KEITH MURDER CASE IN CHESTERTOWN

The case of McKinley Keith, of Cecil, charged with murder of Russell Burton November 1, 1930, which was heard in Centreville, was postponed until October 19 for the Kent County Court at Chestertown.

After nearly ten hours' consideration of the case, the jury failed to agree, and a new trial was ordered.

STATE INCOME SCHOOL TAX

The seventh semi-annual dinner of the Kent County Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday night, in the gymnasium of Washington College. The function was a joint affair of the Chamber of Commerce and the Parent-Teacher Associations of the county, and marked the beginning of a campaign on the part of both organizations to acquaint the people of the county with its pressing educational needs.

Covers were laid for 150 guests at the dinner which was served by the Chestertown Parent-Teacher Association of which Mrs. Willard H. Thawley is president. Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president of the Chamber of Commerce, presided at the afterdinner program. Dr. Albert S. Cook, State Superintendent of Education, was the guest speaker. His subject was, "Modern Methods of Public School Education in Maryland." Dinner music was furnished by the Washington College orchestra under the direction of Dr. Fred. G. Livingood.

Dr. Cook pointed out that the equalization fund used for financing county schools at present calls for a tax of 67 cents on $100. He said that a system of State taxation on incomes would reduce this materially, probably to the vicinity of about 40 cents on $100.

"Education is a State function and it is up to the State to secure proper funds for the schools.

TRI-CO. GROUP HOLDS MEETING

Elimination of loose banking methods and substitution of uniform banking practices was advocated here on Friday night by Mathias Reese, head of the Baltimore clearing house, in the principal address at the annual meeting of group No. 5 of the State Bankers' Association. The group embracing the counties of Kent, Caroline, Queen Anne's and Talbot, has a membership of thirty banking institutions, and forty-five officers attended the convention held at Emmanuel P. E. Church recreation hall.

Declaring banks are "in business to make money and not lose it," Mr. Reese said some institutions were actually losing money on certain customers because of loose practices in handling accounts.

He advocated establishment of a uniform maximum interest rate on deposits; imposition of a fixed charge for handling accounts on which the balance was not large enough to cover bookkeeping costs and creation of a system of exchange of loan information.

Mr. Reese also told of the need of adoption of a uniform system of computing interest and advocated a fixed charge be set for handling overdue paper. He said that in many banks in Maryland at present no charge was made for handling overdue paper.

State Senator Dudley G. Roe, of Sudlerville, Md., president of the Sudlersville Bank, of Queen Anne's county was elected chairman. P. K. Wright, of the Farmers and Merchants Bank of Easton was named vice-chairman and W. Robert Huey, cashier of the Tihrd National Bank of Chestertown, secretary and treasurer. W. B. Copper was named as member of administration.

All the changes in practice were referred to the various bank directories to be reported at a later meeting. Roland Chaffinch was chairman of the meeting and called on Laurence Towers, of Denton, to preside. Mr. Towers made an eloquent and stirring address and presided in a most satisfactorily manner.

The ladies of the P. E. Church served a splendid supper to the 80 members.

The Kent county banks were represented at the meeting as follows:

Third National Bank, Chestertown—W. B. Copper, T. D. Bowers, P. M. Brooks and W. R. Huey.

Peoples Bank, Chestertown—R. H. Rogers, C. F. Wheatley and Don T. Falls.

Millington Bank of Maryland—J.P. Ahern, Dr. Merritt Brice and C. M. Melvin.

Citizens Bank, Chestertown — Geo. D. Lofland and John W. Barroll.

Kent County Savings Bank, Chestertown—Fred. G. Usilton, J. D. Bacchus, John D. Urie.

Chestertown Bank of Maryland—S. Scott Beck, W. B. Usilton and A. A. Harris.

THE winners in the $50,000 Camel Ciragette Contest were announced this week. Only one Maryland person got a prize. That was a lady in Baltimore who received a $100 prize. The NEWS will give more details next week.

HAIL, LIGHTNING VISIT KENT CO.

Kent county was visited the past week by two severe storms.

They came on Saturday night and Monday afternoon.

The storm on Saturday night blew out a fuse at the nome of Mrs. Mary Warner and ran down a wire hanging near her head. She was shocked by the electric charge and her hair singed by falling sparks.

The storm on Monday damaged the home of Joseph Minners and so badly shocked Mrs. Elmer Jones that it was necessary to call a physician to attend her. During the same storm the home of David Ashley was struck, a radio torn to bits and the building set afire. The Rock Hall Volunteer Fire Company was called and extinguished the blaze. A chimney and roof at the home of Oscar McGinnis were damaged and the home of Fred Reihl was struck but not fired by the some storm.

Crops in the northern section of Kent county, were damaged when heavy hailstones beat down upon them. Some farmers reported the frozen particles were as large as hens' eggs and covered the fields to a depth of three inches.

The storm, which neared out of the Northwest, caused the most serious loss around Worton, Still Pond, Lynch and Kennedyville.

Traffic on the State highway to Elkton was held up, as the hail covered the road and was washed along the surface by a driving rain. Several automobiles were ditched and others were parked until the storm ended to avoid accidents.

The storm passed from one end of the county to the other, but the full fury was felt by Rock Hall.

Telephone communication was not interfered with and rail transportation moved on schedule.

Barn on Mrs. Dane Rianhart's farm in Broad Neck, was struck by lightning and considerable damage done.

George Dickerson's place, his alfalfa was cut up and also his tomato plants.

On Wm. Mench's place in Broad Neck was also considerable damage done to plants and vegetables.

STORMS DOWN THE SHORE

Kent is not the only place that has felt the full force of disastrous storms. In Somerset county in recent storms the damage has been great.

Covering on area embracing probably twenty farms, the hail cut growing frui t— early peaches and apples—from the trees, and in some sections covered the ground to a depth of several inches.

Damage to growing crops cannot be accurately estimated, but according to J. T. Marriner around half a million tomato plants were ruined; beans were cut down, and a five acre field of rye on his farm was beatten into the earth, and rendering it unfit even for feed.

AUTOMOBILE STOLEN

Warren G. Painter, of near Rock Hall, who represents the International Shoe Company, of St. Louis, Mo., met with a serious misfortune one night last week while in Princess Anne on business for his firm. His car, a Studebaker, among a dozen others, was parked in front of the Washington Hotel there over night. When he went to get his car at six o'clock next morning for the day's business, found it gone. A search was made by police and other interested parties as well as Mr. Painter and was found two miles out of town in a woods road entirely burned with the exception of the hardware parts and license tags.

Thieves had stolen the sample cases of shoes and it is thought, burned the car to hide the theft. The sample shoes were all for the left foot which of course the thieves did not know when stealing them. This is an atrocious act of lawlessness and the culprits if found should be punished to the full extent of the law.

THE monthly meeting of the Old Kent Chapter Daughter of the American Revolution, was held on Saturday, May 9th, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Truslow. Election of officers was in order for the coming year and the following were elected: Regent, Mrs. Charles H. Skirven; vice regent, Mrs. Neal Truslow; recording secretary, Mrs. Belt Townshend; corresponding secretary, Mrs. P. V. Hendrickson; treasurer, Miss Ann Smith; registrar, Mrs. Paul E. Titsworth; historian, Dr. Esther M. Dole; chaplain, Miss Emma A. Knight. The June meeting will be held at the home of Miss Katie Trew.
