boys' Clubs, also gave interesting talks.

An interesting feature of the banquet was the presentation of silver cups to the teams winning prizes in judging dairy cattle at the Dorchester county fair at Cambridge and the State fair at Timonium last year.

Prof. Conover awarded the first prize cup to the team which won in the judging contest at the Cambridge Fair and E. G. Jenkins awarded second prize cup the team at the State Fair held at Timonium.

The guests at the banquet included many of the leading farmers and dairymen of the county and representatives of the banks which have assisted in financing the boys' club activities during the year.

THE MODERN FUNERAL

The methods and systems in vogue a few years ago and still adhered to by many, are no longer applicable in this age and generation. A better understanding of the duties of the funeral director has changed the old order. One of the most difficult problems confronting the modern funeral director will be solved when the public realizes that SERVICE is the principal, and in fact, only commodity which we have to offer.

The casket and funeral appertinances are negligible or practically so, requiring little or no experience and, in the matter of expense, consist only with the cost of production.

SERVICE is the main consideration—the care and disposition of the body of the one that has Passed on, knowledge and ability and a readiness to relieve the burden of those who are left to mourn.

CHESTERTOWN ROTARY

The Chestertown Rotary Club will entertain Coach Tom Kibler and his Washington College champion basketball team next Monday night at the Miss Copper's Maryland Inn. Rev. Harry Wright, of the local club was the speaker at the Centreville Rotary Club last Thursday evening and received a splendid reception.

Samuel Kreeger and Wilbur R. Hubbard, members of the Chestertown Rotary Club, attended the meeting of the Baltimore Rotary Club on Tuesday last, in Baltimore, at which Gov. Albert C. Ritchie was the chief speaker. The Governor spoke of the building of the Chester River bridge and mentioned the Chesapeake Bay bridge as an outstanding prospective piece of construction work that the State of Maryland is seriously considering. To our minds this would be one of the biggest things that the Rotary Clubs in Maryland could get behind and push with energy as it would certainly be a mighty big thing for every section of the Eastern Shore, Baltimore City and the whole State of Maryland. Even the whole of Delaware, south of Wilmington, would also be benefitted by its erection.

Dr. Paul E. Titsworth spoke to the Easton Rotary Club at its weekly meeting Wednesday and will address the Onancock, Va., club on Friday evening, March 7.

Dr. Titsworth, M. deK. Smith, Jr., C. E. Noland and R. H. Collins, Jr., members of the local club, and W. B. Copper and H. C. Willis, attended the Rotary meeting at Laurel, Delaware, Monday evening.

WORTON'S CIVIC PRIDE

The completion of a State road through the town of Worton Station, four miles from here, has stirred the civic pride of the populace to such an extent that a Town Improvement Association has been organized for the purpose of beautifying and improving the place.

Through the medium of a "bake" advertised in the KENT NEWS and other public functions a sufficient fund is to be raised with which to provide the street of the town with electric lights, while many of the residents are availing themselves of a recent extension of electric current from Betterton to wire and light their homes. Senator Beck deserves the thanks of all for his successful efforts in road improvements at this point.

The next move on the part of the association at the head of which are Mr. and Mrs. Sewell J. Lee, Charles C. Ivens, Barney Cooper, Benjamin F. Rash, Mrs. John Duyer, Mrs. Harry T. Williams and Mrs. Henry Rasin, is the laying of concrete walks which will be in keeping with the new State road which has supplanted one of the worst dirt roads in the county.

The town is rapidly becoming surrounded by a network of State roads leading to Tolchester, Betterton and northern city points, which is making the place attractive as a place of residence for retired farmers and business men.

Fairlee, Still Pond and Kennedyville have also reaped benefits from the proximity of State highways.

Washington College Defeats Loyola Boys

With spectators hanging to rafters and window ledges and packing every square inch of standing room, Washington College's Flying Pentagon squared accounts with Loyola in a thrilling game Saturday night, 40 to 34.

The visitors, far outplayed in the first half, made a determined rally in the final period, closed a nine-point gap and took the lead at 34 to 33. It was five minutes before the end when Loyola went to the front for the first and only time.

Then the local outfit, as nearly frantic as the screaming spectators, summoned every ounce of reserve and roared away to victory by the margin of six points.

An elaborate program is planned for "home-coming week end" at Washington College Friday and Saturday. On Friday night a ball will be given by the Cotillion Club in the gymnasium for alumni and old friends of the college and Saturday afternoon a buffet-supper will be given in Reid Hall by women students for visitors and faculty members and their wives. George Coulbourn and Eric Wood are in charge of the dance and Miss Louise Crouse is chairman of the supper committee.

