Ode to the Sprinkler.

Sprinkle, sprinkle, water-cart!
Ain't you ever goin' to start?
Streets are awful dry and dusty,
Ev'rything is gittin' rusty.
Weather man has gone a-fishin'
And left ev'rybody wishin'
That you'd hurry up and start.
Sprinkle, Sprinkle, water-cart.

Grand Jury to Convene.—Chief Judge James A. Pearce, through Clerk James T. Dixon, has notified the members of the grand Jury to meet at Chestertown Monday, June 1. The object of the meeting is to investigate the financial condition of Kent county.

Angling on Chester Bridge.—Fishing with hook and line on Chester bridge, at Chestertown, is reported good. Mr. Quint S. Moody, one of Chestertown's Isaak Waltons, has made several fine catches this week of white perch. The greatest difficulty confronting the sportsmen is to get bait, which is very scarce.

Resignation Accepted.—The Board of Visitors and Governors of Washington College met on Wednesday last, and accepted the resignation of Dr. C. W. Reid—said resignation to take effect at the end of the college year, June 17th, 1903. A committee of four, consisting of Hon. Judge Wickes, Hon. Judge Pearce, Dr. W. F. Hines and Hon. M. deK Smith was appointed to take special charge of the extensive list of applicants for the presidency and report to the Board those who seemed to be most eligible.

Fruit Outlook in Delaware.—Speaking of the fruit prospects in Delaware, former Superintendent Isaac N. Mills, of the Delaware Railroad, says: "There is likely to be a good crop both of peaches and pears. But great faith cannot be put in peaches until the latter part of next month, when the June drop will be past. The early frosts did not do much damage to the peach crop."

Good Prospect for Peaches.—Mr. William Steele, of Galena, brought to the TRANSCRIPT office this week a twig from a peach tree in his yard. It measured nine inches in length and contained eight well preserved peaches. Mr. Steele says he has only a few trees, but all appear to be as prolific as the sample shown. They are a red peach, delicious in flavor, but he does not know the name of the variety. It is to be hoped Mr. Steele's sample may be an evidence of the condition in other and larger orchards.

Hustlers in Business.—Messrs. G. E. Leary & Son, of Rock Hall, the hustling lumber merchants, have just received a cargo of lumber, via schooner Early Bird, of Norfolk. This was deposited at their factory on Grey's Inn Creek. Capt. Chas. O. Kendall has been appointed to run the gasoline power bugeye, Bye, while Harry C. Wilkins is engineer. This vessel is now employed in freighting logs to the factory of this company. These gentlemen are both wide awake business men, know the value of advertising and are bound to "get there."

Disreputable Conduct.—Some of Chestertown's smart bad boys have been indulging their fun-loving propensities by committing depredations on the growing gardens of some of our citizens. Two gardens on Queen street, belonging to Mr. J. H. Simpers and Mr. James T. Dixon, were visited by these mischief makers and early vegetables pulled up by the roots. On Maple avenue Mr. George W. Smith sustained very considerable loss by these nightly marauders. The town would do well to set a watch upon these individuals and if they are taken, punish them to the extent of the law.

Boat Capsized.—On Saturday afternoon Mr. Medford Brooks and Mr. Warren Hurlock while sailing in the former's fast canoe, were capsized in Chester river about opposite Mr. Wilbur Hubbard's Fertilizer works. The boys had crowded on all the sail the narrow craft would carry, and while under the bluff on the Queen Anne's side, a flaw struck her and in a twinkling she was lying on her side, her sails alone keeping her from turning bottom upwards. Her crew crawled over her side and escaped with a wetting that reached not higher than the knees. Mr. Eben F. Perkins, who, with Mr. P. A. M. Brooks, was out in his skiff, soon reached the wreck and took Mr. Hurlock aboard, while Mr. Brooks, Jr., stuck to the ship. Mr. William King, who saw the accident from the Kent shore went to the rescue in a row boat, and soon had sails and boat ashore.

Wall Completed.—Under the personal supervision of Mr. Columbus E. Leary, the stone wall, which is placed in the shape of a half circle around the Gen. Philip Reed marker at Caulk's Field, has been completed, also the stone flooring within the circle and the grading of the slight bluff upon which the marker is placed. The stone used for this work was obtained from the immediate neighborhood of the old historic battlefield. The public owes a vote of thanks to Mr. Leary for the personal attention he has given this matter. A representative of the TRANSCRIPT visited this historic spot on Monday and found this old gentleman toiling in the hot sun and dust endeavoring to complete the work. Surely this seemed to us a reflection upon the young manhood of the county to permit one of such ripened years to be performing these duties alone which were equally the duties of every male citizen of the county,

LITTLE LOCALS.

† The county commissioners on Tuesday appointed Mr. Wallace Atwell, keeper of standard of weights and measures, in place of Mr. J. W. Wright, resigned.

† Rock Hall, and vicinity, is attracting the attention of outsiders, and bids fair to become a summer resort for Baltimore people. Dr. Schwatka, of that city, is preparing for the hot weather by building for himself, at Deep Landing wharf, a most attractive residence, which he and family will occupy during the heated term.

