MILK PRICE ADVANCE

The Inter-state Milk Producers Association announces thot, effective October 1st, 1931, the basic of payment for basic milk will go back to the full basic instead of 95 per cent of basic as has been in effect for sometime.

This is encouraging and will help all who have been producing their basic allotment or more. Another factor is the increase in better price which means a better price for surplus milk. Just what this increase will amount to is not known. It will be determined at the end of the month.

The dairy cow still remain the best market for farm crops. Farmers should feed well the cows able to pay a profit. Culling out the poor cows is a means of producing milk more economically and profitably. Elsewhere in this issue are suggested rations which are economical and practical.

EX-SHERIFF GEO. CARTER has received of a friend in Washington a special two-color stamp with three heads on it. Mr. Carter is no doubt the first to receive one of these stamps in Kent county. It is in memory of the Yorktown Celebration.

FARMERS throughout the county are in the midst of wheat seeding. Indications are that not more than 75 per cent of a normal tillage will be sown this Fall, owing primarily to the low price of the grain during the past season. Many of the growers are holding their last season s crop and will convert it into dairy feed.

REPORT OF GRAND JURY

Grand Jury Room,
October 22, 1931

To the Honorable Judges of the Circuit Court, Maryland:

The Grand Jury of the October Term of the Circuit Court of Kent County, State of Maryland, 1931, beg leave to report the following on completion of their labors:

We have been in session four days, have examined eighty (80) witnesses made twenty-one (21) presentments and found twenty (20) true bills.

We visited the Jail and found same to be in good and sanitary condition with no exceptions. Except we make the following recommendations; supply a light in the toilet room on first floor, repair the stove pipe in the kitchen and see that the chimney is cleaned, supply more chairs for the sheriff's office, supply more steel bunks on first floor.

The sheriff has installed a new up to date steel filing cabinet and we recommend that the Commissioners reimburse him for the expense he has been put to.

We have interviewed the sheriff, and different officers in the county, as to violations of the criminal law.

The Grand Jury recommends that necessary legislation be enacted at the next session of the Maryland Legislature to give magistrate jurisdiction to try and determine petty larceny cases so as to save time and expense of the grand juries and the Circuit Court of the State.

The Jury extends its appreciation to the Honorable Court, the State's Attorney, the Sheriff, the Clerk of the Court, and all other officials for their courtesy and help extended during this session.

Respectfully submitted,
EBEN F. PERKINS, Foreman.
J. S. Kreeger, Secretary.
Raymond Sutton, Asst. Secretary.

D. Wood, Samuel Loller, Marion deK. Smith, Gilbert Taylor and others from Kent were present.

YACHT PASSENGERS FLEE AS BOAT BURNS

A handsome yacht 70 feet long and 11 feet beam was burned to the water's edge on Sunday evening in Worton Creek opposite Worton Manor, the county estate of Mrs. Nora C. Maxwell. The vessel which was valuel at $25,000 belonged to Major Victor S. Emerson, of Philadelphia. She left Philadelphia on Sunday in command of Captain John Williams, with Victor S. Emerson, Jr., son of the owner, as the only passenger.

Shortly after entering the mouth of Worton Creek which is an arm of the Chesapeake Bay, en route to the anchorage of the Tri-State Yacht Club of which Major Emerson is a member, an explosion occurred aboard the yacht supposedly due to a leaky carburetor, causing the vessel to burst into flames.

Captain Williams and Mr. Emerson with difficulty escaped from the burning craft and in a yawl rowed to the Tri-State anchorage, spending the night at the club house.

Jesse D. Maxwell. son of Mrs. Maxwell, and Roy White, caretaker on the estate of Mrs. Isaac Dixon on the creek, made efforts to learn the identity of the craft and its crew, but not until Monday morning was it learned that the yacht belonged to Major Emerson, who, with his wife, had driven by automobile from their Philadelphia home to spend the week end at the Tri-State Club house.

The burned vessel drifted about in Worton Creek until it grounded on a shore opposite the club house. It is a total loss.

HERE'S KENT CO.'S BIGGEST BUSINESS

A recent article in these pages cities Washington College as "Kent's Big Business." The article was timely and emphasizes the great asset that the College is to this town, section, and State.

On the other hand, agriculture is "Kent's BIGGEST business" as the following data gleaned from the 1930 census and based on 1929 farm activities reveals most clearly.

The total value of field and orchard crops, vegetable and garden crops, is $2,130,619 of which cereals (corn, wheat, oats and barley) are $1,229,340.

The total value of domestic animals, chickens and bees on farms April 1, 1930, is $1,816,181.

Dairy products sold during 1929 amounted to $752,012.

Wool sales, 1929, amounted to $15,111.

Poultry raised in 1929 had total value of $353,706.

Honey in 1939 total value of $1,592.

These figures picture in measurable terms the size and importance of agriculture in the county. There were on April 1, 1930, 5,880 people on the farms out of a total county population of 14,242 persons. Each person has a consumptive power the year round. The farmer produces and consumes. The farmers according to the data they gave the census takers spent in 1929:

For feeds (not raised on their farms) $334,534 on 754 farms.

For fertilizer and lime, $223,368 on 800 famrs.

For farm labor (not house work) $510,971 on 733 farms.

For farm implements (machinery, automobiles, trucks, tractors and tools) $154,997 on 395 farms.

For electric light and power, $3,005 on 49 farms.

If we add to these items the cost for food and clothing, house work and luxuries it becomes clear why farming success is so important and why the towns are really dependent on the farms for their success and prosperity.

CHAS. JARRELL Baltimore, was a visitor to Kent Wednesday. Among his 17 farms is the Hendrickson farm near Brice's old mill. He has rented this farm to George P. Hendrickson who lived on it some years ago. It is said that Mr. Newsome will succeed Mr. H. on the Nicholson farm.

THE Chestertown High School soccer team defeated Rock Hall here on Wednesday afternoon 12 to 0. The Girls' Senior field ball team won from Rock Hall while the Juniors lost.

The visiting firemen were welcomed by Mayor Charles N. Satterfield and former president of the fire company, William G. Smyth. Fire-fighting methods employed by the local men were demonstrated and refreshments were served by the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Chestertown company.

"SIT TIGHT" CO-STARS WILD WINNIE AND JOBO

Winnie Lightner, whose battle to lose surplus weight was signally successful, had no chance of gaining back any excess weight during the filming of "Sit Tight," her latest feature comedy for Warner Bros., which shows at the New Lyceum on Monday and Tuesday, October 26 and 27.

As Dr. Harper, health specialist, Winnie puts in several very strenuous weeks in her role in "Sit Tight.' For that matter so did Joe E. Brown, her partner in comedy.
