LOCAL MATTERS.

Splendid Results.—The financial results of the Dorcas Society's entertainment last week were surprisingly large. The total net profits were $451. The ladies are not yet through receiving congratulations.

First Corn Shipment.—The first shipment of corn made from Chestertown this fall, was by Mr. Henry Stewart, of Queen Anne, on Wednesday. The first shipped out of Chester river on the Corisca went from Rolph's wharf on Saturday.

To Commence Work.—A communication from the York Bridge Company to the board of County Commissioners this week, stated that the material for Chester bridge had been shipped, that the lumber had been shipped and that they expected to commence work on the new draw next week.

Sweet Potato Pumpkins.—Mr. John Lockwood presented the TRANSCRIPT's editors with two fine specimens of the sweet potato pumpkin. These pumpkins are very similar in shape and color to the long sweet potato, and make delicious custards. Mr. Lockwood's pumpkins are an interesting contribution to the season's novelties.

Kicked by a Colt.—Mr. Jas. T. Ireland was painfully kicked by a colt several days ago and is compelled to walk with a cane. The animal was sick, and after having doctored it, Mr. Ireland touched it with his hand and received a kick which came near seriously injuring his knee-cap. He is now better, and says he will be ready to move to Chestertown before Christmas.

Welsh Coal.—Dr. R. M. Price, of Centerville, on Sunday received a cargo of 79 tons of Welsh coal. The entire lot had been previously sold to the Queen Anne county board of school commissioners at $15 per ton. It was later found that the coal had not been as expensive as at first expected and the price was made $12.75. The coal is declared to be of excellent quality and very satisfactory.

Fatal Results.—Four-year-old Benny Durning, who was burned while at play near his home in Rock Hall, last week, died as a result of his injuries on Friday evening. The little fellow suffered agonies before death came to his relief. Little Preston Joiner who was also burned in the fatal organ case, is somewhat better and his recovery is expected. He was able to see out of one eye on Tuesday and was resting somewhat more comfortably.

Improved Mail and Passenger Schedule.—Commencing on Monday next Chestertown will be given a decidedly improved passenger and mail schedule. There will be no changes made in the character of the trains, but the schedule will be so changed as to greatly improve the present hours of departure and arrival of trains. The morning train will leave Chestertown at 7:18 and returning, arrive at 11:17. The afternoon train will leave at 2:35 and arrive at 6:27.

Looking For Thieves.—Officer Hudson on Sunday night received a telephone message asking him to look out for a thief or thieves who had robbed the Townsend post office. Goods valued at $200 were stolen and the post office safe was blown open and robbed of valuable papers. This work completed, the stable of Isaac Staats was broken into and a horse and buggy stolen. It was thought that the robbers were making their way to Chestertown on Sunday night with a view to taking the Chester river steamer the following morning. A close lookout was kept but no suspicious parties put in an appearance.

Short Poultry Supply.—The Thanksgiving poultry supply in Chestertown was the shortest in many years. A prominent merchant in commenting on the subject, says that there is an abundance of all kinds of poultry but the farmers' wives are holding it. A warm fall is always against a good poultry market. In the first place, in warm weather turkeys and other poultry feed largely on grass and food less productive of fat, and in cold weather grain, which is more fattening, is the principal food. Poultry was not, as a rule, in good condition and was not put on the market.

Location For Cotton Mill.—Mr. E. B. Gambrell, superintendent of the Unicorn Cotton Mills, Millington, who has been in correspondence with business men here with the view of establishing a cotton mill at this place, was in town Monday evening. He stated that as yet he had no definite answer to make regarding the project. He inspected the shirt factory of Dr. H. N. Rickards and stated that with an additional length of 65 or 70 feet with some few changes the building could be utilized for the purpose. Mr. Gambrell stated that he will notify those interested in a short time of his decision in the matter. He expressed himself as much pleased with the town and its people whom it had been his pleasure to meet.—Caroline (Ridgely) Sun.

A Real Thanksgiving.—The more than three hundred Chestertown school children and their parents, had more than usual reason for thanksgiving on Thursday. The desks, seats and other furniture for the handsome new public school building arrived on Wednesday evening and Thanksgiving day was spent in putting the furniture in place. It is now expected that the old barracks which have for so long been a disgrace to the town, will be abandoned and the public schools will be moved into their new quarters on Monday next. Chestertown now has one of the handsomest school buildings on the Eastern Shore.

His Leg Broken.—Mr. Rumsey Anthony, son of Mr. James T. Anthony, met with a serious accident on Wednesday. Mr. Anthony, assisted by a colored farm hand, was putting a rubberoid roof on his father's cow shed, when a narrow strip or support gave way, precipitating both men to the ground, a distance of twenty-five feet. Both bones in one of Mr. Anthony's legs were broken between the knee and ankle. One of the bones came so near protruding through the flesh that a painful sore was made. The colored man was badly shaken up but was not seriously injured. Mr. Anthony was resting comfortably yesterday and was doing as well as could be expected.

Dr. Kelley's Escape.—Dr. J. Horton Kelley was rendered unconscious by escaping coal gas on Sunday evening and narrowly escaped fatal results. The doctor and Mrs. Kelley spent the early hours of the evening reading in the office of their Kennedyville home. Mrs. Kelley noticed gas escaping from the stove and mentioned the fact to her husband. Later she went to her room up stairs and about ten o'clock returned to the office and found her husband in his chair in a semi-conscious condition. Dr. G. Irving Barwick, who lives next door, was at once summoned and soon succeeded in restoring his patient to consciousness. Dr. Kelley really made a very narrow escape from fatal asphyxiation but his many friends will be glad to learn that he has entirely recovered and is none the worse for his unpleasant experience.

DIED.

In loving memory of our Darling boy, G. G. Carey.

A loving one from us has gone,
A voice so loved is stilled;
A place is vacant in the home
Which never, no never can be filled.

As the clock struck seven on Sept. 7, 1902, when the angel swung the gates ajar and whispered, "Gode, come home," he only closed his eyes in sleep on earth to open them in heaven. He is peacefully sleeping beneath the earthly soil while the soul is resting in heaven. There was a glimmer of light came in the darkness when the gate shut after him. Oh, turn the key, sweet angel, the splendid, while he is peacefully sleeping in the arms of Jesus.

From a loving aunt,
MRS. MARY L. MANX.