† S. S. Field, Esq., attorney for Mrs. Frances P. Reed, has filed a bill of complaint in the circuit court for Kent county, asking said court to set aside the deed given by her to her son, Mr. S. Amos Reed and others, on the ground that she did not know the contents or effects of it when she signed it.

† The school building at Rock Hall will soon throw to the breezes the folds of Old Glory which was presented by Rock Hall Council No 149, Jr. O. U. A. M. Suitable ceremonies will attend the raising.

† Mr. J. K. Aldridge, accompanied by his son William, and Capt. Stork, left Chestertown Monday on his pleasure yacht Hesperus for Baltimore, where he will have her equipped with a new suit of sails and rigging.

† A meeting of the creditors of R. Heston Hicks will be held on Tuesday June 2, at the court house, Chestertown, before Clarence W. Perkins, Esq., referee in bankruptcy, for the purpose of examining the bankrupt.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Sarah E. Stewart is in Baltimore with her son and Miss Ethel leaves today for a visit to Cecil friends but will return occasionally with her uncle, Judge Jacobs, to look after garden-fruit about the burned home. Mrs. Stewart will not decide yet about rebuilding. If she rebuilds it will probably not be before the spring of 1904. If she does not decide to make her home on the old site, she will probably sell. The farm will be for rent for 1904 if not sold before June 25. The present tenant, Henry W. Anderson, goes to Poole's Island next year.

Miss Moore, of Chestertown, is visiting Marydel.

Mrs. William J. Vannort returned this week from a visit to her daughter in Baltimore.

Miss Josephine Wickes has returned from a several months' visit to friends and relatives in Baltimore.

Mr. J. A. Perkins, Jr., and family of Landsdown, Pa., have removed for the summer to their cottage at Ocean City, N. J.

David, the infant son of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. McMenamin, was christened Sunday afternoon at Christ M. P. Church, by the pastor Rev. D. L. Greenfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin F. Perkins, of Philadelphia, are guests at "Lauretum Place" the beautiful home of the latter's parents, Hon. and Mrs. H. W. Vickers.

Miss Rebecca Wickes has returned from a pleasant visit to friends and relatives in New York.

Mrs. Henry Levis Carter, of Morristown, N. J., and Mrs. Frank H. Haskell, of Roland Park, Baltimore, both sisters of Mrs. Hiram M. Brown, are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brown, on Water street.

Mrs. Jane Stauffer is visiting at the home of her nephew, Mr. N. S. Elburn, Queen St.

Mrs. Belle Newnam and Miss Hennie Perkins, of Lynch's, are the guests of Mrs. C. T. Denroche, at Fairlee.

Mrs. M. G. Janvier, of near Lynch's, left this week in company with a party of friends for California. She will visit the principal places of interest in that state as well as many other interesting points en route.

Miss Emma Sutton, of Baltimore, and formerly a teacher of this county, is the guest of Miss Alice Gemmill.

Mrs. Samuel Ford, of Middletown, Del., has been the guest of her sister, Mrs. A. N Stavely.

Mrs. Stillwell and daughter have left Chestertown and are now at their home in Baltimore.

Mrs. Joel R. Clements, we regret to report, is quite sick at her home in Chestertown.

NEW ADVERTISEMENTS.

We call attention to the change made today in the Tolchester schedule of steamers. This will be in force probably only for today as the regular excursion trips will commence next Saturday.

Don't forget the sale of fine young cattle on Tuesday next by Mr. Thomas Massey, at Whitely's stables, Chestertown. Consult his advertisement in another column.

FROM CRUMPTON.

Miss Elsie Woodall returned home Saturday after a most delightful visit to her aunt, Mrs. Albert Chandler, of Smyrna.

Miss Katie Coleman, of Philadelphia, spent Sunday with her parents in town.

Miss Mary Fennimore is on the sick list.

Miss Jeanie Statts, accompanied by her friend, Mr. Bishop, returned home last week from a delightful visit to friends in Wilmington and Philadelphia.

Mr. Harry Walls took a business trip to Washington and Aberdeen last week.

Miss Lula Boggs was the happy recipient of a very valuable present last Friday night. It was a standard make upright piano, coming direct from New York, a present from her parents.

Politics is all the rage now. At almost every hour of the day you may see a little group gathered together on some street corner and can wager with almost absolute safety that the topic of conversation is politics. The fight here promises to be a warm one. Messrs. Clements and Vansant are making an active canvass and confidently predict victory. But the Walls-Harrison combine is leaving no stone unturned to carry things their way and our veteran politician, who has never fought a losing fight in all his life, Mr. Isaac Snitcher, predicts that the Organization will get as large a majority as the other side gets votes.

GIFTS POUR IN

Mrs. Lulu Hadley, whose refusal to make up Booker T. Washington's bed at the English Hotel caused her discharge and brought her many presents and compliments from the South, is receiving compliments and presents from near home. One of them was a gold watch and chain from "Citizens of Indianapolis." The checks and orders received aggregated $560. Mrs. Hadley also received word that the residents of Houston, Texas, are raising a fund for her. At a meeting this week $500 was subscribed, and the Houston Chronicle is raising a larger fund by subscriptions, acknowledged in a column headed, "For a self-respecting girl." One of the speakers at the Houston meeting said he had more respect for a girl who refused to make up Booker T. Washington's bed than for a President who dined with him.
