Miss Ford's talk was illustrated by pictures.

SHORTENS ROUTE BETWEEN TWO CITIES

Formal dedication of the new bridge built by the State Roads Commission over the Nanticoke river at Vienna, Md., took place Tuesday, when the Mayors of Salisbury and Cambridge exchanged greetings and the Legion posts of the two cities unveil the tablets at either end of the span.

Contract for the structure was awarded in July 1930 and the completed project cost about $500,000, The new bridge will shorten the route from Cambridge, in Dorchester county, to Salisbury, Wicomico county, by about nine miles.

Dedicatory remarks were made by members or representatives of the State Roads Commission. W. W. Gavin, commander of the local Post and Emerson Harrington, Jr., commander of the Cambridge Post accepted the memorial span.

Maryland's wartime grovernor, Emerson C. Harrington, Sr., made a five-minute address.

The meeting was then placed in charge of Mayor Brinsfield, of Vienna, while Mayor Earl W. Orem and Mayor Wade H. Insley, of Cambride, and Salisbury, respectively exchanged brief felicitations.

Sanford-Brooks company, Baltimore was awarded the general contract July 21, 1930, and Layfield and Waller, Vienna, constructed the road approach.

BISHOP DAVENPORT delivered the sermon at St. Paul's Church on Sunday afternoon, Rev. John White, rector, and confirmed 12 candidates. There was a fine congregation. The Bishop also confirmed a class at Emanuel Church, Chestertown, on Wednesday evening.

DEATHS

H. Clay Hendrickson, aged 78, died Saturday afternoon at the home of his nephew, George P. Hendrickson, near Fairlee. He was born in Cecil county July 20, 1853. He was educated in the public schools and Middletown Academy and, having added to his knowledge by observation and reading of current literature, he was a well-informed man. He accompanied his father to Kent county in 1875 and upon the death of the latter, in 1880, he and his brother, Augustine, purchased the homestead where he continued to reside until 1884. Since that time he has made his home in Millington.

His nephews are George P. Hendrickson, H. D. Hendrickson, Percy V. Hendrickson, Joseph N. H. Hendrickson. His nieces are Mrs. Margaret Norris, Mrs. Edward Waters, Mrs. B. F. Shinn and Mrs. Margare Braddock. He married Miss Emily Massey, a prominent and charmin woman of Millington, whom he survived 23 years. He was an outstanding farmer, a gentleman of the old school. He loved his fellow men. He was a christian with the highest sense of honor. One of the most remarkable gifts was his memory. No man ever lived in Kent county who was a more loyal and sincere friend.

He was an unusually intelligent farmer and made a success in his chosen work. He was a sterling Democrat and exercised quite an influence in his community.

His brother, Augustine, survives and resides with his son, Harry D., near Still Pond.

The funeral was held Saturday afternoon in Holy Cross Protestant Episcopal Chapel, Millington, the Rev. John L. Saunders, of Philadelphia, a former rector, officiating. Interment was in Stannes Protestant Episcopal Cemetery, Middletown, Del.

The bearers were Samuel Massey, Howard Hadaway, Oscar Leaverton, Wm. Medders, John Woodall, Harvey Jackson; R. Ellis Clark, undertaker.

Mrs. Emma Downey, aged 56, died at her home in Rock Hall, Tuesday night. She leaves a husband, William James Downey, and six children, viz., Mrs. Emma Anderson, of California; Mrs. L. C. Wilson, Mrs. Edith Reddox, Mrs. Albert Meekins, all of W. Virginia; Miss Thelma Downey and Maurice Downey, of Rock Hall. The funeral took place at 2 P. M. Friday, interment in Wesley Chapel Cemetery, Rev. W. S. Grant officiating; W. H. Good, undertaker, assisted by Randolph Burgess.

Clerk of the Court for Kent County has issued at this writing 507 gunning licenses for residents; 48 State wide and 19 non-residents. The season opens Monday.

MAKE BRAVE STAND

Juggernauted in the first half by a superior combination of power, speed and deception, the Washington College eleven made a brilliant stand in the final periods of Saturday's game with Albright College at Reading, Pa., but lost, 49 to 6.

It so happened that the Lions tallied all their points in the first half, but an inspired enemy held them at bay and fought on even terms in the third and fourth peroids to attract some glory for themselves.

The game started disastrously when Charley Haines, Albright sensational halfback, spirited 65 yards on the very first play from scrimmage for a cintinued parade that produced two of these, one on a 35-yard dash and another on a short slash off tackle.

Iatesta scored two touchdowns for the Lions, while Captain Weigle and Conway also crossed the Washington line.

The Marylanders were saved from complete ignominy in the second period when Dickerson, alert guard literally stole the ball out of Iatesta's hands and ran 40 yards for a touchdown.

Albright outrushed Washington to the extent of sixteen first downs to the latter's two, but manufactured eleven of them in the first half.

Today the Washington College foot ball team will play Susquehanna College in Pennsylvania and next week the last game of the season will be played with St. Josephs, of Philadelphia. Both games being away from home.

THE Chestertown High School soccer team, last year's Maryland Interscholastic champions, had an easy time of it repeating for the Kent county title, the first of three crowns they must wear before they can again claim the State championship. The Chestertown lads defeated the Rock Hall and Galena opposition in Kent and ended their county season on Monday by taking Galena 26 to 0.

The love of money frequently attributed to Americans may prove to have been a gift of Providence. We need a great deal of money. Count, if you can, the people who are trying to get it away from us.
