GOOD ENOUGH TO BUY IN

It is a good general proposition that a town that is good enough for people to live in is good enough for them to spend their money in. If the town has enough of public advantages and business enterprise so that makes people contented and gives them a living, there must be enough life and progress in its local business so that it is good judgment for people to buy their supplies of the community that supports them. There seems something wrong in the policy of making one's living out of a community by patronizing its home business places.

KENT'S OFFICERS SHOW EFFIENCY

Sheriff John T. Vickers with Officers Samuel E. Cooper and Deputy Whaland made important arrests on Monday and Tuesday in Chestertown. These arrests were for stealing 10 bags of buckwheat, 5 sacks of flour and 10 small bags of buckwheat flour from P. Medford Brooks' mill. The two men charged with the theft took George Pennington's car from near his home, made the trip to the mill and returned it. Mr. Pennington heard them return the car but did not reach the car in time to catch the thief. The flour was found stored in old church hall in Santiago, next door to Thomas Williams' home. Williams and Roosevelt Jones are charged with the crime. Jones says Lewin Davis was also with him.

Lewin Davis, Edw. Thompson and step-son, George Thompson, William Deen, Sam Cann, and Ollie Briscoe, all colored, were arrested having been implicated in a series of robberis as noted here:

Mr. McMahon, tenant on Wickes farm—30 chickens and 3 turkeys.

Howell Williams, Worton, Matthew farm—1 dozen chickens.

Mr. Gooding on Chapman farm—6 chickens.

Martha Brown, colored, Big Woods—4 chickens and a duck. Her grandson was implicated in this.

The Misses Melvin in Morgnec—8 hens and 2 roosters.

Mr. Evans in Queen Anne's—Number of chickens.

J. I. Rigby's, near town—Deen was caught in chicken house, kicked and sent away.

Edw. Thompson's car was used in these raids all of which were made in two nights between Dec. 11th and 24th.

A hearing will be held next week.

AT THE THEATRE

Bert Lytell, who essays the stellar rolerole in "Brothers," which shows at the New Lyceum Theatre on Monday and Tuesday, January 19 and 20 has the distinction of having begun his stage career at the age of three months, when he was carried orto the boards by his mother, a well-known actress of her day.

Lytell secured his first regular role on the stage in Newark, New Jersey as the boy in "Cumberland 61." This was followed by numerous engagements as leading man in stock. Lytell has also appeared in many Broadway shows and has made several hundred motion pictures, being one of the most famous of the "old guard" on the silent screen.

—o—o—

Ruth Roland, star of "Reno," at the New Lyceum Theatre on Wednesday and Thursday, January 21 and 22, temporarily retired from the screen five years ago. Recently she was asked how she has been able to retain her popularity with the public during this time. She immediately replied: "By keeping faith with my public and friends.

"For instance," she added, "I have always retained my secretary, whose duty it is to bring every letter received to my attention, and I personally dictate every reply. If someone is interested enough in me to write me a letter, I think it is as little as I can do to reply to it myself. And if my fan-friends all over the world knew the real joy their letters bring me, they would be amply repaid for the trouble they have taken in writing."

"Reno" is Miss Roland's first talking picture. The story is based on the sensational novel by Cornelius Vanderbilt, Jr. In the cast are Montagu Love, Kenneth Thomson, Judith Vosselli, Doris Lloyd and Sam Hardy.

"Love is Like a Song," "Say oui, Cherie" and "You're The One', are the titles of the three songs sung by Gloria Swanson in her new United Artists picture, "What a Widow!" showing at the New Lyceum on Friday and Saturday, January 23 and 24. They were written for the producer-star by Vicent Younmans, Broadway composer. "What a Widow!" a smart modern comedy directed by Allan Dwan, marks Miss Swanson's second singing appearance on the screen, her debut having been made in "The Trespasser."

Wm. H. Stradly has been appointed to a position in the Legislature by Senator Beck for a one-half term. As Senator Beck will likely be appointed chairman of the Judiciary Committee he will have to take Miss Alice Smith to act as his secretary on this committee.

The mercury struck 15 degrees on Thursday and 13 on Friday.

THE 4-H CALF CLUB BOYS TOUR AND JUDGE

On Saturday, January 3rd, Kent's 4-H Calf Club members held their tour to homes of club boys and judging contest postponed from November 28th, because of the cold weather.

The tour started at Virginia Dulin's with four Jerseys. A class of Jerseys was judged. Two classes of contestants took part, older boys with judging experience and second, the younger members learning to judge. Twenty members participated. Stops were made at Rees', Hudson's, Carroll's and Sutton's to see the Calf Club calves and cows. Holsteins were judged at Earl Nicholson's Ayrshires at Wilbur Morris' and Guernseys at Romie Morris'. The prizes will be awarded at the Calf Club banquet next month. The tour and contest were inspiring and instructive. It means much to the members to see what and how the other members are attaining in the club work. Determination to do better at home is a natural outcome of such visits. Friendly competition is stimulated and good sportsmanship fostered. Stanley Sutton, Walter Morris, Wilbur Morris Albert Nicholson, Walter Rees and Herschel Carroll helped make the event a big success.

Farm Bureau's Annual Banquet

The Kent Coonty Farm Bureau held a most successful banquet Thursday evening in the High School Building in Chestertown. About 150 persons were present. Officers of the State Farm Bureau Federation attended the meeting and Dr. Thomas B. Symons, director of the University of Maryland Extension Service, was the principal speaker of the occasion.

Postmaster William G. Smith, former secretary-treasurer of the Kent Farm Bureau, acted as toastmaster. Reports were read by E. Thomas Massey, president of the Kent organization, and James D. Davis, secretary-treasurer of the body. It was stated that the total business for the year amounted to $241,000, an increase of $140,000.

James D. Davis, president of the State Farm Bureau Federation, was among the speakers of the evening.

Resolutions in honor of Melvin Stewart, retiring secretary-treasurer of the State Federation were presented by the Board of Directors of the Kent group and Mr. Stewart and his successor, Frank M. Payne, of Frederick county, were introduced.

County Agent J. D. McVean reported on his activities in the interest of the agricultural pursuits of Kent county for the past year.

The banquet was served by the ladies of Old St. Paul's Church.

Supplying Heat For Chestertown

Plans are under consideration for the establishment of a central heating plant in Chestertown thru which anyone desiring map buy heat just as they buy gas or electricity. It is claimed that more than 200 homes, offices or shops can be supplied with steam heat at a reasonable price from a central plant.

The parties who are investigating this wonderful invention are able in every way to promote the undertaking and will do so if it is found to be feasible. It will mean a great saving to many and profitable to the company who undertake it.

Appeal For Help

Howard Turner as Chairman of Red Cross in Kent County has received an appeal from the National Chapter for $1400 from Kent to help relieve the distress in 21 States. The effort is to raise ten million. Send checks to Allan A. Harris, treasurer; Mrs. F. W. Smith, secretary; Mrs. J. G. Beck, vice-chairman.

Included in the more than 30 occupants of the Kent county jail is Herman G. Gosnell, alias Harry Scott and better known as "Scotty," well known here. Gosnell, who formerly lived in the county, was arrested last Saturday in Galena on a charge of being drunk and disorderly. A bench warrant had been out for him for some time. He is also wanted for alleged violation down the Shore.
