FINED VIOLATING GAME LAWS

The first arrest in Kent county for gunning out of season and without a license was made Wednesday when Deputy Game Warden Edgar J. Watson apprehended John Ciszek, of Wilmington, Del.

The man was found gunning for squirrels at Tolchester by the deputy game warden. He was given a hearing before Justice Robert Moffett, who imposed a fine of $45 and costs.

"BORDIE" CAIN MEMORIAN

It was, indeed, a happy idea that influenced the Baltimore Alumni to dedicate the Students' Loan Fund, recently projected by them, to the memory of "Bordie" Cain.

Virtually his whole life was spent on College Hill, for when his father, Dr. James W. Cain, came to Washington College as its president in 1903, Edward, soon universally known on the campus as "Bordie," was a mere child. He entered the college as a Freshman, Sept. 1914, and was graduated, June 1918.

Immediately upon graduation he enlisted in the U. S. M. C. R., Baltimore. From there he was sent to the Boston Marine Barracks, and was entered as a student at the Massachussetts Institute of Technology . His record in military efficiency, obedience and sobriety, while here and at the Marine Flying Field, was perfect. On August 16, 1918, he was made a Naval Aviation Caden-Lieutenant, transferred to the Flying Field near Miami, Florida, as an instructor in aviation, he was commissioned a 2nd Lieutenant and Naval Aviator, Nov. 3, 1918.

Lieutenant Cain lost his life in an airplane accident February 15, 1919, shortly before he was to be mustered out of service. At the time of his death, he was an instructor in aerial gunnery and an official tester of airplanes.

PLEASES COLLEGE STUDENTS HERE

The faculty and students of Washington College enjoyed a rich treat in the address of Mrs. Donald Hooker at their regular chapel exercises on Thursday morning. Her theme was "The National and International Movement Toward Equal Rights." The speaker is a pioneer suffrage worker of Baltimore and with telling arguments brings home convictions for equal political rights for women including jury services. She has a brilliant mind and is patient in her consideration for the opinion of others. Dr. S. S. Hepbron, that 86-year-young soldier of the Cross, had charge of the devotional exercises while Mrs. Cleveland Smith lead the singing.

Mrs. Hooker while here was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Fred. G. Usilton, who gave a reception in her honor the guests being the original members of the old Just Government League of Kent County. Mrs. Hooker was one of the original workers in Maryland for suffrage for women. She spoke in the afternoon on equal rights for women. There were about 25 ladies present.

RAY THOMAS, a well-known colored man of Broad Neck, while tonging oysters off cedar point in Lankford Bay, Wednesday, his boat sank having it loaded with oysters. Ray cried for help and Capt. James Taylor being not far away, hurried to his rescue, his head just being above water when Mr. Taylor reached him. He had a narraw escape.

A CLUB CONFERENCE of five counties 4-H Boys was held at Denton last Saturday. In the morning a model club meet by Kent County group presided over by Wilbur Morris; noon, a lunch banquet at Brick Hotel; afternoon, round table discussion on topics pertaining to various clubs concluding with community "sigh-seeing" conference conducted by E. G. Jenkins.

There were forty present, among whom were Walter Morris, Wilbur Morris, Martin Sutton, Theodore Ford, Frank, Clarence and Norman Sutton, Roy Freeman, Charles Anthony, Wm. Comella, Supt. McVean and Sutton.

KENT COUNTY HORSE SHOW

ON WILLIAM FRENCH FARM
NEXT WEDNESDAY

The Chestertown Fire Company Band will play at the Seventh Annual Kent County Horse Show which will take place on Armistice Day, Wednesday, Novemzer 11th, 1931, at 12.30 P. M., on the William French Farm, near Chestertown.

The list of Classes which has been changed somewhat was printed in the NEWS last week.

GUNNING SEASON

The upland gunning season will open Monday, November 16th. The wildfowl season opens the same day, at noon.

TO SELL FINE TRACT

Property located on the Sassafras river one mile from Betterton belonging to the Royal Swan Club will be sold at mortgagee's sale in Chestown on Tuesday, November 17, by Wm. Frazier Russell, Jr., assignee.

The property was incorporated under the laws of the State of Delaware, by a company of wealthy Philadelphia, Wilmington and Baltimore sportsmen, who have spent thousands of dollars in converting the 225 acre-tract into one of the finest country clubs and ducking lodges on the Eastern Shore, having one of the largest golf courses in the country, consisting of 18 holes, estimated to have cost $50,000 and a yacht basin capable of harboring 40 or more yachts. On March 10, 1928, a mortgage on the property was placed with the Del-Mar-Va Mortgage Company, and it is under the power of sale contained in this mortgage that the property will be sold.

The household furniture and fixtures were recently sold at sheriff-sale by Sheriff John T. Vickers. It is said that the Royal Swan Club will be merged with another corporation which will shortly begin extensive building developments in Betterton.

DOUTY WINS PRIZE

The Kent County Women's Christian Temperance Union has been informed by the Department of Scientific Temperance Instruction of the national organization that Kenneth Douty, a student in Washington College last year and a graduate of the local institution last June, has won the annual national contest for the best essay on a temperance subject. The subject this year for college and university students throughout the country was, "The Kinds of Education Now Needed to Forward National Sobriety."

Douty, whose address is 2732 Biggs Avenue, Baltimore, and who is now a high school teacher in that city, won the Kent county contest last spring and was awarded first prize of $25. The National honor includes a cash award of $50.

Since Washington College was the only Maryland institution to enter the national tilt Douty also won State honors which did not carry a prize with them. The national contest is not held unless at least eight States are represented by college or university contestants.

