

The Transcript.

SUBSCRIPTION $1.00 PER YEAR.

TUESDAY, NOVEMBER 1, 1902.

MR. ELLEGOOD SAYS: "I WOULD NOT BE CONGRESSMAN AT THE EXPENSE OF DEBAUCHING AMERICAN MANHOOD."

MR. JACKSON SAYS: "I WILL BUY MY WAY INTO CONGRESS—TO THE WINDS WITH A PURE BALLOT AND GOOD CITIZENSHIP."

THE VOTER at next Tuesday's election should not fail to remember that the cross (X) mark on the ballot must be entirely within the square, and must not extend beyond the square. This is in harmony with a recent Court of Appeals decision. The voter by exercising care in this matter, not only secures beyond all question the counting of his ballot, but will greatly lessen the work of the election officials and shorten the delay in making returns. This is a matter of vital interest to the voter in the approaching election and should be borne in mind.

LOCAL MATTERS.

Same Old Story.—The Wilmington School, one of the most up-to-date educational institutions in the country, writes to the TRANSCRIPT as follows:

"We are pleased to say that we are feeling the effects of our newspaper advertising this year."

Public School Appointment.—Miss Anna Matthews has been appointed to school number 1, district No. 1, to succeed Miss Matie G. Hazell, resigned. Miss Dora M. Loller, teacher of the public school near Kennedyville, has resigned her position, the resignation to take effect December 1.

Football Today.—The Washington College football team will meet the strong team of the Maryland Agricultural College, on the W. C. diamond, this afternoon at 3 o'clock. The home boys declare that they "will keep the gridiron warm," and ask for a good attendance. This will be the last game of the season on the home grounds.

Has Not Sold Out.—The report that Mr. Medford M. Rasin had sold his interest in the sailing vessels plying from Buck Neck and other points on the bay is totally without foundation. Mr. Rasin says that he would sell his stock however, at $150 (par $100). The Tull, the gasoline steamer which is now being put in thorough repair at Buck Neck for the new freight company, will soon be ready for active service.

Mr. Ellegood says: "I would not be congressman at the expense of debauching American manhood."

Mr. Jackson says: "I will BUY my way into Congress—to the winds with a pure ballot and good citizenship."

CHURCH NOTES.

Today is All Saint's Day—a festival observed from the earliest days of the church, in honor and commemoration of the Apostles, Martyrs and other eminent saints of God. In the 9th century, the day following All Saint's day, was universally observed throughout the church as All Soul's day, the intention being that on this day special prayers and alms should be offered for all those who have departed this life but could not be classed among the Saints or holy dead.

In Emmanuel Church to-morrow morning the rector will preach a special sermon dealing with the teaching and comforting thoughts suggested by these two days to all christian people.

Kennedyville M. P. Church, Rev. R. S. Rowe, pastor, subjects for Sunday, November 2, 10.30 A. M., "Make your own Election Sure. Have no uncertainty about that!" 7 P. M., "Is your name on Heaven's Registration Book? Is it written in the Lamb's Book of Life?"

The painting and other repairs to Christ Church, I. U. Parish, not having been completed, there will be no services there to-morrow, Sunday.

"Covering Sin" will be the subject at Grace Presbyterian Church tomorrow at 3 P. M. and at Westminster Church at 10.30 A. M.

There will be a series of lectures given by the Passionist Non-Catholic Missionary, the Rev. F. Valentine, in Sacred Heart Church, as follows:

Mr. Ellegood Answered.

Congressman Jackson Says he Has no Confidence in Democratic Leaders.

Congressman William H. Jackson, Republican, has sent his reply to the proposal of Hon. James E. Ellegood for the suppression of bribery in elections. He says he has confidence in the personal sincerity of Mr. Ellegood in this matter. He also says he is in sympathy with him and with all others who desire such a reform. But he distrusts the democratic party managers, and in conclusion suggests that if the leaders of the party would unite upon an agreement to do all in their power to prevent bribery in the future he feels assured the Republican party will be found uniting with Mr. Ellegood earnestly and sincerely. The reply is as follows:

"Hon. James E. Ellegood, Democratic Candidate for Congress, Salisbury, Md.:
"Dear Sir—I beg to acknowledge the receipt of your communication and desire to express myself as being in hearty sympathy with you and all others who are interested in the suppression of bribery at elections in this State.

