LOCAL MATTERS.

Still Unknown.—Contractor Culp has finished the foundations for five of the six new depots to be erected along the line of the local railroad, but as yet has received no instruction as to where the new building at Chestertown will be placed. Two of the new stations are well under way.

Harvesting Their Wheat.—Mr. Thomas Hurlock, living in Queen Anne, near Chester bridge, commenced harvesting his wheat crop on wednesday afternoon. Mr. Hurlock's straw is moderately heavy, has a good head and promises a satisfactory yield. Mr. Stanford Dewberry, also of Queen Anne, commenced cutting wheat on Thursday afternoon.

Orphans' Court.—Messrs. Daniel M., Richard R., Thomas and Robert A. Cochran, of Middletown, Del., made application on Tuesday last for letters testamentary upon the estate of their father, the late Robert T. Cochran, deceased. They were accompanied by their counsel, Morton B. Burris, Esq. Mr. Cochran's estate includes three fine farms in this county.

Crabs Scarce.—Soft crabs are reported scarce at all points along Chester river. Mr. Harmon Taylor, of Quaker Neck, an authority upon crabs, says that thousands of crabs were killed by the cold during the past winter, causing the great scarcity of crabs this spring. He says that during the early spring the marshes down the river were strewn with crabs killed by the cold.

State Teachers' Association.—The Maryland State Teachers' Association will meet at Ocean City, Maryland, on June 30 and July 1 and 2. It is desired by Examiner Peterson that Kent county send a large and representative delegation to this State meeting of teachers. If those desiring to make this delightful trip will send their names to Mr. Peterson he will make all necessary arrangements relative to rates, hotels, etc.

Real Estate Offerings.—Tuesday next, June 17, will be an important and interesting occasion in the history of real estate sale in Kent county. The aggregate of next Tuesday's real estate offerings will be 1384 acres, all of it desirably located and of excellent quality. By reference to the TRANSCRIPT's advertising columns of this issue full descriptions of the valuable properties to be offered will be found.

Fine Crops.—Mr. H. P. Skipper, on the Primrose farm, opposite Chestertown, in Queen Anne, is said to have the finest field of corn in Queen Anne county. His wheat is among the finest in that fine section of our sister county. This is proof positive of what may be accomplished by intelligent cultivation and generous treatment, in producing crops. Mr. Skipper's field of clover is also as fine as can be found in the county.

The Reed Monuments.—The committee having in charge the raising of funds for the monument to mark the grave of General Philip Reed and to place a stone on the scene of the Battle of Caulk's Field, is completing the work of collecting the money. A special committee will meet at the office of Col. William M. Marine, in Baltimore, on Monday, to finally decide upon the style and cost of the memorials to be erected. The fund is somewhat short and a final appeal is made to the loyalty of the citizens of Kent to contribute to this worthy undertaking.

New Business Arrangement.—Mr. Hiram M. Brown, who for so long and so acceptably represented the old and widely-known grain exporting firm of I. M. Parr & Son, has perfected arrangements with Gill & Fisher, of Baltimore, to represent them in Kent county in the grain business. Both parties to this business arrangement, as well as the farmers of Kent and Queen Anne counties, are to be congratulated. Gill & Fisher stand in the forefront of grain importers in this country, and Mr. Brown has for years been identified with grain buying in this section of the State and is well and most favorably known in every department of the business.

Mr. Massey's Prizes.—One of the surprises of the present racing season is Marveline, a five-year-old mare which has suddenly sprung into prominence by capturing first money in the 2.40 class trotting, at Electric Park, last week, winning in three straight heats; time 2.24¼, 2.22¾ and 2.25. This week she started again in the 2.35 class, trotting at Gentleman's Driving Park, winning in three straight; time 2.24¼, 2.21¼ and 2 21½. Marveline is by Marvelous, 2.23, dam Myrtle King by Myrtleton, son of Red Wilkes, grand dam by Mambrino King. Mr. C. H. B. Massey is the proud possessor of the dam of Marveline, and a has two-year-old sister and a three-year-old sister. Last year Mr. Massey sold to Mr. George Brice a yearling brother to this splendid mare. The most promising feature is that Myrtle King, the dam of Marveline, is only ten years old, and this is the first and only colt ever trained. Mr. Massey has prizes in these youngsters. Myrtle King now has a week old colt by her side, by Happy J, son of Happy Partner.

