LOCAL NOTES.....

JAS. T. IRELAND, JR., held his first sale at his Coleman's Bazaar on Tuesday. A fine crowd was present and the happy auctioneer kept the crowd in good spirits.

ADAM B. SCHAUBER has purchased from Horace V. Needles the filling station property located near Brook's Mill. Among the considerations was a 90 foot lot on Kent street adjoining Mr. Needles' home.

MANY farmers' wives of Ridgely locality are taking advantage of the present price offered for turkeys and of the early maturing of the birds this season, and are disposing of their young flocks at an early date. One lot of 52 averaging 15 pounds was disposed of recently for 28 cents a pond. The price earlier in the week was 30 cents.

THE annual Halloween dance was held at the Chester River Yacht and Country Club from 9.00 to 12.00 last Saturday night. The club room was decorated with pumpkins, corn stalks and gayly tinted leaves.

Prizes in connection with the party were awarded to Mrs. James Woodall for the best costume, and H. Clay Brown, for the most original costume.

MORE colorful than on the baseball field and shining just as bright on the basketball court as on the diamond, the Athletic's Five team helped raise the local basketball curtain by opposing Wilmington of the Eastern League, the latter in their 1931-32 debut.

The White Elephants to invade the Cardinal's new court are George Earnshaw, George "Mule" Haas, Jim Peterson, Jimmy Dykes and Jimmy Foxx.

THE November meeting of Our Garden Club, which was recently organized here, was held on Monday evening, in the Chestertown Armory. Mrs. I. Price Ewing, vice president of the club, presided. Following an important business meeting talks were given by Mrs. E. R. Anthony, William H. Elliott and Miss Mary Brooks. The club has an initial membership of 25, and proposes to hold regular monthly meetings with interesting programs. A number of open meetings are being planned in which the general public will be invited to participate.

Good moving pictures now going on at the New Lyceum.

FARMERS interested in seeing the results of various feeds in fattening pigs are invited to visit their State Agricultural College at College Park, Md., on November 14, 1931. The program begins at 10 A. M. Thirteen lots of pigs were used—each lot receiving a different ration. A very worthwhile and instructive program will be presented.

REV. JOHN WHITE TO HEAD CAMPAIGN

Rev. John White, rector at Old St. Paul's, has been re-elected Roll Call Chairman for Kent county in the annual Red Cross membership campaign which will start on November 11th.

A meeting of the Kent Chapter is set for Monday, November 9th, at 2 P. M. at the home of Mrs. James G. Beck. At this meeting, to which all members are invited, officers will be elected and business transacted.

Last winter the Kent Chapter used the money in its treasury to relieve suffering in the county and this year one-half the sum received from the sale of memberships in Kent will be returned to the local chapter for use here. The other half will go to the National Organization.

The officers of the Kent Chapter are Howard Turner, Chairman; Mrs. James G. Beck, vice-chairman; Mrs. Frank W. Smith, secretary, and Alan A. Harris, treasurer.

It IS GRATIFYING to learn, says the Wilmington, Del., Every Evening, that local work for the unemployed will be started in earnest within the next ten days when the unfavorable situation will be relieved to some extent. Road construction, coming later, will further ease the strain. New building construction is expected to be well under way by the new year.

Still more cheering is the result of the survey of the country which finds mills and industries in the East and South recalling idle workers back to their posts in the next week.

Further yet we may go and mention the fact that the financial situation of the country has been benefitted through the relief proffered banks in emergencies. Heading all of this is the announcement that dollar wheat seems one of the probabilities of the Winter, due presumably to the fact that Russa's five year program has not met the expectations of the Union of Soviet Republics.

There seems to be a feeling that the country is coming back gradually. There can be no doubt that conditions have improved as compared with the country's business activities of the first of October.

CHESTERTOWN DEFEATS CENTREVILLE HIGH

Chestertown High advanced another peg toward the Eastern Shore interscholastic soccer title when Centreville High were defeated 4 to 2. With the score tied at one goal each midway of the first period, with the second-string local team on the field, Porter, Chestertown, came through with a long kick through the posts. The visitors' goal was tallied by Nides after a strenuous exchange of kicks early in the second half.

DREXEL WINS

Drexel Institute's football team ran its winning streaq to four straight games Saturday by smothering Washington College under a 44-to-0 score at Drexel Field. It was the identical count by which Drexel defeated Washington a year ago.

Drexel's record for this season now stands at five victories in six starts.

Mike La Bove, Drexel captain and fullback, had a field day in plowing through Washington's defense. He chalked up four touchdowns and converted one try for point, personally piling to score to 25 to 0 before any of his teammates tallied. Porter made two touchdowns for Drexel.

Drexel out first-downed Washington, 18 to 3, La Bove alone moving the sticks a dozen times. Robinson Washington quarterback, was the individual star for his team.

Drexel got in scoring position for its first touchdown in the opening period when Cabriel intercepted Reinhold's pass deep in Washington territory and ran it to the 4-yard line. La Bove then crashed over for the touchdown.

Charles Carroll, of Dover, spent the day last week with his brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Carroll and family.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Johnston, Mr. and Mrs. George Carroll and family visited Mrs. Victor Stradley at Easton Hospital on Sunday.

Good moving pictures now going on at the New Lyceum.

THE Still Pond Division of the Betterton-Still Pond Community Boy Scout Troop again defeated the Betterton Division in the Second Annual Interdivision Gymkahna (Riding Meet) held at Edward Hepbron's Farm last Saturday. The score was 34 to 14 as compared to 24 to 17 of last year. The meet was referred by Walter B. Harris, Scoutmaster, assisted by Allan H. Bonwill, Assistant Scoutmaster. The last event, half mile free-for-all flat race, proved the most exciting, as there were nine entries. The event was won by Thomas Norris, of Still Pond, with James Owens, of Betterton, second.

COWS AVERAGE $710

Certainly there is no depression when it comes to selling choice Guernsey cattle, 77 head having sold Tuesday at the Aiyukpa dispersal sale in Springfield, Mass., for an average of $710. When it is recalled that the sales list included several calves under a month old, 18 bulls and 20 head positive to the blood test, the average is truly remarkable for these times.

A roll call of those present Tuesday would include prominent Guernsey breeders from one end of the United States to the other, the crowd numbering probably five hundred. Bidding at all times was very spirited, and nothing sold low except when some of the splendid positive animals were reached and prices slumped off several hundred dollars.

It is gratifying to Marylanders that five of the finest animals came to Maryland. Brooklandwood Farm, in partnership with Locust Grove Farm of New Jersey, purchased the finest bull, Aiyukpa Golden Marmion for $3900; Mr. Farcellus bought a beautiful little calf at $625 to send down the Eastern Shore; and Mr. Stanley Zell, of Baltimore County, procured three choice heifers for around $350 each.

As was anticipated, Shuttlewick Levity, though 11 years old and positive, topped the sale at $4,500 and her 9 year old daughter sold for $1650. A two year old heifer brought $3900, a yearling $1600, a month old calf $410 and so they went.

Bordley & Sons

55th ANNIVERSARY SALE

proves that depression cannot last long when real buying sets in.

It just goes to show how fast a depression can fade into thin air. All a merchant has to do is to make it interesting for the buyers. . and PEOPLE WILL SPEND MONEY.

There is no room for gloom at Bordley's. The store was packed this week with people who knew they were buying delicious bargains. .and it didnt take them long to unloosen the dollars they had been so frugally saving.

Remember this is Not a Sale Stock...and this is not a sensational store. We are now going dramatic because good business has demanded it.

We are cutting and slashing prices to promote a slashing business.

This week again....these same bargains will prevail.
