The Kent News

SATURDAY, JUNE 13, 1931

Leisure is just a dead weight unless we have a regular job to do at the close of our vacation.

Carlyle once said that people could only be taken in by quacks when they had a certain element of quackery in their own souls.

GIFT DAY FOR PREVENTORIUM JUNE 13TH

The annual gift day for donations of the Miracle House at Claiborne, Maryland, has been set for Saturday, June 13th.

At this time gifts of non-perishable foods, such as canned goods, preserves and jellies are brought to the Chestertown Health Center and then taken down to the Preventorium. All those who are interested in the splendid work being done for children are asked to contribute.

Kent county, this season, will have one child under treatment in Claiborne throughout the term.

The county public is informed that since the notice came so late concerning donation day any supplies received at the Health Center after that date will be gladly forwarded to the Miracle House.

FARM WOMEN TO BE HONORED

For outstanding service to their homes, their families and their communities three Maryland farm women will receive the title of Master Farm Home-Maker in a public ceremony in conjunction with the Ninth Annual Rural Women's Short Course, to be held at the University of Maryland, June 15 to 20. The recognition ceremony will take place Thursday, June 18. The award, which is sponsored by the Farmer's Wife, a national farm women's magazine, will be given this year for the fourth time in this State.

The women to be honored are Mrs. Albert F. Graham and Mrs. Mary J. Dinsmore, Cecil County and Mrs. A. M. Rencher, Wicomico County. As in preceding years the women were first nominated by five of their neighbors and a questionnaire, comprising five hundred questions, was submitted for each.

While the homes of the three women are not model ones, they are as near being so as the circumstances of the owners permit. One is equipped with both electricity and running water, another has electricity but no running water, and the third has neither of these conveniences.

To become masters in their profession these women had no easy task and Mrs. Dinsmore in particular had unusual obstacles to overcome. Her husband died eight years ago, leaving a family of twelve, the youngest being only a year old and the oldest 26. College educations are being planned for the youngest members although those who wtre forced to quit school have prospered in the business world. Mrs. Dinsmore is a member of fourteen different organizations and holds prominent offices in seven of them.

Mrs. Rencher has four sons and four daughters, the youngest seven and the oldest 24 years old. One graduated from college and is teaching, two others graduated from high school this year, one will graduate in 1933 and four others are still in grade schools. Because hers is a small fruit and vegetable farm, Mrs. Rencher prepares these products for the market during the summer in addition to her household duties. Besides this she finds time to be president of the Homemaker's Club and County Home Economics Extension Club She is also secretary of the Ladies' Aid.

Mrs. Graham is president of the Homemakers' Club in her community and is prominent in church affairs She is superintendent of the Cradle Roll and vice president of the Epworth League. Mrs. Graham is the mother of three children, 3 to 13 years of age. She and Mr. Graham have what she calls a "one pocke partnership" and consult each other in affairs of business and in planning for the children.

Case Rotary Hoe
Ohio Rotary Hoe
New Idea Tomato Transplanter

What a Rotary Hoe can do for YOU:

Perhaps the greatest use of the Rotary Hoe is in the breaking of surface crusts and the killing of weed seedlings before and after the crop is planted.

With a Rotary Hoe you can give your crops an early start and keep weeds from gaining a foothold.

And you can do it much faster and far better than can ever be done by shovel cultivation.

The numerous pulverizing teeth or fingers penetrate to a uniform depth and thoroughly stir the surface soil.

A Rotary Hoe can be used without damage to the crop until the plants reach a height of 8 or 10 inches, and even higher under favorable conditions.

New Idea Tomato Transplanter

Increase yield and quality, gives roots plenty of room to grow, saves time and labor.

The New Idea way of planting so closely approaches natural conditions, few plants are lost, growth begins immediately and crops mature several days earlier than those set by other methods.
