KENT NEWS is $1.50 per year.

HAVE WE NO ROOM HERE?

By Mrs. Robert C. Young

He left his Father's throne above,
And came as a little babe,
To Bethlehem's manger long ago
And his mission was to save.

Sheperds in the field that night,
Saw a strange and wonderous light,
And as they eagerly traveled on,
Hark! sweet strains an Angel song.

"Glory be to God" it rang,
Peace on Earth" Good Will toward Man,
On they hastened anxious to see,
Where the Christ Child's bed would be.

As they passed the Inn with lights aglow,
Could it be? Yes, 'twas so,
No room for Jesus that starry night,
No room for Him, did that seem right?

They followed the star which lead to the stable,
No soft downy bed, no beautiful cradle,
But there in a manger with His mother so mild,
Lay sleeping the baby, "God Holy Child."

They fell down and worship,
And the gifts, I am told,
Were the best that they had,
Even to gold.

Are we doing our best in living for Him
Or are we like those saying, no room in the Inn,
If we have no room here, and nothing to say,
Oh! what will it be when we face Him some day.

Fill each with such love,
That is pure undefiled
To worship and live
For the little Christ Child.

Mrs. Justwed—Mother sent me a recipe for some wonderful furniture polish and I can't find it anywhere.

Mr. Justwed (tasting soup)—Have you looked among your cooking recipes?
