LOCAL NOTES.....

Alwyn M. Culp, who has been ill in Church Home in Baltimore for several months, expects to come home Monday. He is far from well but the doctor thinks he can stand the trip home. Mrs. Culp has been almost constantly at his side not having been home since the day he entered the Hospital.

SPORTING CIRCLES enjoy the shoots every Wednesday afternoon at Betterton. Charles Rollison, of Chestertown, was high man this week, with Leroy Owens, of Middletown, second.

John Price, Chief of Police, won the booby prize. Mrs. Jack Owens did not enter the contest but showed the men how to break 100 per cent. of the pidgeons.

The NEWS has received a postal dated Heidelberg, August 10th, from Dr. T. H. Fowler, of Washington College faculty, which says: "After a pleasant stay in Paris, we visited Naples, Vesuvius, Pompeii, Rome and Florence; then made a long hop to Germany, Munich being our first destination. It was here that the sad death of Dr. Fox from appendicitis took place. Then I came to Bremen, Nuremberg, and am now in this beautiful old University city with its castle in ruins high up in the hills."

AT THE ANNUAL Church Hill firemen's carnival, Misses Lucille Rasin and Ellen Ziesal, of this town, won second place in the parade showing the most comical costumes. Mrs. Jesse Blakeney, president of the ladies' auxiliary of the Chestertown fire company, announced today that scores of entries for the first annual pajama parade, to be staged the night of September 1 here, have been received.

SIX spectacular and thrilling races, besides the customary classes for hunters and riders, will constitute the card for the eleventh annual Queen Anne's County Horse Show, to be held near Centreville on Labor Day, Monday, September 7.

STEVEN R. COLLINS, ESQ., attorney, sold at public sale Tuesday the Hopkins house on Cannon street to Harry W. White for $2,000. This property adjoins Mr. White's bowling alley.

Rev. Henry G. Budd, Jr., made a very favorable impression at Chestertown M. E. Church Sunday. He preached morning and night.

THE Woman's Auxiliary of the Chestertown Volunteer Fire Company will meet next Thursday, August 27 at 7.30 P. M.

BEDFORD J. GROVES, son of Mr. and Mrs. Willson Groves, Chestertown R. F. D. No. 5, was awarded one of the second prizes in the Hood Treasure Hunt Contest for June. Bedford selected a Daisy Automatic Air Rifle from the list of awards and it was presented to him by Noland's Department Store, local Hood Dealers, who carry a full line of this high grade rubber footwear and sport shoes. This young Kent countian is due for hearty congratulations for his success in placing so high in this nation-wide contest which interested so many of our young folks during the summer.

CAPT. ERNEST HERSCH, formerly of Rock Hall, but an employee of many years with the Gas and Electric Company of Baltimore, is in Emergency Hospital, Green and Lombard street, Baltimore, seriously burned by a gasoline explosion Saturday. He had just been to the dock and had the tank filled and started the engine when the explosion occurred, sending him to the roof of the cabin and dropping him on the engine. With clothing aflame he reached the deck and jumped overboard, swam a 100 yards to shore and was sent to the hospital. One arm may be broken. Clarence and Raymond Hersch and Mrs. Charles Sewell at Rock Hall, are brothers and a sister.

SO PROLIFIC are Chesapeake bay and Chester river fish that scores of tourists from Baltimore, Philadelphia, Wilmington and other large nearby cities are taking home barrels of catches, strapped on the back of their automobiles. The river in this vicinity is filled with fishermen and crabbers, city anglers mingling with local Eastern Shoremen and vacationists who are spending several weeks or the entire summer at river and bay resorts in this vicinity.

THIEVES made a haul at the home of Lamb Bros., in Morgnec, last Sunday and stole a number of things.

JOHN SCHAUBER'S brick yard near town is busy on an order for 130,000 bricks to be delivered at once.

A FIG TREE in Mrs. S. P. Townshend's yard on the Avenue is bearing much fruit.

STATE OFFICIALS of the Daughters of America visited the local lodge this week.

LAMBERT W. DAVIS, of Cecilton, has been selected to fill vacancy in Judge of Orphans' Court in Cecil county. There were 17 applicants.

Jos. J. Lancaster has rented the Stafford room on High street from the Voshell House owners. He will make it his newspaper headquarters and also sell soft drinks and tobacco.

