FOLKS SUFFER FROM THIEVES

The quiet community in and about Kennedyville has been the center of a series of thieving recently that is becoming alarming.

Mrs. Fletcher Melvin, who lives in the village, lost 18 fine hens one night.

Wm. S. Hurlock and Harry Lipscomb residing in the town, lost 22 and 32 chickens respectively.

Dr. J. W. Urie's home was entered and a watch stolen from his vest lying on a chair near his bed. The doctor was awakened by the thief and followed him down stairs but was too fleet of foot for the physician.

Last Sunday Edward Wallis' home was robbed of various articles and no sign of the thief left.

Richard Haggerty, Wm. Ringgold and Merritt Willis have each lost chickens from their henneries.

Last Sunday night several of the men of Kennedyville kept watch They saw a truck come to town and park near the depot. When the watchers thought they were about to catch the men they drove off and at a speed of 70 miles an hour left them behind. The watchers followed the truck to Georgetown bridge where they lost track of it. The auto was loaded with poultry.

Wm. S. Spry had a heifer taken from his field near Goose Hill a few weeks ago and last week Julian Jones' fatted cow was missing. These gentlemen think that thieves made way with the cattle.

HOUSE BURNS

The home of Alfred I. Baker at Fairlee with contents were destroyed by fire Wednesday at noon. Mr. Baker had eaten his noon meal and gone into the field to work when he noticed smoke coming from side of house. He says he did not build fire to get the meal, does not smoke and can't account for fire. The local fire company was called but the house was nearly consumed when they arrived.

TWO hundred members of the Junior Order United American Mechanics from Eastern Shore counties and Baltimore attended the meeting an initiation held by Rock Hall Counc in Mechanics Hall Monday night when a class of fifty-four was initiated by a team of 27 from Friendship Council of Baltimore in charge of Judge Simms, State Secretary Herman Memerick, State Treasurer Joseph Gardner, National Representative Charles N. Satterfield, Past State Councillor William Malin and Warren Evans, of Crisfield. The first three named were from Baltimore and the next two from Chestertown, from which place about 20 others were present. The majority of the inmates were new recruits and about a dozen returned to the order. The degree work was beautiful. Short addresses were made by Messrs. Simms, Gardner and Memerick, of Baltimore, Satterfield, Evans, Malin, Copeland, Davis and McIntire, of Chestertown.

THE Woman's Auxiliary of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company was entertained by the active list of the same organization here on Tuesday night. Forty-three members of the ladies unit were present for the entertainment and refreshments. The refreshments were prepared and served by the active fire-fighters.

William G. Smyth and W. L. Fowler were co-chairmen of the event and both made speeches of welcome. The Firemen's Band played several selections and a black-face sketch was presented by Phil Sewell and Raymand Moffett.

A number of songs were sung under the direction of the Rev. C. L. Atwater, chaplain for the fire company.

MRS. W. J. DUKES, of Ridgely, suffered injuries in an unusual accident recently, when, while riding on the rear seat of an automobile driven by her daughter, Mrs. Mary D. Wooters, she cranked the wrong handle in attempting to lower the window of the car, and fell out of the machine. She turned the handle which opened the door, and fell headlong from the automobile on the road.

The fact that the accident occured while the car was going slowly in making a turn lessened the force of her fall. Her injuries consisted of a general shock, an abrasion of the cheek and a bruised knot on her forehead.

REV. JOE LYNCH'S GREAT SERMONS

Revival services are being held in Christ M. P. Church in Chestertown, this being the second week. Each evening Rev. Jos. H. Lynch has held the undivided attention of his audiences and given unusual evidences of the great work of grace wrought in his life by the Saviour of the world.

Sunday afternoon he presented to men only his life story. It was a most entertaining recital. Born in Cecil county, reared by a step-father, left home when 14, reached only the sixth grade at school, took up prize fighting and logging on the side, converted at Leeds Church and served his first charge at Powellville. He has been at Lynchburg, Va., for 9 years where he has a Sunday school of 600, a congregation of 700 and had 16 at the altar Sunday week. His love of Dr. E. A. Sexsmith induced him to come to Chestertown for two weeks.

His sermons have been of a style no other man in these pulpits have experienced and each evening they grow in power and beauty. His word pictures of scenes of bible characters are filled with charm and romance while his character sketches of men of his acquaintance have been intensely impressive.

While his word pictures of the great characters in Holy writ have been most uppermost his "side remarks" have kept his hearers in expectancy and many hearty laughs enjoyed. For instance Thursday night he said he was impressed with the absence of young people at the service. "Why," said he. "the wings of the stork are mildewed because of lack of use. Many of you married folks should have six or eight children."

Services will be held all day Sunday. At 3 P. M. a special meeting for ladies and girls will be held and Rev. Mr. Lynch will speak on "Woman and the American Home." Dr. Sexsmith is in charge.

H. W. VICKERS and Wesley Thawley conducted the personalty sale of Robert Jarrell, Jr., on the Clements farm Monday. There was a large crowd present and cows sold for as high as $50, pair mules $147, horses $25 and $35, sheep $4.50 each. The sale amounted to over $2500.

STEPHEN R. COLLINS managed the sale of the personalty Tuesday of the late Elwood Whaley on Cross street. Furniture sold high with spirited bidding and good crowd. Chas. D. Pippin purchased the automobile for $250 thru his sister, Mrs. Wm. Smith. This estate goes to Robert Whaley, brother; Thomas Whaley, half-brother and a half-sister.

THE Centreville Hotel property which for the past four years has been conducted by Benjamin Frisch. was sold at public sale in front of the Court House, Centreville, Tuesday afternoon for $20,000 to Samuel Epstein, merchant of Centrevillt. The sale was made by Richard T. Earle, attorney.

MRS. EDW. RODNEY, of Rock Hall, has been granted a pension of $1,400 back pay and $40 a month for life, because of the services of her first husband, John Beaver in the Civil war.

SAMUEL MASSEY and family, of Chestertown, returned home from the Pacafic Coast last week. He made the trip in a house on wheels covering over 10,000 miles. He visited Texas, part of Mexico and many places in California.

MRS. ARTHUR B. REESE, a competent missionary from Rome, where she is in charge of Girls' School, will be at the M. E. Church, Chestertown, Tuesday, November 17th, at 8.00 P. M. A short musical and literary program will precede the address to which all interested in the extension of Christ's work in the world is invited.

THE local fire company was called Saturday to extinguish a blazing truck owned by Mr. Heller. It was in front of A. S. Turner and Sons' garage and considerable damage was done to the car before the fire was put out. The boys made a record run to this fire being out of the engine house before the siren had hardly ceased the alarm. Several of the firemen happened to be at the house when the call came.