At the annual election of officers of literary societies at Washington College the Mt. Vernon Society, oldest college society in Maryland, elected these officers: President, George I. Coulbourn; vice-president, Arianne Bonwill; secretary, Geraldine Harwood; sergeant-at-arms, W. E. Freeny; board of curators, Elizabeth Titsworth, Mildred Covey and W. K. Perrin. The Adelphia Society elected the following: President, H. L. Dopson; vice-president, Jane White; secretary, Elizabeth Mace; treasurer, Joseph Phillips, and sergeant-at-arms, Winfield Stewart.

Washington College students are now voting in the annual contest to choose the most typical college man and woman; the most intellectual; the most athletic; the best looking man and woman student; the most popular and the best dressed.

The Freshmen defeated Chestertown High School in a closely contested basket ball game at the college Saturday night.

WOMAN BURNED
CLEANING DRESS

The Dwyer apartments on Maple Ave., was seriously threatened by fire early Saturday morning and Mrs. Harlan G. Johnson, was severely burned on the face and hands, while cleaning a dress.

Friction from rubbing silk and wool caused the gasoline she was using in the kitchen of her apartment to ignite.

Furniture in the room was destroyed and the walls burned before local firemen arrived to save the building. The damage is estimated at $500.

BIG MEET IN CHESTERTOWN

The Woman's Democratic Club of Maryland will hold a big meeting and luncheon at the Chestertown Yacht and Country Club on April 24. The Emmanuel Guild will serve the luncheon and Governor Albert C. Ritchie is expected to be present. More details next week.

ATTENTION!
ASSOCIATE MEMBERS!

The response made to the appeal of this paper to Associate members of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company to renew their annual dues of $3 has been very generous during the past week. The officials of the association however are anxious to have all renewals in hand as speedily as possible and also to secure as many new members as possible for this year. There is no reason why there should not be at least 200 members of the Association this year, and there will be if every one feels the need for assisting in the maintenance of the Fire Company in this small way. Mr. Property Owner, wont you join the Fire Company for the protection it affords your property? Just send your application with check for $3 in writing to Mr. J. S. Kreeger, the treasurer, and he will forward receipt.

The thirty-third annual exhibition of the Baltimore Water Color Club is being held all during March at the Baltimore Museum of Art. This exhibition includes pastel paintings and miniatures. Mrs. Thomas H. Ingersoll has some work in the show.

Treat In Store For Chestertown

A program of unusual interest is promised Chautauqua lovers of Kent county when the only Chautauqua in this vicinity will open March 14th for a three-day festival of song, dramatics, educational programs and comedy attractions in the Betterton High School building. The series of performances will close the night of March 17, according to Walter B. Harris, of Betterton, the chairman.

A special program will be arranged for Sunday, March 16, when an interesting speaker will appear at three o'clock in the afternoon and special music will be presented. Following the annual Junior Chautauqua Pageant on the afternoon of March 17 the Betterton Troop of Boy Scouts, with their fife and drum corps, will offer a colorful program.

Wedding Events About Kent

Miss Melfa Adele Marker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Marker, of Claymont, formerly of Philadelphia, and Raymond Sutton Wright, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob B. Wright, also of Clayton, were married Saturday at high noon in St. James' M. P. Church, near Chestertown, Md. The Rev. Joseph Lee Marker, brother of the bride and pastor of the church, officiated.

The bride wore an ensemble of golden brown satin crepe with accessories to match.

Saturday evening Miss Virginia Thompson met Francis Willson in Chestertown when he came from Linwood, Pa., and shortly after they presented themselves before the Rev. C. L. Atwater, of the Protestant Episcopal Church and were united in the holy bonds of matrimany. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Thompson, of near Fairlee and teacher of Lankford school. The groom is the second son of Mr. and Mrs. T. Bennett Willson, of Rock Hall and is employed in one of the du Pont laboratories. He is a graduate of Washington College. A wedding supper was served at the home of the bride's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Lambert Kirby in Chestertown, and the week end was spent with Mrs. Willson's parents.

DRYDEN—SAPPINGTON

Miss Laura Dryden, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Bryden, of near Rock Hall, and Mr. Franklin Sappington, Jr., were quietly married Monday evening by the Rev. J. W. Baxley at the Wesley Chapel parsonage. The groom is teh son of Mr. Franklin Sappington of Eastern Neck Island. The couple were accompanied by the bride's brother, Mr. Albert Bryden. The bride was a member of the senior class of Rock Hall High School and would have graduated in June.

