Shirtwaists Don't Go.

One matter of importance for Salisbury was settled on Monday, and that is that shirtwaists for men don't go here where polite society requires a coat. It is all right for a man to shed his coat at home or on the street; then no person may be criticized but himself. But if he attempts to eat in a public dining room in his shirt sleeves he will be gently but firmly called down. Salisbury is too conservative. It is not a shirtwaist town.

The incident that decided this important matter occurred at the Peninsula Hotel. A number of travelers came to the dinner table without their coats on the day specified, the thermometer standing near the hundred mark and any clothes at all being almost unbearable. They were politely requested by the proprietor to properly clothe themselves as there were ladies present. All complied but one. He defiantly refused.

The proprietor gathered him up by the nape of his neck and he wended his way sorrowfully but quickly, very quickly, out of the opened door.

We are proud of such an incident and such a reputation. We ought to be. Men grow careless. Complaint is reiterated that the old-time chivalry is dying out. Women are pushed aside and our forefathers would be horrified at the lack of courtesy. Let this occurrence teach all of us a lesson; and let it go forth that it is indicative of the townspeople in all things; that we mean to preserve our aforetime attitude of courtesy, respect and reverence.—Salisbury Advertiser.

To Measure Corn in Crib.

Two cubic feet of sound, dry corn in the ear will make a bushel of shelled corn. To get quantity of shelled corn in a crib of corn in the ear, measure length, breadth and height of corn crib inside the rail; multiply first by second and product by third; divide result by two—giving bushels of shelled corn. Corn shrinks much in winter and spring and settles down.

To Measure Hay in the Mow.

Multiply feet in height by feet in width,and that product by feet in length. Divide by 512, and the answer will be in tons or parts of tons. Some allowance should be made for the condition of hay. The above is for dry, compact, but not pressed hay. This may be relied on as an approximate mode.

TABLE MANNERS.

In silence I must take my seat,
And give God thanks before I eat:
Must for my food in patience wait,
Till I am asked to hand my plate.
I must not scold nor whine nor pout,
Nor move my chair or plate about;
With knife or fork or napkin ring
I must not play, nor must I sing;
I must not speak a useless word,
For children must be seen, not heard.
I must not talk about my food,
Nor fret if I don't think it good.
My mouth with food I must not crowd,
Nor while I'm eating speak aloud.
Must turn my head to cough or sneeze,
And when I ask, say "if you please,"
The tablecloth I must not spoil,
Nor with my food my fingers soil:
Must keep my seat when I have done,
Nor round the table sport or run.
When told to rise, then I must put
My chair away with quiet foot,
And lift my heart to God above
In praise for all his wondrous love.

THE MAN WHO DID.

All doctors in my town failed to relieve me of rheumatism. I have used about half a bottle of Nelaton and feel so much improved, that while I may not need it, I enclose P. O. order for $1 for one more bottle of the remedy that has been such a God-send to me. I cheerfully recommend Nelaton to anyone suffering with rheumatism.
