LOCAL MATTERS.

Work Begun—Work was begun on the Queen Anne National Bank at Centreville last week.

With the Painters.—The residences of Judge James A. Pearce and George Q. Quette have recently been treated to a coat of Carrara paint.

Eight-Hoofed Colt.—A curiosity in the shape of a colt can be seen on the farm of Mr. Herbert Brinsford, known as the Spry Place.

Town Election.—Mr. John W. Hiron was elected commissioner of Chestertown on Monday last to succeed Mr. Charles L. Dodd, whose term of office expired.

Big Roe Shad.—The table of Capt. William H. Hudson, of the Tolchester Company, was adorned at the mid-day meal on Saturday last with what he thinks is the largest roe shad he has seen.

Afternoon Tea.—Mrs. Wakeman B. Munnikhuysen and her daughters, the Misses Munnikhuysen, gave an informal Afternoon Tea, on Tuesday, at their home, near Bel Air, in honor of their guests.

To Re-Open the Shirt Factory.—There is some prospect of re-opening the shirt factory of this town. Mr. John N. Sparks, a representative of the Unicorn Mills, near Millington, was in town this week and held a conference with Mr. Alfred Green and Mr. Harry W. Chambers, two of the stockholders, with that object in view.

Fire.—What might have been a serious fire was narrowly averted yesterday morning at the blacksmith shop of Mr. Elwood Whaley.

Topographical Map.—We are in receipt, through the courtesy of James E. Taylor, Esq., general agent of the Chester River Steamboat Company, of a Topographical Map of Kent county, issued by the Maryland Geological Survey.

Accidentally Shot.—Samuel Clark, the 10-year-old boy of S. B. Clark, who is representing the Metropolitan Insurance Company in Chestertown, accidentally shot himself last Monday.

Beautiful Japanese Work.—Mr. Arthur L. Davidson, the new marble man, is in possession of some of the most exquisite specimens of embroidery work that one is generally permitted to look upon.

P. O. S. of A. Camps Instituted.—Wm. E. Valliant, Esq., of Chestertown, State President of the order of Patriotic Order Sons of America, assisted by ex-State President C. Harvey Pardee, of Baltimore, instituted a camp at Centreville on last Thursday evening.

Dancing Pavilion and Restaurant.—The Ericsson Steamboat Company are contemplating building a dancing pavilion with a restaurant attached on the site of the waiting room at the shore-end of their pier at Betterton.

Farm Hand Shot.—About dusk last Wednesday evening some children playing on the farm of Mr. James Brice, tenanted by Mr. Wm. F. Edwards, either saw or thought they saw a strange man running suspiciously behind the barn.

Home After Ten Years.—Mr. Robert Goldsborough, son of the late John Goldsborough, returned to Centreville last Tuesday. It was a sad home-coming to him in some respects.

Little Locals.—The ice plant opened up this week and will begin delivery of ice on Monday.

Mr. John I. Evans has removed his tailoring establishment from the site recently occupied by John I. Rollison, to the Maul building, opposite TRANSCRIPT building.

The Chestertown Council Daughters of America, at the supper given by them on Wednesday, April 23, cleared about $50 instead of $20, as stated in last week's issue of the TRANSCRIPT.

Mr. Charles M. Hurtt, of Millington, will add a 26-foot building to the rear of his store which he recently purchased from Mrs. Ella Rash.

The Printer's Athletic Club was defeated by the Chestertown Public School in a game of base ball last Saturday afternoon on the college campus.

Col. W. Scott Roberts, of the Centreville Record, was in Chestertown Tuesday on business and paid the TRANSCRIPT a pleasant call.
