Single Amshouse On Shore Favored

The creation of an Eastern Shore almshouse, to be located in one of the nine counties, to replace the present county almshouse system for the care of the poor and indigent is favored in the report of the special Shore Commission appointed by Governor Ritchie to study the Shore almshouse needs.

In its report the commission, of which W. Hopper Gibson, of Centreville, is chairman, recommended that the proposed institution should be built and maintained by the State, the counties paying on a per capita basis for each inmate, the method used in the Eastern Shore State Hospital at Cambridge.

The commission's report stated that such an institution should be built to accommodate not less than 200 inmates—100 white and 100 Negro persons.

The commission also urges that the proposed institution be constructed according to the plans prepared by Henry P. Hopkins, who estimated the total cost at $405,000.

The buildings needed according to the architect's plans would be:

Two cottages for male and female white people, providing quarters for 100, to cost $110,000; two cotages for male and female colored people, providing quarters for 100, to cost $110,000; an administration building to house the superintendent and the necessary quarters for attendants, dining rooms and kitchen, to cost $105,000; a power house containing laundry facilities for the entire institution, to cost $80,000.

These estimates include the entire institution complete with heating, plumbing, electric wiring, electric fixtures and kitchen and laundry equipment ready for occupancy. It does not, however, include furniture and other home equipment.

Concluding his report, Architect Hopkins states:

"Inasmuch as the main building of the almshouse in Queen Anne's county is a fine Colonial structure and in excellent condition, this could be used as the administration building of a group to house the superintendent, attendants and administrative offices.

"If the almshouse were located at this point it would save at a minimum $50,000 by taking advantage of this." At the same time the Eastern Shore Commission was appointed a similar commission was named for the Western Shore.

DEATHS

Burnham H. Eshman, 43, was found dead in bed at the Voshell House here about 11 P. M. on Tuesday night. Mr. Eshman, who had been ill for several weeks, apparently succumbed while trying to light a cigarette, which was between his lips when he was found. A box of cigarettes in one hand and a box of matches in the other further substantiated such a belief.

He is survived by his widow, who before her marriage was Miss Helen Woodall, and who for some months had been living with her parents in Elkton. Others who survive are his brothers, Charles E. and Barclay Eshman and his sisters, Miss Madeline Eshman, of Baltimore; Mrs. Dorothy Hancock, of Baltimore, and Mrs. Wade H. Atkinson, of Washington, D. C.

He was the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Eshman, both of whom died in the Voshell House here. Following the death of his father he assisted his mother in the management of the hotel until her death several years ago. After her death he managed the hotel for sometime for the Eshman heirs and when last summer the hostelry was rented he took charge of a hotel in Virginia. He returned to Chestertown several weeks ago and prior to his recent illness had been employed as a clerk at the Voshell House.

Mrs. Eshman came here from Elkton and took charge of the body. The funeral was held yesterday in Christ M. P. Church, Rev. E. A. Sexsmith officiating; C. L. Dodd, undertaker; interment was in Chester Cemetery.

The bearers were J. G. Usilton, R. Moffett. Herbert Ward, Vernon Barnett, Burgess Schreiber, W. U. Lusby.

Mrs. Carrie A. Ways, 58, widow of the late George H. Ways, of Findlay, Ohio, died suddenly Monday morning at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Leonard C. Needles, here. Taken ill in Baltimore last week Mrs. Ways came to the home of her daughter here to recuperate. Her death was sudden. She is survived by her daughter, her father, two brothers and a sister. With the exception of Mrs. Needles they all reside in Ohio.

Funeral services were conducted by the Rev. J. Harry Wright on Thursday at 2.30 P. M., interment in Chester Cemetery; R. Ellis Clark, undertaker.

Mrs. Elizabeth Jane Schoon, 75, died Tuesday at Rock Hall. She is survived by her husband, George A. Schoon, two step-children, Mrs. Lillian M. Connors and Geo. A. Schoon, Jr., and five children by a former marriage, Andrew Jackson, Alexander Jackson, Jefferson Jackson, Jeremiah Jackson and Mrs. Laura Morgan.

Funeral services were held from the Rock Hall M. E. Church, Thursday at 2 P. M., services conducted by W. S. Grant; C. L. Dodd was the undertaker; interment in Wesley Chapel Cemetery.

Suits - O'Coats - Shirts - Underwear - Shoes

Everything -- GOES -- NOW!

Standing in ceremony never got a man very far in business. As much as we dislike the sensational----as much as we dislike to see this perfectly good sound stock slaughtered---it's the only thing to do and we're doing it.

To make men buy we have Suits at $5.00 up---to force dollars into our store we are forcing bargains at this community that are hard for the strongest minded to turn a deaf ear to.

The riot of buying that swept over this Sale last Saturday and all this week was proof that this store---it's merchandise and its reductions were right.

Men from Kent, Queen Anne and Cecil Co., were here. Men from every street in Chestertown came to look---and stayed to buy

This sale is genuine---there is no hechs about it. We are cutting prices closer than is usual for this kind of stock and the people are taking advantage of their opportunity

Lots of goods left--the stock was so heavy to start with that one day's or one week's selling wouldn't even scratch the surface. However, every day your chance for gain grows less---hundreds of bundles going out the door every hour.

You'll find action here you'll find bargains here and you'll find your friends here--Don't wait outside and wonder--Come in and look around--don't buy unless you see what you want at the price you want to pay.

Here are a few of the opportunities that are knocking our sale records sky high.
