The Kent News

SATURDAY, MAY 9, 1931

THAT was a glorious rain Thursday in Kent.

CHESTERTOWN and Kent join in congratulating James T. Anthony, 3rd, upon his Carnegie medal and cash awards.

ALBERT C. RITCHIE, Governor of Maryland, recognized as one of the contenders for the next Democratic Presidential nomination, Monday night suggested "liberalism," after defining his understanding of the word, as a means of relieving prohibition ills and economic troubles. Mr. Ritchie, who was the "Collier's Hour" speaker over the National Broadcasting Company network, held that "liberalism is essentially a state of mind, rather than a definite program of policy," an "open mind," not to be confused with radicalism and fighting "ignorance and hyprocrisy and intolerance." Liberalism does not always mean going forward," he argued. "It often takes us back to fundamentals."

THE first marriage ceremony to be televised—if that is the word—is a matter of history today. Frank Borie Lu Vall, 25, a television engineer, and Miss Grayce Lillian Jones, 20, were the principals in it, and except for theflickering lights and the whir and click of curious-looking machines it didn't differ greatly from any other wedding.

In a room on an upper floor of a skyscraper in Fifth Avenue, New York, Saturday night an announcer stepped into the focus of the machine and told what was going to happen. The bride and bridegroom came forward, smiled into the machine, and bade everyone "good evening." The ceremony was read, the bridegroom kissed the bride, relatives sniffled and said the usual things.

Former Eastern Shoreman Writes

Gentlemen:

I see in the Los Angeles Times where Chestertown has won the laurels for healthiest town (under 20,000 population) in the United States for year 1930.

Nice to have the bacon go to the "Eastern Sho", but I ask you what is the matter with Centreville or Queenstown, of Quibbury (before it was named Ford's Store, Winchester or Grasonville) or Bryantown.

Jim Chapman who left Chestertown to make a living and joined the Eastern Shore Society, may have helped to boost this health of his favorite town. You have to watch lawyers, especially those who had "hoss" trading and pitching horse shoes as an early training.

As a boy I had to stay in Chestertown one Christmas night because ice would not let the "Emma Ford" get into Queenstown Creek. We nearly froze and Chestertown's one long street did not appeal. Forty years later I went back (also at night,) but the hotel was closed at midnight so we had to push on to Centreville. For a long time I figured Chestertown was only a place to tie up the "Emma Ford" Saturday nights.

What's the matter with John Tolson and Frank Harper and Harry Butler? Naturally John would vote for Stevensville and Frank for Centreville but Harry ought to stick with me and root for good old Bryantown.

Sometimes they move away and death overtakes them from something they eat in Chestertown or Easton, but as far as a straight natural death in bed at home, never. My grandfather died there nearly 50 years ago. but his was an exceptional case. You see he was a Republican—voted for Freemont—one of seven Republicans in his district. Excitement kept him going when Cleveland was elected and he naturally died from ennui.

You can't hold that against the town.

I'll admit Gryantown isn't much to look at and I had to pull out or starve, but we are not discussing those phases. For straight health she is 100 per cent and Chic Sales could not make a sale.

I have written and asked the "clan Bryan" to rally around their home town for 1932. We might do a little missionary work during 1931 and have those ailing take a trip. Have asked one of the family who is out of town (Bryantown) temporiarly to make a living to go back and have the home folks teeth examined, but not to bother about their tongues and lungs, as I know they are O. K., as the wet and dry issue has furnished raw material.

Mister Editor, naturally you will be for Centreville and may not care to boost good old healthy Bryantown, but at least please don't say anything against her and her ambitions.

Sincerely,
J. K. BRYAN

Republished from Centreville observers. Don't get jealous Mr. Bryan.

DEMOCRATS SWEEP BALTIMORE

Howard Wilkinson Jackson, Democrat, again was elected Mayor of Baltimore Tuesday by the greatest majority ever accorded a nominee for that office—his plurality over William G. Albrecht, Republican, reaching 63,086 with one precinct missing. Mr. Jackson was Mayor from 1923 to 1927.

E. Lester Muller, Democratic candidate for President of the City Council polled 62,921 more votes than his opponent on the Republican ticket, F. Stanley Porter, while R. Walter Graham, the Democratic candidate for Comptroller and the incumbent was 61,069 votes ahead of Isaac S. Field, the Republican candidate.

Mr. Jackson will take eighteen Democrats, including the President, with him to the City Council. Daniel Ellison, Republican incumbent in the Fourth District, was the only successful candidate of his party.

AT THE annual convention of Diocese of Easton held in Cambridge this week, delegates elected to the general conference, to be held in Denver, Col., in September were: The Rev. R. R. Gilson, of Salisbury; the Rev. S. R. Macewan, of Easton; the Rev. F. W. Kirwan, of Denton, and the Rev. William R. McClelland, of East Newmarket.

The lay deputies will be: Dudley G. Roe, of Centreville; David Dallas, Salisbury; H. Lay Beaven, Hillsboro, and Cassius M. Dashiell, Princess Anne.

PRESIDENT HOOVER today entreated business men from many nations to aid the furtherance of plans for reductions in land armament. Addressing the first session of the International Chamber of Commerce convention, he directed attention to naval limitation agreements. Then he added that within a short time the principal nations of the world will meet to discuss the broad questions of reduction in land armament" and urged business men to "insist that this problem shall be met with sincerity, courage and constructive action."

Proposals to decrease armament, he said, transcend all others advanced for world economic rehabilitation. He interpreted the annual world expenditure of $5,000,000,000 on arms as not only a threat to business recuperation but "a serious contribution to all forms of instability, whether social, political or economic."

MOTHER'S DAY

Sunday a simple, fragrant, innocent white flower symbolizes mankind's love for the MOTHERS of the world.

For Sunday is Mother's Day—one of the most beautiful, reverent and significent honor dates added to our calendar in this century. A day when men, busy with the hustle and bustle of the world, pause to remember blessed beings of self-sacrifice, glorious inspiration and constant helpfulness, to whom our language has given the hallowed name of Mother. Whether the pink of youth still blooms in her cheeks, or years of silver are blending into the gold; whether her brow is fair or faded; the love for Mother forever must re-echo through our hearts.

To us she must always remain the personification of earthly holiness; the fountain of our inspiration—is Mother.

The sweet-winsomeness of an infant; the tender watchfulness of the Infinite, the ineffable sweetness of womanhood, blended into a Glorious Trinity as Mother Love.

Crooning a lullaby over a sleeping babe; cooling a fevered brow of a child in pain; ministering faithfully wherever and whenever needed, Mother must always be one of the most generous gifts of God to man.

In our hearts there lives the gentle love for those Mothers who have been called from us; and a proud, never-dying devotion for those who have been spared to us.

Insufficient, inadequate are mere words to convey a tribute to these blessed mothers, whom it is a pri-

And we are proud to tell them of our love and undying devotion—your mother, and mine.

2 TRACTORS in 1 For All Purposes

IT'S what you get out of a tractor that determines how profitable it is to you.

When you can get, as in the new Case Model "CC," a tractor that is as well fitted for plowing, tillage and belt work as it is for planting and cultivating row crops, you've got the advanage of a new and broader usefulness.

And when you can get in that same tractor the dependable power essential to handling good-sized loads, the light weight desirable for planting and cultivating, and in addition to that, fast speeds and easy handling for quick work, you've got the qualifications that mean greater working capacity.

The rear wheels in the Model "CC" can be moved out, from standard 48-inch tread for plowing to various treads, up to 84 inches, for row crop planting and cultivating.

Come in and let's go over the tractor together. You'll be interested in examining its many new and practical features.