HOLD CHESTER RIVER REGATTA

The Chester River Yacht Club is staging a splendid program of races. They began yesterday and the big display of fireworks given by the Raskobs was to have taken place last night. Saturday's program is as follows:

9.30 A. M.—Chesapeake Bay log sailing canoe race.

10 A. M.—Small boat free-for-all open to sneakboxes, Wee Scots and sailing scows.

Noon — Free-for-all unlimited outboard marathon.

1.15 P. M.—Fower workboat championship, log canoe class. Limited to power log canoes used regularly during the year in fishing, oystering, or crabbing. Course two-and-one-half miles. Prizes of $50, $25, $15 and $10 offered by John J. Raskob.

1.45 P. M. — 110-horsepower stock runabouts.

2 P. M.—Power workboat championship.

2.10 P. M.—Deadrise power workboat championship. Cash prizes offered by Mr. Raskob as in 1.15 P. M. event.

3 P. M.—Unlimited speedboat race.

3.40 P. M.—Ladies 110-horsepower stock runabout race.

4 P. M.—125 horsepower hydroplanes, if sufficient boats enter.

4.15 P. M.—Class D outboards.

All of which holds forth the promise of a most enjoyable and exciting week-end. We're hoping for a moderate breeze for the Gold Cup race so that some of the Chesapeake Bay canoes and John D. Williams' transomsterned canoe can show Raskob's Class M sloop Patsy a thing or two about light-weather racing.

Eugene E. duPont, of Wilmington, has purchased the Miller schooner High Tide. Mr. duPont has taken the schooner to his summer home at Cape Cod but she will have as her home port the duPont estate at Napley Green, on the Chester river, just across the river from the Raskob estate, Pioneer Point Farms.

TRADE BARRIERS CAUSED DEPRESSION

Any practical person must now realize that if this and other nations could have profitably exchanged their respective surpluses since 1921, there would have been no surpluses piled up, no stagnation with resulant widespread unemployment, no agricultural collapse, no vast concentration of gold in one country, no serious German crisis--no domestic and world panic.—Senator Cordell Hull (Dem., Tenn.)

WEDDING EVENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Hugh H. Hartman, of Chestertown, announce the approaching marriage of their daughter, Edythe Williams, to Clayton Henry Long, on Tuesday evening, September 8th at eight o'clock, in Emmanuel P. E. Church. No invitations issued in the county.

Miss Mildred Watson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Watson, and Robert Boulter, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Boulter, were married August 1st, 1931, by the Rev. J. W. Baxley, pastor of Wesley and Raum Chapels, at his home near Wesley Chapel. The bridal couple were attended by Miss Catherine Reihl and Herman Heinefield. They will reside with the bride's parents in Skinner's Neck.

Announcement has been received here from Mrs. Walter Rawls, of South Jacksonville, Florida, of the marriage on Saturday, August 15, of her daughter, Lillian, to James French Skirven. Mr. Skirven, the son of the late Lewin U. Skirven and Mrs. Skirven, of Kent county, has been employed in Jacksonville for a number of years. He is a graduate of the Chestertown High School and attended the University of Maryland for several years.

GOLFERS TO JOIN STATE ASSOCIATION

Officials of the Chester River Yacht and Country Club have been notified that its affiliated golf organization will be admitted to membership in the Maryland State Golf Association.

The local club will be the first on the Eastern Shore to become affiliated with the State organization, which will give it a standing and rating and will permit the Chestertown organization to participate in State tourneys. The local course will be rated and handicaps assigned to local players by officials of the State Golf Association.

At present, the Chestertown Golf team is a member of the Peninsula Golf League, composed of teams at Salisbury, Rehoboth, Dover and Chestertown, in which the local team won the championship last year, and is near the top in this year's score, with practically half of the season yet to play.

HOG CHOLERA is reported to exist on the premises of George Plummer near Black's Station and of Thomas Quinn, near Massey.

THE NEWS appreciates a fine basket of Bartlett pears from the big orchards of Mrs. Evalyn Harris, near Betterton. She has a splendid crop.

Here and now, each day is to be seen as the Lord's Day, a fruitful day, full of good thoughts and good works which glorify God and bless his holy name.
