A SOUND PROGRAM

The American Farm Bureau Federation proposes that state legislatures take steps to extend road building operations this winter, pointing out that such a program will relieve unemployment, aid in bringing business back to normal and at the same time use public funds to the best advantage.

Strong arguments support this. Money can be obtained by states at the lowest rate of interest in years construction material can be purchased at prices far under normal; engineering and other technical talent is likewise available at a lower cost and there is a plentiful supply of labor. The time is ripe for unprecedented road building activity.

THE SHERIFF'S SALARY

Legislation designed to place the office of sheriff in Kent county on a salary basis is being agitated at the session of the General Assembly.

From an office little sought after in years past, the sherifalty has grown into the best political plum in the county and at recent primary elections there have been from four to half a dozen candidates seeking the nominations of their parties. Last September there were five Democratic candidates.

An investigation of the annual levy lists issued by the Board of County Commissioners, of Kent county, revealed that the sheriff has received in fees and other compensation as much at $6,000 annually in recent years. Ten years ago, however, the compensation never exceeded $3,000 a year.

The move to place the office on a salary basis was brought about by taxpayers who believe a reduction in the expense to the county of conducting the department may result the change. It is said that members of the Farm Bureau are sponsoring the Bill. It is a subject requiring thought and wisdom. Other counties are trying the salary method and it would be well to find out the result before attempting the change.

DAIRY ASSO'N MAKE REPORT

County Agent McVean announces the results of the first year's activities of the Kent County Dairy Improvement Association. The officers of this cooperative effort to improve the dairy herds belonging to the members are:

President, Walter L. Walbert.
V. President, Olin S. Davis.
Sec.-Treas, P. M. Brooks.

Directors, T. Ringgold Jones, Sam W. Caldwell and J. I. Rigby. A. H. Bikle was supervisor.

A ten page report, setting forth tabulations and comparisons, is about ready to go out to the members. The following are of interest and value. Six herds avereged over 300 pounds of fat per cow (the average U. S. cow produces 180 pounds) meeting the requirements of the National Dairy Association and are thus entitled to the Roll of Honor Certificate. These herd owners are as follows:

Olin S. Davis, Golt, average fat produced per cow, 348.97 pounds.

John Carvel Sutton, Kennedyville, average fat produced per cow, 324 pounds.

Charles Rausch, Townsend, Del., average fat produced per cow, 319 pounds.

Walter L. Walbert, Chestertown average fat produced per cow, 317.04 pounds.

Walter Moffett, Chestertown, average fat producer per cow, 315.98 pounds.

M. P. Edwards, Rock Hall, average fat produced per cow, 304.77 pounds.

These six herds and the following are the ten high fat producing herds in the association: T. Ringgold Jones, E. R. Pennington, J. I. Rigby and A. E. Nicholson.

The owners of the ten high milk producing cows are: Scott Rosin, of Golt; O. S. Davis, Golt; E. R. Pennington, Kennedyville; and Charles Rausch, Townsend, Del. The leading cow produced 16,317 pounds milk. The tenth cow produced 12,909 pounds. Fat production among these ten cows ranged from 345.0 up to 536 pounds.

Totaling the production of twenty herds and dividing by twenty, the average herd is as follows: 13 plus cows averages milk production 7228.-128 pounds milk and 264.837 pounds fat. However, not all cows are good. The average cow (based on cow years) means produced 5435.54 lbs. of milk containing 197.63 of butter fat which, while above the U. S. average, is below the average of all Dairy Herd Improvement Association cows. Some cows were well fed—This indicates some poor cows in the some poorly fed. Feed supplies and pastures were short. Low price for surplus milk was not conducive to full feeding nor to striving for high production. Nevertheless, the good cow well fed. is the profitable and economical producer of milk and butter fat.

A meeting of the members of the association will be called soon to analyze the results. The work is very valuable. The Dairy Herd Improvement Association is well called "The Key to Dairy Progress."
