The New Case Hammer Feed Mill

CAREFUL study of all the requirements of present day feed grinding went into the development of the New Case Hammer Feed Mill. As a result, it has many valuable features not found in other machines. These new advantages contribute much to its profitable performance.

It is unusually simple in design, being of the semi-rigid hammer type. It has a feeder equipped with both a volume and a speed governor. An efficient speed jack is regular equipment.

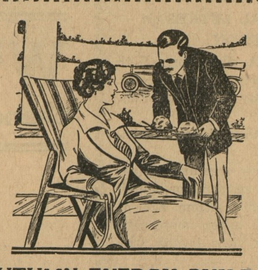

FILLS MODERN NEEDS

The Case mill will grind all kinds of grain and roughages to any fineness desired. It will grind grain alone, roughage alone or both together.

It is the most popular size among dairymen and livestock feeders. Any ordinary 2, 3 or 4 plow tractor can be used for power.

Sturdy, compact construction permits easily moving and setting this mill anywhere—outdoors, inside or on a truck.
