We cordially invite the Presbyterian membership to worship with us.

First Stude—Wasn't that a juicy lecture by Professor McCullum on "The Culture of Prunes?"

Second Stude—It surely was. He was so full of his subject.

Summer Boarder—Have you seen anything around here worth shooting?

Farmer Brown — Not until you came!

SAVE YOUR EYES

By Dr. Fred Andreae,
Secretary Md. Board of Optometry.

The term "cataract" to indicate a disorder of vision is a misnomer and originated from the fact that such a disorder frequently gives one the impression of a mist or fog falling down before their eyes, hence the term "cataract."

There are over eighty listed causes of cataracts but three-fourths of them may be summed up in this one heading—"incorrect use of the eyes." Those who are the greatest sufferers now are often those who have abused or neglected their eyes the most in the previous years. Any type of eye strain will hasten or encourage the development of this disorder. Self-selected glasses purchased in a store as merchandise; wearing the discarded glasses of some other member of the family, using incorrectly fitted glasses, or in some cases, using none at all will cause the disorder to rapidly develop.

The woman who persists in using her eyes for extremely fine work for long periods of time, as well as those who put off the wearing of glasses, are good prospects for "cataracts" for, after all, more cataracts develop from strain and abuse of the eyes than from any other cause. It is so often observed by eye examiners, that the possessor of cataracts has been guilty of neglecting the care of her eyes, that every means possible is taken to encourage frequent and periodic eye examinations.

Some people are predisposed to "cataracts" by their physical characteristics. Defective kidneys or any condition which tends to prevent the proper elimination of the body poisons will aid or hasten the coming of cataracts.

WATER FAMINE IN BALTIMORE

AS Baltimore suffered under a burning temperature that attained a peak of 96 degrees at 1 P. M. reports reached the city that a water famine is imminent in that part of Baltimore county not serviced by the metropolitan district. The same condition was said to prevail in Carroll county.

While Baltimoreans waited for rain both to cool the city and to add to its water supply behind Loch Raven dam, which was 7.9 feet below the crest Saturday, residents in the two counties found many streams lower than at any time during the last eightly years, wells drying up and a water ration program necessary.

Conditions have reached a point in the vicinity of Harrisonville and Randallstown, Baltimore county, and North Branch and Eldersburg, Carroll county, requiring farmers to abstain from drinking water in order to have a little for stock. In some instances water is being carried for miles from farms that have artesian wells to other farms which depend solely on a depth from thirty-five to sixty feet, contain only five feet of water.

KENT SHOOTERS ARE INVITED

Major George E. Parker, U. S. A., retired, of Baltimore, and advisor of the Kent County Rifle and Pistol Club, has issued an invitation to the local organization, of which Walter S. Lutz, Jr., is president, to enter a competitive test for riflemen at Camp Ritchie, Cascade, Md., the best shot to go to the National Rifle Competition at Camp Perry, Ohio, Aug. 23.

A number of members of the local club are National Guardsmen, including Lutz, who served in the Navy during the World War. A number are also American Legion members, the State Legion of Maryland having received a challenge from Sergeant Alvin Yorke, captain of the Tennessee Mountain Riflemen, to engage in a rifle competition with his team.

Major Parker announces that the challenge has been accepted by the Department of Maryland of the American Legion and has invited the local club to take part in the competitive tests. Targets will be sent by mail to judges who will determine the winners and scores. The invitation has also been received by Frank M. Jarman Post, No. 36, American Legion, of this town.

McCORMICK-DEERING
ENCLOSED GEAR
ENSILAGE CUTTER

The McCormick-Deering No. 12 Ensilage Cutter is another International Harvester achievement. It sets a new standard in ensilage-cutter design and construction. Here is an ensilage cutter that embodies improved features taken from automobile and tractor construction.

The foundation of the No. 12 ensilsage cutter is a one-piece main frame enclosing the flywheel, cutter, transmission and apron drive. All the working parts are enclosed in an oil-tight and dust-proof housing, permitting all parts to run in a bath of oil. This construction, combined with the use of specially cut and heat-treated gears, assures exceptionally long life and efficient operation.

Other features of McCormick-Deering construction are:

Knife-on-flywheel type with four knives secured to flywheel of boiler plate steel.

Positive drive on feed apron with high and wide feed throat.

Working parts mounted on high grade, anti-friction bearings.

Length of cut can be changed without stopping machine.