Alms House Report.—Mr. M. A. Toulson, president of board of Kent county Alms House trustees, made his official report to the county commissioners on Tuesday. The cost of maintaining the institution for the year was $4,078 48. After deducting the receipts of the farm from this amount, $3,185.99 was left to be paid by the county. The income from the farm was $892.49. The number of inmates averaged 34 for the year. The report states that all of the inmates are feeble and unable to care for themselves, only one being under 60 years of age. There were ten deaths at the home during the past year.

A Freak of a Hen.—Mrs. Cecil R. Atkinson owns a freak in the form of a hen. This feathered creature for two years past has insisted upon building her nest, depositing her eggs and hatching her chicks in the crutch of a tree, 20 feet from the ground. This year she hatched 9 chicks from 11 eggs, and last year had a brood of 14 chickens. However remarkable it may appear, all of the chicks at the proper timed rolled from their nest to the ground without any injury whatever. Mr. Richard Wallis tells of a Kent Island goose which laid, set and hatched a brood of goslins on a floating nest in a 30-foot deep well.

Resignation Withdrawn.—Judge Joseph A. Wickes, after twenty-nine years faithful service as president of the Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College, sent in his resignation last week. At a meeting of the board this week resolutions of confidence and esteem were passed, coupled with an earnest request that the resignation be withdrawn. Notwithstanding the labor and inconvenience incident to the presidency or official head of the college, Judge Wickes on Thursday notified his associates in the board that he would accede to their request and withdraw his resignation. He has presided over the Board of Visitors and Governors of the college since 1873.

A Monster Egg.—Dr. D. Genese, an old subscriber and friend of the TRANSCRIPT, sends the following: "Dear Mr. Editor, I have read with much interest in your paper the various accounts of 'egg laying' so I send you the enclosed which came across the Atlantic—'A remarkable double egg is in the possession of Mr. A. Hitchcock, of Messrs. Geering and Sons, Ongar. It was laid by a hen on the farm of Mr. J. Kennedy, of Standon, and at once attracted attention by its unusual size. Of perfect shape, it weighed five and a half ounces, was nine inches long and eight inches in diameter. On being carefully opened at one end the egg was found to contain not only a very large yolk but another perfect egg weighing one and a-half ounces. The smaller egg also contained a perfect yolk."

The Sprinkler.—The citizens of Chestertown are deeply interested in the sprinkler question for Chestertown. Col. W. J. Vannort, who has the matter in charge, says that a hot air engine and tank have been ordered for the increased water supply. The engine will be able to force 800 gallons of water into the tank each hour, and the tank will have a capacity of over 3000 gallons. The delay in getting the new plant installed is the impossibility to secure the engine, so great is the demand for this style of engine. The tank, which will come from Florida, has also been slow in arriving. The foundations will all be in readiness and just as soon as the engine and tank arrive they will be put in place. In the meantime an effort will be made to start the sprinkler with the water from the ice plant, which up to this time has not been equal to supplying the demands of the dust-covered streets.

MILLINGTON MATTERS.

Miss Ollie, daughter of Mrs. Helen Rose, and Mr. Frank Carlisle, of Marydel, were married on Wednesday at the home of the bride's mother, on Cypress street, by Rev. I. Ryder, of Chesterville.

GRAIN MARKET FURNISHED

BY STEVENS BROTHERS,

226 South Charles Street, Baltimore, Md.,

GRAIN AND FRUIT

Commission Merchants, Members Chamber of Commerce.

THURSDAY'S QUOTATIONS.

WHEAT—There was an entire absence of receipts of southern wheat today, in consequence of which the market ruled inactive and purely nominal, though in sympathy with Western the tone might be called steady. Quote graded No, 2 red at the close nominally at 81½ cents, AFLOAT.

CORN—The actual offerings of southern corn on the floor today were light and confined exclusively to white, a few sample lots of which sold on private terms. Quote prime white afloat at 67½ @68. A round lot of yellow, to arrive, sold at 66¾ cents, on grade. Market steady, with a more or less constant demand for prime corn of both colors. COB CORN is slow sale by the carload—the purchases of this article now being mostly of a limited, jobbing character. Offerings ample. Quote carloads prime yellow on spot at $3.25@3 30 per bbl.
