CHAMBER DIRECTORS ELECT OFFICERS

The first meeting of the new Board of directors of the Kent CountyChamber of Commerce was held at headquarters on Friday, February, 13. for the election of officers in accordance with the constitution and by-laws of the organization.

The following officers were unanimously elected: Dr. Paul E. Titsworth, president; Howard Turner, vice-president; M. deK. Smith, Jr., treasurer. Mrs. Nell C. Westcott was appointed executive secretary again for the year.

The regular monthly meeting of the body will be held the second Thursday of each month. In addition to the regular standing committees a special committee on the Chesapeake Bay Bridge will be appointed.

During the year a program of informal luncheon meetings will be carried through each month to which members may bring guests upon notification in advance to the executive secretary. The date of the first luncheon has not been set but the matter is in the hands of a special committee composed of Howard Turner, A. Sydney Turner and M. deK Smith, Jr., A nominal charge for luncheon will be made, each member making it a "dutch treat". The purpose of these gatherings is to bring together more closely the interests of town and county that they may think, plan and work together for the advancement of the entire community.

The Chamber will be represented this Friday, February 20, at the meeting of the Maryland State Chamber of Commerce at Annapolis. The meeting is called to discuss a plan for the promotion and publicizing of Maryland's resources and advantages.

A copy of the Brief Analysis of Basic Factors in the Economic Structure of Maryland which has een prepared by the Maryland Developement Bureau of the Baltimore Association of Commerce has been received at the office of the local Chamber. A survey of the economicsresources of the State is now conducted and a report will be forthcoming in another year. The purpose of the Bureau of the Baltimore Association of Commerce is to stimulate State development through organized community effort, based on a complete knowledge of State conditions.

SENATOR TYDINGS OBJECTS TO 'WET'

Senator Tydings, (Democrat), of Maryland, told the Senate he objected to being called "a wet."

A leader among the anti-prohibitionists in the Senate, he said he was not contending for liquor, beer or wine and if prohibition was repealed he would go before his people and fight against return of the saloon.

"I am for restoring some measure of local responsibility," he said.

How are you going to have liquor without the saloon? Call it a parlor?

THE COST OF A FEDERAL DOLE

(From the Washington Post)

Opposition to a dole for the unemployed and the drought-affected is based not only on the fact that the dole system is repugnant to American ideals, but also on the fact that if all the unemployed were to be dealt with alike at the expense of the Treasury the cost would be stupendous. Various estimates have been offered with respect to the probable cost, but they have been, at best, mere guesses. For that reason it is pertinent to examine the cost of the dole in England. The Economic League, of London, recently reported as follows:

"The cost of paying the so-called insurance benefit to the unemployed is now $518,950,000 a year, of which $373,450,000 is supplied by the taxpayer, $67,-900,000 by the employed and $77,-500,000 by the employers. Of the sum supplied by the taxpayer, $106,700,000 represents the cost of relieving the fund altogether of the support of 350,000 persons who fail to satisfy even the present acturial test. The complete inadequacy of that test is shown by the fact that in spite of this huge subsidy the insurance fund is running into debt at the rate of $194,000,000 a year. This figure means that, after making allowance for the payment of the administration, the fund is having to support about 500,000 more persons than it can afford."

In considering these figures two facts should be kept in mind. First, the individual benefit paid an unemployed Briton would be totally inadequate to sustain an unemployed American, except on a standard so low as to constitute a national disgrace; second, the total number of unemployed in Great Britain (approximately 2,500,000) is only one-half the total number of unemployed in the United States. An American dole would probably cost at least four times as much as the British dole. Those who are working for a Federal dole are supporting a project which if it adequately cared for the unemployed, would bankrupt the Treasury

Beauty in the Bulb

What is in a bulb? Form, fragrance, color, all of spring's delights. A charm not possessed by flowers that come from fibrous roots, a stiff drawing that makes the tulip and the hyacinth particularly perfect for a little formal planting; a grace that fits the blowing daffodil for use in woodland spots —in short, the very sign and symbol of the "gray world's darling, spring." —Mrs. Francis King, in "From a New Garden."
