TRY INVESTMENT IN YOURSELF

Invest in yourself! It will bring the biggest returns, not only in money, but in satisfaction and happiness as well. Henry Ford once said, "I think that much of the advice given to young men about saving money is wrong. I never saved a cent until I was 40 years old. I invested in myself — in study, in mastering my tools, in preparation. Many a man who is putting a few dollars a week into the bank would do much better to put it into himself."

Dr. J. S. Noffsinger, director of the National Home Study Council of Washington, D. C., makes the following comparison between the returns on investment and on education:

"Department of Labor statistics show that the untrained man averages less than $1,200 a year. The boy who stays in school four more years and finishes high school averages $2,200—almost twice as much as the untrained men. In ten years he averages $10,000 more than the boy who never went beyond the grades.

"If, instead of continuing his education through the high school period, he succeeded in getting a good job and permanent employment, he might be able to earn $4,000 during those four years. If he put all of his $4,000 in the savings bank and left it there for ten years, he would have, principal and interest something like $5,376.67. Even if he succeeded in getting eight or ten per cent on his money, it would be much less than the additional $10,000 he would probably earn by having a better education.

"If he takes another four years training and goes through college, or completes a technical or business course, he increases his earning capacity to five or six thousand a year —more than double the income of the high school graduate. He is making four or five thousand a year more than the unschooled man—$50,000 in ten years. Often his income goes far beyond this.

"These figures show the average incomes of men with various degrees of education. Of course there are exceptions, men and women without the advantage of formal schooling sometimes reach the highest positions. But if we study their lives, we find that they got an education in spite of the fact that they were denied the privilege of going to school. They study by themselves, in the evening at home. They borrowed books and frequented libraries, they took up correspondence courses, they availed themselves of every opportunity to learn.

"The widespread development of accredited correspondence schools during recent years, now makes it possible for boys and girls to continue their education, even when they are compelled to quit school and go to work. Home-study courses also offer educational opportunities to adults who failed to get an education in their youth."

Overheard on the bus: "He's quite erudite, isn't he?" "I should say he is. The other day he attributed a line of Shakespeare to a poet I never heard of."

GIVE AND WE GET

We are helped by helping others;
If we give, we always get;
Seeing others as our brothers
Is life's safest, surest bet-
If we give what folks are needing,
It will pay us in the end,
And we just can't help succeeding
In the game of life, my friend.

Cheerfulness is always catching—
Certain sure for ev'ry rile;
Happiness is always hatching
In the sunshine of a smile-
Banish gloom, by being cheerful;
Blaze the trail and set the pace!
And you'll see expressions dreadful
Swiftly fade from ev'ry face!

Life gives back just what we give it;
Give it smiles—and smiles we get
If we learn this rule and LIVE it
We will never know regret;
Give a cheerful word—we'll reap it:
It will come back multiplied,
And will linger—we can keep it
In our "treasure chest," music.

CONNIE MACK WILL KEEP FOXX AT FIRST CORNER

Jimmy Foxx, youthful American League hero, and Sudlersville's personal representative on the Philadelphia Athletics, will be seen next season at his old stand on the initial sack.

In an interview given out this week, Connie Mack of the World Champions, discussed his team for 1930, and he quickly permitted it to be emphatically understood that Jimmy is a fixture at first.

Mack doesn't hesitate to admit that in Foxx he has one of the most valuable players in either of the major leagues. "I'm looking for Jimmie to not only equal but break his fine record of this year during next season's play," Mack said.

A contest wes held in Canada to find the dog having the most fleas. We believe it was not a handicap, and that all the entrants started at scratch.

TROLLEY CO. DUAL VICTOR

The Supreme Court of the United States Monday, in an official ruling, gave the United Railways a double victory in its fight for a flat 10-cent carfare for Baltimore.

With Justice Brandeis dissenting, the Supreme Court ruled that any fare rate that would yield less 7.44 per cent. rate of return on the company's $75,000,000 property valuation is confiscatory in fact.

The second "barrel" of the decision upheld the Court of Appeals of Maryland in its ruling that the Public Service Commission erred in fixing the company's annual depreciation allowance on a basis of original cost of property instead of replacement cost.

The fare since December 1, 1928, has been on a basis of ten cents, with four tokens for 35 cents.

It is considered almost certain that Monday's ruling will give the United a substantial increase, probably to the unqualified 10-cent fare the company is seeking.

Teacher — Johnny, why does Missouri stand at the head of mule raising in the United States?

Johnny—Because the other end is too dangerous.

"Do you and your wife agree on anything?"

"Yes, we both agree that I don't make enough money."

Speedmore—I was struck by the beauty of this town.

Slowboy — You shouldn't get so familiar with her.
