THE PRISONER

Who escapes from jail is by no means free. He is under the ban of the law and punishment is written over against his name. Soon or late he will be caught again and bear added punishment for his short escape from his cell. Those who by the use of palliative powders and tablets escape for a time from the sufferings of dyspepsia are in the same condition as the escaped prisoner. Soon or late they will go back to the old condition and pay an added penalty for temporary release.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures dyspepsia and other diseases of the stomach and organs of digestion and nutrition. Its cures are lasting.

"For about two years I suffered from a very obstinate case of dyspepsia," writes R. E. Secord, Esq., of 13 Eastern Ave., Toronto, Ontario. "I tried a great number of remedies without success. I finally lost faith in them all. I was so far gone that I could not bear any solid food on my stomach for a long time; felt melancholy and depressed. Could not sleep or follow my occupation (tinmith). Some four months ago a friend recommended your 'Golden Medical Discovery.' After a week's treatment I had derived so much benefit that I continued the medicine. I have taken three bottles and am convinced it has in my case accomplished a permanent cure. I can conscientiously recommend it to the thousands of dyspeptics throughout the land."

Accept no substitute for "Golden Medical Discovery." There is nothing "just as good" for diseases of the stomach, blood and lungs.

AS IT HAPPENS.

Men are like the leaves that fall:
Some strike on rough spots hard and bare
And some float gently down where all
Is green, as if with tender care
Some kindly hand had deftly planned
Soft little places for them there,
And oft the ones that fall upon
The places that are soft and green
Go tumbling from the verdant lawn
While others from where all was mean,
Through trying ways, when many days
Are ended, reach the pleasant scene.

Some go with all the winds that blow,
By every passing zephyr caught,
And where the fields and vales dip low
These castaways at last are brought.
While many lie through wet and dry
Where first they chanced to fall and rot.
—S. E. Kiser, in Chicago Record Herald.

The Dutchman's Boy.

Perhaps a number of readers have seen the following story before, but it is good enough to bear retelling.
An old Dutchman had a beautiful boy of whom he was very proud, and he decided to find out the bent of his mind. He adopted a very novel method to test him. He slipped into the little fellow's room one morning and placed on his table a Bible and a bottle of whiskey and a silver dollar. "Now," said he "you dot boy comes in, if he dake dot one dollar he's going to be a beczins man; if he dake dot Bible he be a preacher, and if he dake dot whiskey he's going to be a drunkard," and he hid behind the door to see which his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He ran up to the table and picked up the dollar and put it in his pocket; he picked up the Bible, and put it under his arm, then he snatched up the bottle of whiskey and took two or three drinks and went out smacking his lips.

The old Dutchman poked his head out of the door and exclaimed, "Mine God! he goin' to be a politician!" —Ez

Getting the Worst.

A boy came to the door of a lady's house and asked if she did not wish some berries, for he had been out all day gathering them.
"Yes," said the lady, "I will take them." So she took the basket and stepped into the house, the boy remained outside, whistling to some canary birds hanging in their cages on the porch.
"Why don't you come in and see that I measure your berries right?" said the lady; "how do you know but that I may cheat you?"
"I am not afraid," said the boy, "for you would get the worst of it."
"Get the worst of it?" said the lady.
"What do you mean by that?"
"Why ma'am," said the boy, "I should only lose my berries, and you would make yourself a thief, don't you think that would be getting the worst of it?"
The boy was right. He who steals or does anything wrong or mean just to gain a few pence or a few shillings, burdens himself with a sin which is worse than all the gain. Let this be borne in mind; the one who does a wrong to another always gets the worst of it. —Brethren's Evangelist.

The Deacon and the New Organ.

The old proverb, "Whatever is worth doing at all, is worth doing well," was put in new form by a New England deacon of whom The Youth's Companion tells.

For a long time he held out against the innovation of an organ, but when he finally yielded, did so without reserve. From violent opposition, he became the most strenuous of all the congregation as to the fitness of the instrument to be purchased.

"Seems to me you aren't very consistent," said one economical brother, reproachfully. "Here a month ago you couldn't speak harshly enough about organs, and now you go to advocating extra expense in getting the best that's to be had."

"See here," said the deacon, grimly, "if we're going to worship the Lord by machinery I don't want to putter round with any second-rate running gear!"

Opportunity.

Master of human destinies am I!
Fame, love and fortune on my footsteps wait
Deserts and fields I walk; I penetrate
Hovel and mart and palace, soon or late
I knock unbidden once at every gate!
If sleeping, wake—if feasting, rise before
I turn away. It is the hour of fate,
And they who follow me reach every state
Mortals desire, and conquer every foe
Save death; but those who doubt or hesitate
Condemned to failure, penury and woe,
Seek me in vain and uselessly implore,
I answer not and I return no more.
—John J. Ingalls.

History.

Hannibal had been trying in vain to draw out Fabius to battle.
"Is there no way," he exclaimed angrily, "of making the man fight?"
"You might try asking him to arbitrate," suggested one of his generals.
Soon after Cannæ was fought and the Roman forces destroyed. —Judge.

HE FEARED HE HAD LOST

When Wu Ting Fang, the famous Chinese Minister to Washington, irritable and somewhat forgetful from a severe cold, missed one day from the front of his cap the immense diamond he always wears there, he was dreadfully frightened. A friend pointed out that the statesman had inadvertently donned his turban wrong side before, and that the diamond was safe in the rear. Had Wu Ting Fang been wearing a Benson's Porous Plaster on his chest or back to cure his cold, he never would have doubted its location. He would have felt it doing its work,—warming and making flexible the torpid muscles, extracting the pain and soreness, promoting the free circulation of the blood, stimulating the skin and lungs to proper action, and so dissolving and banishing the malady. Thus we perceive, beloved friends, that while a pretty thing to look upon, was of no practical use. But Benson's Plasters are supremely useful. They relieve and cure gout, rheumatism, neuralgia, colds on the chest, lame back, etc., so quickly and completely as to make you wonder how it can be. Better now,—well to-morrow; that's the way they work. Get the genuine. All druggists, or we will prepay postage on any number ordered in the United States on receipt of 25c. each.

THE BIG DIAMOND ON HIS HAT
