It is said that the entry list in both poultry and corn classes will fill all available space, if present expectations are fulfilled.

THE "Bake" and Market" held recently in Sudlersville netted $72.89 which has been turned over to the treasury of the Sudlersville Band, to aid in paying for the uniforms. The band greatly appreciates the splendid cooperation of their friends in town and the community, who have helped to make this liberal contribution possible and is deeply grateful for their help.

THE Centreville High School won both the County High School League championships in Field Ball and Soccer by administering a double defeat to Tri-County High on the local field last Wednesday.

Neither of the teams lost a game this season winning four straight. This is the first time in a number of years that both championships have been won by Centreville.

Twice within four months thieves have entered the hennery of Mrs. M. M. Larrimore, of Centreville Landing carrying away a large number of fine Rhode Island Red hens and also the lock to the hennery.

The most recent robbery occurred Wednesday when 30 hens were taken and the thieves probably would have taken all the fowls in the house, had it not been for the pet dog at the Larrimore home.

Mrs. Frank DeGrange, of Baltimore, a guest at the Larrimore home was awakened by the barking of the dog and went to the window. The burglars apparently frightened entered their car and drive rapidly away over the long bridge and into the Spaniards Neck section.

George C. Beach, of New York, attorney, has purchased through the Eastern Shore Estates Company, Centreville, the Shawn or Rapp farm of 213 acres on Eastern Bay, Queen Anne's county. The property was purchased from Dr. Theodore A. Cooke, Jr., of Qent Island, for $13,000.

The new owner plans to use the property as a game preserve. The farm already has a hunting lodge and outbuildings, besides a residence for the tenant. It adjoins the property acquired last year by Owen B. Winters, prominent New York advertising specialist.

LOOT FOUND TAKEN BY RIVER PIRATE

Sheriff Albert Buckworth returned from New Jersey Wednesday with a lot more of alleged stolen plunder, taken from summer homes, yachts and other places along Elk and Bohemia rivers by Herbert E. Turpin, the alleged pirate who was arrested about two weeks ago and lodged in the county jail here. Up to date the officers have recovered sixteen outboard motors and enough articles to fill two large size automobile trucks. It is estimated that Truman's thefts of goods stolen during the past couple of years in this section exceeded ten thousand dollars in value. Truman lived alone in a small house at Port Hermon, about nine miles south of here. Most of plundering is supposed to have been done at night. His home was near Elsmere, Del., where a large portion of the stolen goods was found. Walter Edwards, of Philadelphia. has also been arrested and brought to the county jail here to wait a hearing. He is charged with purchasing the stolen goods from Truman and disposing of them in Philadelphia. Police here say that Truman's operations were on the largest scale ever known in this part of the United States. It is alleged quite a few of the stolen motors and other articles were sold by Edwards; that he went so far as to advertise the stolen goods for sale — usually changing the numbers of the motors. A number of persons who had various kinds of articles stolen from them, have visited the county jail here, and identified articles among the vast pile of goods, as that of their property. — Cecil Elkton Dem.

hearth-flavored

HUBER'S JUMBO is baked like the old-fashioned hearth breads of long ago.

That's why this old-time shaped loaf has the fine, rich hearth-flavor prized by those who know good bread.

Because it's an old style loaf, oven heat from the sides, bottom, and top penetrates every part during baking.

This gives Huber's Jumbo fine, even texture, with every morsel baked to the same uniform goodness. Buy a loaf at your grocer's today and treat your family to bread with the real hearth flavor.
