KENT NEWS $1.50 PER YEAR

KENT COUNTY SCHOOL NOTES

GALENA SCHOOL

On Friday, October 2, we organized the class of 1932 with the following officers: President, Virginia Naylor; vice president, Thomas Massey; secretary, Lucy Cruikshank; treasurer, Bertha Beasten.

On October 28 we were very fortunate to have with us Miss Miles of the P. A. L. to help us with our field ball. We enjoyed having the Chestertown girls with us in the afternoon. As we have never played field ball before we are entering the Junior League this year.

On Friday, October 9, we played field ball and soccer at Sudlersville. The Galena boys won with a score of 1 to 0. We hate to say it, but the girls were defeated by a score of something terrible to nothing.

On Monday, October 5, we enjoyed a visit from Mr. Robinson and Mr. Fontaine.

In an effort to secure a one hundred per cent membership in our Patrons' Club the following letter is being sent to the parents of all the children in both high and elementary schools:

To the Patrons of Galena School and the Parents of all the Children:

For a number of years we have had a P.-T. A. organization, functioning regularly and acting as a wonderful help and encouragement to the school as a whole. In fact, it's hard to tell how we could have gone on without the aid of the members of the organization. But we have never even had fifty per cent of the parents of the children as members of the club, and we need the help of all.

I am asking you as a patron and as one who should be interested in the welfare of the school to come to a meeting in the high school building on Tuesday afternoon, October 20, at three o'clock, for the purpose of reforming our old association, or of forming a new one, and of discussing methods to increase the efficiency of the school. Will you not show your interest by coming out to help us?

LELIA N. WARE, Principal.

Though the kindness of Miss Hough a Glee Club has been formed in the high school this year.

Through the generosity of the Co. Boord of Education we have had two new fountains installed in the high school. We should now like to have a demonstrator to show us how to get a drink without getting our faces washed.

SOCIAL NOTES

Mr. Startt says that Martha Virginia and Edward are now frequently seen at the movies on Friday nights.

When Tommy and Lucy went to Elkton after Miss Miles the moon was not yet up.

CHESTERTOWN HIGH

Dr. William R. Small, Dean of the School of Education, of the University of Maryland, spent Friday afternoon visiting our high school. Dean Small gave an educational talk to the Seniors about this university.

The funnel fire-escape is in place and many of the youngsters have been permitted to try its speed. Miss Gessford was the first teacher to go down. Mr. Poole and Mr. Blades chanced it on Saturday morning. They survived, so youngsters you have nothing to fear.

Miss Miles, the ever-efficient P. A. L. official, was our guest on Monday. Mrs. Cochran, Miss Ruth, Miss Ruth Brice, Miss Thompson, Miss Crew were the visiting county fieldball officials, who were instructed in the art of refereeing.

All of the Chestertown High School teachers will attend the State Teachers Association in Baltimore Friday and Saturday of this week.

Our soccer and fieldball teams play their first county game on Wednesday afternoon. The games will be played in the following order: Junior, Senior fieldball and soccer. The games will begin at 2 o'clock on the Chestertown field.

Thank you, gentlemen of the Board of Education and the Board of County Commissioners for our new heating plant. It heats well and we can look forward to a more comfortable winter than ever before.

The Senior typists are keeping a record of their weekly speed test marks. At the end of the year each one is going to make a graph so that they will be able to see their ups and downs.

Here are the winners of last Thursday evening's bowling contest. Miss Fitez won the faculty prize and also a box of candy. Jack Hadaway led all the boys and as a result is wearing a collar pin. Isabel Brice now owns a compact because she knocked down more tenpins than any other girls.

We have begun to make our grounds more presentable. Mr. Blades has ordered some evergreens and perennials. Mr. Duyer, who takes so much pride in our school, has planted norcissus bulbs, daffodils, and johnquils in their winter beds. Mr. Walter Walbert generously donated both his time and experience when he planted two tulip beds on Saturday afternoon. Thanks, Mr. Walbert.

This and That (and a couple of "Theses:")

The tennis courts are ready.... Home Economics can be an elective course for the Juniors and Seniors .....The Boys have new red and white striped soccer jerseys....Mr. Blades bought a new set of encyclopedias for the library....College teachers are in full forse....Mr. Poole is going to make out the Boys' Basketball schedule this week—he is also going to appoint a student manager:...Mr. Robinson was at C. H. S. on Tuesday .... Sale of tickets for the 'Chronicals of America' is on.

MILLINGTON

On Sunday evening last while coming onto the Main Highway from o private road one mile south of Millington an automobile driven by Harry Freeman, Jr., struck an auto driven by William Skinner, of near Sudlersville, seriously injuring a young woman Friday with Skinner's, who was treated by Dr. Brice, of Millington. Freeman was taken to Centreville and lodged in jail. He was found to be driving without proper license a car he had purchased from a colored man without title being passed and using the colored man's tags. He was held for one thousand dollars bail on a serious charge.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Leo Gale were Sunday afternoon visitors of friends in Galena.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Sloan, of Elkton, were week-end guests of her mother, Mrs. Mary E. Bailey.

Millard Porter, of Wilmington, was a week-end guest of his mother, Mrs. Eva Marvil.

Mrs. Ella Abell, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Abele, of Philadelphia, were Sunday guests of Mr. and Mrs. John E. Woodall.