With Sunday, March 16th, set as the date for the Sacred Concert of Lenten music to be given by the Kent musical Society an important rehearsal is set for that body Sunday.

The concert on March 16 will be in the auditorium of William Smith Hall at Washington College and will begin at 2:30 p. m. It will consist of several religious numbers and conclude with the rendition of the Lenten Cantata, "Penitence, Pardon and Peace." It promises to be of unusual merit with Mrs. Smith in charge.

NEW ROCK HALL WHARF

Engineer Taylor has received approval from the U. S. War Department for the erection of the new wharf at Rock Hall. The wharf will be erected by the Kent County Commissioners and will be placed about 20 feet away from the position as at first decided upon for several excellent reasons. Work on the new structure will begin in a few days. The piles will be driven by a Cambridge firm who also will furnish a fine creosote pile which will last much longer than an ordinary pile. This wharf will be a great accommodation to the people of lower Kent.

CELEBRATES 50th WEDDING ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel R. Cole, of Templeville, Md., celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. William Palmatory, of Massey, Md., and also witnessed the baptizing of their two great-great-grand-sons, by the Rev. W. C. Moore, of Dover, Del, Daniel Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Franklin Palmatory, of Sudlersville, Md., and Thomas Monroe, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Palmatory, of Chester, Pa. After a late hour they departed for their home, everyone wishing them many more anniversaries.

New Asst. County Agent Appointed

E. W. King, a University Maryland graduate in agriculture has been appointed the position of Assistant County Agent, which has been vacant since J. Z. Miller was transferred to Cecil County last September.

Mr. King was graduated with the class of 1926 and since that time has been in agricultural work—as inspector in the grading of fruits and vegetables for the U. S. Department of Agriculture, also as Assistant County Agent in Louisana. Mr. King was a member of the University of Maryland Glee Club which toured the Eastern Shore several years ago. He comes well recommended and backed by successful achievement. He should prove to be a valuable assistant to County Agent McVean. He will devote considerable effort to the 4-H Club Work, which has done more to fix Kent County in the public mind than possibly any other agency.

Mr. King will bring his family to Chestertown in the near future, while he begins his duties at once.

County Agent McVean has planned an ambitious program of work and needs help in the effort to improve the economic position of the farmer through more efficient marketing and through more economic production.

Mitchell & Co., have contracted for 900 acres of sugar corn at $15 per to nat his Kennedyville cannery. This firm not only harvests the crop but furnishes a planter.

Historic House Scene Of Big Party

Three hundred and fifty guests from nearby Delaware towns and cities including Wilmington, and all parts of the Eastern Shore, attended the card party given by Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Stine in their home at Georgetown, Md., the famous "Kitty Knight House.

The party was given for the benefit of St. Stephen's Protestant Episcopal Church, Cecilton, and there were 85 tables. The house contains 32 rooms and the entire first floor was given over to the party. It was in this house that George Washington instituted a local order of Masonry and from which Kitty Knight, one-time owner, urged the British sailors not to burn Georgetown and Fredericktown during the war of 1812. The house dates from pre-Revolutionary days.

Big Game Preserve

Robin's Cove, a picturesque indentation of Chester River extending into the shore-line of the Pioneer Point estate, is soon to be transformed into one of the most attractive and important wild-fowl and fish preserves in the East. A special bill introduced in Congress by United States Senator Millard F. Tydings, was passed last week authorizing Mrs. Helena S. Raskob, owner of Pioneer Point, to proceed with plans for the preserve.

Robin's Cove, known for many years as one of the most famous feeding grounds for geese in Maryland, and also a natural pike basin, is a body of water approximately 300 yards long and 175 feet wide. It is separated from Chester River, however, by a narrow stretch of water, not more than thirty feet wide. Across this entrance will be stretched wires and screens, and huge pens will be constructed to house flocks of swan and wild geese, besides numerous breeds of other wildfowl.

Mrs. Raskob for several years has planned to convert the pretty little cove into a game breeding preserve, but it was first necessary to obtain the sanction of the government. Senator Tydings introduced the enabling act several weeks ago and on Wednesday it was finally passed.

Work on the preserve already has been started and will be completed this summer.

Large schools of rock and other fish have begun to run in the Chesapeake Bay off Rock Hall and in Chester river and fishermen are making large catches daily. Wednesday night the firm of Jacob and Durding, organized recently for the purpose of running a truck route to northern cities for the shipment of the fishermen's catch, sent two large truckloads of fish to New York markets.

Mrs. Annie T. Mulford has been named as Postmistress of Galena.
