The bather sometimes finds the sand soft and yielding to his feet. It does not trouble him and he goes on until presently he sinks to his knees and discovers to his horror that he has to fight for his life in a quicksand.

Disease is much like the quicksand. The first symptoms of stomach trouble do not cause anxiety. But when the body grows weak through lack of nourishment and disease of the stomach breeds disease of heart, lungs, liver or kidneys, the sufferer realizes his danger and seeks for medicinal aid.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures diseases of the stomach and other organs of digestion and nutrition. It cures diseases of heart, lungs, liver, kidneys, etc., when these diseases have their origin in disease of the stomach and its allied organs.

Thomas A. Swarts, of Sub-Station C., Columbus, Ohio, Box 103, writes: "I was taken with severe headache, then cramps in the stomach, and my food would not digest, then kidney and liver trouble, and my back got weak so I could scarcely get around. At last I had all the complaints at once, and the more I doctored the worse I got until six years passed. I had become so poorly I could only walk in the house by the aid of a chair, and I got so thin I had given up to die. Then a neighbor said, 'Take Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery and make a new man out of yourself.' The first bottle helped me so I thought I would get another, and after I had taken eight bottles, in about six weeks. I was weighed and found I had gained twenty-seven (27) pounds. I have done more hard work in the past eleven months than I did in two years before, and I am as stout and healthy to-day, I think, as I ever was."

Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, in paper covers, is sent free on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to pay expense of mailing only. Address Dr. R. V. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y.

PSALM XC.

Thou, Lord, our dwelling place hast been,
In all the generations past,
Before the mountains had their birth,
Or earth by Thy command stood fast,
From everlasting Thou art God,
To everlasting our abode.

Thou turnest man to dust again;
"Return ye sons of men"—dost say.
A thousand years before Thee seem
Like yesterday, when passed away.
Or like a watch amid the night,
Unheeded in its silent flight.

Thou carriest them as with a flood;
They are a sleep, a dream of night;
Or like the grass that flourisheth
And groweth up in morning light.
At evening, by the hand of death
It is cut down and withereth.

For in Thine anger we're consumed;
We're troubled when Thy wrath doth rise;
Before Thee Thou our sins hast set,
Our secret sins before Thine eyes,
For in Thy wrath our days we spend;
Yea, like a sigh our years we end.

Our days are threescore years and ten;
Or if by strength fourscore are they,
Yet is their pride but toil and grief;
For soon it's gone; we fly away.
Who knows the power Thine anger hath?
As is Thy fear, so is Thy wrath.

So teach Thou us to number well
The days that still for us remain,
That we, discerning them aright,
May now a heart of wisdom gain.
Return, O Lord; how long afar?
Repent Thee; we Thy servants are.

O satisfy us with Thy grace,
Thy mercy in the morning show;
That we through all remaining days
May gladness and rejoicing know.
As days were evil, years were sad,
Now let Thy mercy make us glad.

Thy saving work Thy servants show;
Thy glory on their children pour;
The favor of the Lord our God
Be on us now and evermore.
Make Thou the work within our hand
To prosper, and established stand.

—Rev. Edward A. Collier, in United Presbyterian.

THE BARBER POLE.

In your issue of March 2 you explained the barbers' colors—red and white. With reference to the blue stripe sometimes seen I have been told by an old-timer that during the Civil War, when feeling was very intence and often went to absurd lingths, the red and white striped pole was often looked upon as an emblem of disloyalty and actually brought trouble on many barbers, the color of the Confederacy being red and white. The barbers therefore added a blue stripe very generally, thus converting the Confederate colors into the Union colors. Of course, all such feeling has long since died out and there has been a pretty general return to the old and proper colors, red and white, though red, white and blue poles are still seen.

Let me remind you that red, white and blue are the British colors as well as the French and American. The old song, "Hurrah for the Red, White and Blue," was originally an English song in honor of the colors of the British Union flag; at least so I am informed.—N. Y. Sun Reader.

Royal Connections.

The wife of the King of England is the daughter of the King of Denmark.

The Emperor of Germany is the nephew of the King of England.

The wife of the Czar of Russia is the niece of the King of England.

Saying nothing of the many other royal decendants of the late Empress Victoria and relatives of the King of England, we have the thrones of Great Britain, Germany and Russia very closely connected, and if a question should come up between us and either of them in regard to our holding control over all Central and South America under our "Monroe Doctrine," we may find these three great world powers more closely connected than we have been accustomed to imagine. They have, neither of them, any particular sympathy with our republican notions, and they have large armies and navies.

His Gift.

[From the Chicago Record-Herald.]

He gave her on her birthday—
Because he loved the maid—
A costly paper cutter

With precious stones inlaid.
She took it and she thanked him,
He saves to pay the bill;
she opens all her letters
With the handy hairpin still.

A Recent Scene in Court.

"Please tell the Court what you did between eight and nine o'clock on that morning."

"I gave the two children their breakfast, dressed them for school, made up their lunches, washed the dishes, made the beds, sorted the soiled linen and put it in the tub, swept and dusted the parlor, sewed a button or two on the children's clothes, interviewed the gas man, grocer and butcher, put off the landlord, sat down to glance over the morning paper, and then"—

"That will do, madam."—From N. Y. Herald.

Good for Rheumatism.

Last fall I was taken with a very severe attack of muscular rheumatism which caused me great pain and annoyance. After trying several prescriptions and rheumatic cures, I decided to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm, which I had seen advertised in the South Jerseyman. After two applications of this Remedy I was much better, and after using one bottle, was completely cured.—SALLIE HARRIS, Salem, N. J. For sale by M. A. Toulson druggist, Chestertown Md.

HE FEARED HE HAD LOST

When Wu Ting Fang, the famous Chinese Minister to Washington, irritable and somewhat forgetful from a severe cold, missed one day from the front of his cap the immense diamond he always wears there, he was dreadfully frightened. A friend pointed out that the statesman had inadvertently donned his turban wrong side before, and that the diamond was safe in the rear. Had Wu Ting Fang been wearing a Benson's Porous Plaster on his chest or back to cure his cold, he never would have doubted its location. He would have felt it doing its work,—warming and making flexible the torpid muscles, extracting the pain and soreness, promoting the free circulation of the blood, stimulating the skin and lungs to proper action, and so dissolving and banishing the malady. Thus we perceive, beloved friends, that while a pretty thing to look upon, was of no practical use. But Benson's Plasters are supremely useful. They relieve and cure gout, rheumatism, neuralgia, colds on the chest, lame back, etc., so quickly and completely as to make you wonder how it can be. Better now,—well to-morrow; that's the way they work. Get the genuine. All druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 25c. each.

THE BIG DIAMOND ON HIS HAT