Mrs. Mary J. Young, of Franklin City, Va., and Miss Sue Taylor, of Stockton, Md., are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Taylor.

COW WINS FIRST PRIZE WITHOUT BEING INVITED

Albert Warren, Jr., is almost ready to believe the one about the cow jumping over the moon.

He has a cow himself.

The animal broke away from the Warren stables, wandered into the Cadwell livestock show here and joined as a voluntary and unofficial entry a group of milch cows being judged.

Nobody paid much attention to the incident until the judging was over and the Warren animal was found to be wearing the blue ribbon denoting first prize. The decision stood. Nothing like having an educated cow.

WASHINGTON SCORES ON HAVERFORD

The college team received a great send-off in the Philadelphia papers Sunday after the Haverford game. Cartoons and big streamer head across the paper told the story. A quotation from the Enquirer is here given:

The much-discussed depression was raised from at least one market Saturday afternoon. Indeed, it might even be said to have been lifted from two markets at the same time.

For Haverford Colleges gained its first victory of the season, while Washington College, its opponent from Chestertown, Md., earned its first touchdown of the year. All this occurred at Walton Feld, Haverford, as Elwood Geiges' homesters gave a football rendition of the popular song, "Happy Days Are Here Again, by defeating the invaders, 27 to 7.

As a matter of fact, it marked the first occasion of the current season that Haverford has been able to cross the ultimate chalk-mark, too, and the experience seemed to go to the Main Liners' heads. Not content with registering two six pointers in the initial period, one only 48 seconds after the opening whistle, the Scarlet and Black eleven amassed four, scoring in every quarter except the second.

At that, the home eleven had no easy time of it. The Main Line boys had to fight every inch of the way against the hard-playing but futile eleven from Chestertown. As a matter of fact, the Washington team had a little the better of the melee in the matter of first--downs, registering six to Haverford's five.

Called into the backfield, Harry Field did not fail to take full advantage of the opportunity to notch the board with another Haverford point —and so, hardly had the game begun wher Haverford held a 7 to 0 lead.

For the next ten minutes or so the two teams settled down to an exchange of punts, but the homesters had the advantage here, and at the end of that time held possession of the ball in Washington territory. A couple of line thrusts and the ball was on the 12-yard line.

Bill Battey, again given the spheroid, started around left end. Beautiful interference formed around him and Washington tacklers were left gnashing their teeth as he once more crossed the goal line. And Harry Field's trusty toe again stood the homesters in good stead, as his boot for the extra point sailed true. Thus did the Haverford advantage rise to 14-0 during the first quorter.

But now the visitors' ire was raised. Evidentally they felt they were not being treated at all as guests should be treated, for they opened with a few broadsides themselves, succeeding in outplaying Elwood Geiges' minions for the remainder of the period. By the end of the canto, indeed, Haverford had been pushed back to its own 5-yard line.

The homesters held the ball at this time, however, and a punt hot off Dick Pleasants' toe temporarily got them out of danger. But the visitors had by no manner of means given up their efforts to avenge themselves on their hosts.

While Haverford's tackling during the second period was not what it should have been, the ball-running of the Washington safety man, Plummer, was better than average, so that in the exchange of punts that followed the visitors held the edge, although they did not get as much distance from their kicks as did the homesters.

Consequently, not much time had elapsed before the fighting Georgies from Washington College had driven Haverford inot its own ground. About midway in the period the invaders held possession of the oval on their rivals' 35-yard line.

And Haverford was not expecting anything like that which struck them—

Swish! A pass, from Robinson to Carizza, sailed true. The heave itself was good for sixteen yards, but fast-stepping Right End Carizzo made it count for much more than that. Oh, ever so much more!

With no Haverford man near him, he romped gaily to the goal line, deposited his pigskin burden — and Washington had garnered its first touchdown of 1931! And Plummer, on a placement, scored his team's first extra point, too. Thus statistics mounted to: Haverford 14, Washington 7.

And thus did statistics stay, too, for the remainder of the half, although the Maryland team tried desperately hard to knot the count, outplaying the Main Line eleven during the moments that were left.

After the interval Washington played as though the horse were to be of the same color as the latter part of the initial half—but only for a few moments. The Georgies, after driving their toe back to the Haverford 10-yard line, lost ground on the exchange of punts that followed and it was not long until Haverford was marching for more six-pointers.

Washington was far from satisfied with its seven, however, and opened that remained. During the whole game, indeed, the Marylanders attempted no fewer than 24 passes, completing six and having two intercepted, while Haverford tried two, completing one and having the other snared by a Washington player.

However, all the Washington passes went for naught, as Haverford heightened its defense and held and speared any and all that flew its way. up a flurry of passes in the moments

A MOTORIT'S RESOLVE

When I am driving on a street
Where little folks I'm apt to meet
Who dash across in thoughtless play.
I'll try to drive in just the way
That I would drive if mine were there

TAXES

The State requires now a ½ per cent to be added to all unpaid and the Treasurer, H. S. Startt, is anxious to have this fact known to those who still owe. So, when the taxpayer sends check, money order or cash he or they MUST include the ½ per cent addition. This will avoid the necessity of having the Treasurer return same for correction for the ½ per cent. He has no other alternative. He MUST collect it.

State Taxes

An additional ½ per cent is added for each month thereafter up to 6 per cent.

H. S. STARTT, Treasurer.