KENT OYSTERMEN HUNT BARS BY AIRPLANE

"Oysters in Kent county waters are being sighted by men in airplanes," said Mrs. Evelyn Harris in her talk before the Chestertown Rotary Club Monday night. She said her son flew over the waters with the Rock Hall oystermen and looked down for the best oyster bars. Can you beat this? Mrs. Harris was introduced to the club by Rollison Baxter.

J. S. Kreeger introduced as another speaker at this same Rotary meeting Mrs. Helen M. Baker, the well-known Kent county turkey grower. She answered queries concerning the turkey market and indicated that prospects were much the same as those of last season. Because of the low price of feed, Mrs. Baker said, the growers would be able to hold the bird for a period of time and sell at a correspondingly greater profit.

Another rural speaker at this meetingwas Walter T. Morris, who was introduced by W. P. Newnam, Chairman of Rural-Urban Committee. He told of the activities of the Boys' 4-H Clubs, of which he has long been a member. He indicated that the 4-H Club work was showing the Kent farm boys and girls how to get away from the outworn methods and crops and to make a profitable living out of agriculture.

C. E. Noland, chairman of the program committee of the local club, announced that an Armistice Day program would be put on at the next meeting of the club on Monday and that the program would be arranged by the Frank M. Jarman Post 36, American Legion.

CENTREVILLE COURT is in session. Mordecai Price is foreman of Grand Jury. Monday was spent in trying minor criminal cases and appeals from the Court of the Police Justice. Two important cases are scheduled for trial at this term. William Randall, of Kent Island, a Negro charged with assault upon Mrs. Jas. Dashields, a 25-year-old white woman of Kent Island, on June 20; and the case of John Turner also a Kent Island Negro charged with shooting and causing the death of Clay Gordley another Negro from Kent Island,

No date has been named for the trial of either of the men.

The following disposition was made of the criminal appeal cases: Frank McGinnes, who was charged with killing a fox while being trailed by dogs was dismissed by the State. This case had been heard at the May term of court at which time the jury disagreed.

Wm. Sweetman, who was charged with hunting without a license showing and having a fish net extending over a stream beyond the legal limit, was tried before the Court. Fined $25 and cost for violating the fishing law but not guilty on the no license charge.

ROCK HALL Council No. 149, Junior Order United American Mechanics will hold a Class Initiation on Monday, November 9th at 7.30 P. M., at their council room at Rock Hall at which forty candidates will be received into the order. initiatory work will be performed by the best degree team in the United States, it being the team from Friendship Council, No. 7 of Baltimore. Every member of this order in Kent County should make an effort to be present on Monday evening as it will be a rare treat for those who have not seen the degree work amplified by a competent degree team.

CITY COUNCIL DISCUSSES MILK

The monthly meeting of the City Council took place Monday at their office on Court street, Mayor Satterfield presiding. Local health authorities and the Council consulted each other as to the proper interpretation of an ordinance passed by the former Board of Town Commissioners, providing for the sale of milk in Chestertown.

According to the Mayor and City Council, the ordinance permits anyone to sell milk in Chestertown, either to private individuals or to pasteurizing plants, provided the milk offered for sale conforms to the requirements of the State Board of Health.

Local health authorities claim the ordinance limits the sale of milk to pasteurizing plants. Since the passage of the ordinance, several months ago, several farmers who have complied with the requirements of the State Board of Health and whose dairy herds and premises have been approved by the board, have been supplying Chestertown residents with milk.

Dr. R. G. Beachley, deputy State health officer here, representing the State Board think these dealers should discontinue the sale of their milk to anyone except the two pasteurizing plants in the city.

Acting on legal advice from the Council's attorney, the Mayor and City Council have instructed those dealers who have been approved by the State Board of Health and to whom permits have been issued by the City Council to continue the sale of their milk to private customers, if they desire.

Dr. Beachely says there is no trouble existing over the ordinance and no conflict, that the public will be protected and the farmers dealt with fairly as well as the city dealers.

Complaint was made to the Council of outrageous conduct on the part of Halloween celebrants on Water street and a better police protection in the future asked.

Attorneys H. W. Vickers and R. Hynson Rogers were named as committee to prepare advertisement of Bond Sales as authorized by Legislature. These bonds are to take up notes in banks and help build road on Cross street.

The Council ordered all Sunday work on part of wagon men to be discontinued unless emergency demanded.

HER silver sides gleaming under a brilliant sun, the dirigible Akron, pride of the U. S. Navy, passed over Chestertown between 7 and 8 A. M. Monday. The Akron left Lakehurst at 6.45 preceded by one hour by the Los Angeles and two smaller Navy ships. The smaller ships, however, dropped out of line before they reached Washington at 9.50. At 10, the two big craft left the Nation's capital turned their noses northward, and passed over Baltimore shortly before 11.

BUYS A KENT ISLAND HOME

L. C. Treherne, representing The Strout Farm Agency, at Chestertown, Md., has sold to William Hancock, of Greenwich, Conn., the beautiful Bay Side home belonging to Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Cook, of Kent Island. The estate consists of nine acres directly on the bay shore overlooking Crab Alley Bay. The improvements consist of 7-room dwelling with spacious porches, fruit, flowers and shrubbery, with barn and other outbuildings. Mr. Hancock is a direct descendant of a worthy ancestor, the well-known John, who signed his name to the Declaration of Independence with "a big round hand." Mr. Hancock, his wife and son will be cordially welcomed to our shores. As proof that the climate is healthful, the retiring owner, Mr. Cook, has passed his 82nd year.

ERNEST B. BROWN was elected a director of the Church Hill Bank of Maryland at a special voting meeting of the stockholders the first of the week. He resides at Ripley, with his brother, James Page Brown, who is president of the Bank. Ernest B. Brown succeeds the late John H. Newnam.

Good moving pictures now going on at the New Lyceum.