"While I may have faith in your personal sincerity in this matter, I know that I am rather dealing with a party whose record for the last 35 years in this State has been one of bribery and corruption. Whatever of evil there is in this State along these lines is due to the Democratic party, whose every legislative act up to the present time has been against every effort to purify the ballot.

"When the Anti-Bribery law was passed by your party it provided for the punishment of both buyer and seller, which you, as a lawyer know, practically makes the law a nullity. An effort in 1896 to amend this law so as to be effective was passed by a Republican House, but was smothered by a Democratic Senate.

"Those leaders of your party in this district upon whom you will depend for election results are the same who have been leaders not only in violating the Anti-Bribery law, but still further preventing our efforts for pure elections by aiding in abetting the use of fraudulent and trick ballots, the foundation for the use of which was deliberately planned for by your leaders in the calling of a special session of the Legislature and the passing of an election law which made these infamous frauds possible.

"During last winter's session of the Legislature your party leaders defeated the 'Corrupt Practices' bill, which had for its purpose the suppression of bribery and all other offenses against the purity of the ballot.

"The Democratic convention of Ocean City, which made you its candidate for Congress, passed through its platform the present State administration, and by so doing placed its seal of approval upon all its acts; and does this not mean that your party approved of the trick ballots and the other nefarious schemes engineered by Democratic officials in the year 1901?

"If your party in the district is sincere in its efforts to prevent bribery in a Congressional election, it should be equally sincere in its efforts to prevent bribery in all elections in years to come.

"Let there be a gathering of your party leaders from all the counties of the district large enough in numbers to be thoroughly representative in its character, and unite upon an agreement to do all in their power to prevent bribery in the future.

"I feel assured my party will be found uniting with you as honestly and sincerely as your representatives could possibly be.

"If your party will not do this I cannot be expected to have confidence in the statements of those who would pose as anti briber today and at the same time planning bribery for tomorrow."

Oct. 11

Mr. Ellegood's Reply to Mr. Jackson.

Mr. Ellegood made the following reply to Mr. Jackson's bluff:

"First—That as a matter of personal honor, we give in an open letter what amount each has agreed to and will give, for legitimate purposes only, in this campaign, conceding to you the privilege of contributing three or even four times as much as I have or will give; or in lieu of this

"I—that we make a 'corrupt practice' act of our own, by making a sworn itemized statement of the expenses during the campaign and for election purposes; this report to be made to the joint campaign committees of our respective parties. This is based on your criticism of the Democratic party's failure to pass such an act.

"I bid you say you are in hearty sympathy with you [me] and all others who are interested in the suppression of bribery." Now, since you decline a "bi-partisan" organization, let us unite in a joint letter to the citizens of each of the counties, requesting all who are interested in this suppression to assemble in their respective county towns on some day not later than the 18th inst. and take steps for this purpose. This, you see, is a direct appeal to the people (and you will surely trust them) and acquits us of blame."

In connection with this proposition Mr. Ellegood wrote a somewhat lengthy letter to Mr. Jackson. Concerning the above proposition Mr. Ellegood adds:

"This proposition may excite the ridicule of all the 'laid fellows of the baser sort' in your party, who sneer at the 'Sun-layschool politics,' but it is much better for the people than corrupt politics and safer for the fellow that may be caught. At any rate, a strong man can bear the spurs that patent merit of the unworthy takes."

"You admit in your letter that there is a very corrupt condition in this district, and we both must admit that this is no time for apologists or promoters of further corruption. Indeed, I think the 'suppression of bribery' is the controlling issue in this district and superior to trusts, tariff or any other of the party issues, and that an honorable defeat is preferable to an election by corrupt methods."
