WORTH THINKING ABOUT.

"Grumble? No; what's the good? If it availed I would; But it doesn't a bit—Not it."

Judge thyself with the judgment of sincerity, and thou wilt judge others with the judgment of charity.

In figuring on what you might have been you will find a good deal more comfort in looking down than up.

Life has been likened to a river, but, unlike a river, life doesn't gain in depth by being made narrow.—Pack.

You must use the tools that come to hand and be glad for them, if you want to get things done.—Jacob A. Riis.

No doubt poverty would be less of a misfortune were it not for the fact that so many people treat it as a crime.

How some people who are so widely different from us can be satisfied with themselves is past all human understanding.

Some people are planning already to move to a change of administration when they get to heaven.—Ram's Horn.

A great many citizens, unfortunately, want only so much honest government as will not interfere with their interests.

"A day of worry is more exhausting than a week of work. Worry upsets our whole system, work keeps it in health and order."

"Once a fellow's got the primary business virtues cemented into his character, he's safe to build on," says a successful merchant.

You can't buy a home. A man buys a house, but only a woman can make it a home. A house is a body, a home is a soul.—The Outlook.

There is only one way to be happy, and that is to make somebody else so, and you can't be happy cross-lots; you have got to go by the regular turn-pike road.

Money is a needful and precious thing, and when well used a noble thing; but I never want you to think it the first and only prize to strive for.—Louisa M. Alcott.

To live in the presence of great truths and eternal laws, that is what keeps a man patient when the world ignores him, and calm and unspoiled when the world praises him.—Balzac.

The tendency to persevere, to persist in spite of hindrance, discouragements and impossibilities—it is this that in all things distinguishes the strong soul from the weak.—Carlyle.

"There's always a way to fall, my boy. Always a way to slide, And the men you'll find at the foot of the hill All sought for an easy ride. So on and up, though the road be rough And the stones come thick and fast; There is room at the top for the man who tries. And victory comes at last."

I know of no better equipment for making our dreams come true—faith in God to make all things possible that are right; faith in man to get them done; fun enough in between to keep them from spoiling or running off the track into useless crankery. An extra good sprinkling of that.—Jacob A. Riis.

Finish every day and be done with it. You have done what you could. Some blunders and absurdities no doubt crept in; forget them as soon as you can. Tomorrow's a new day, begin it well and serenely, and with too high a spirit to be cumbered with your old nonsense. This day is all that is good and fair. It is too dear with its hopes and invitations to waste a moment on the yesterdays.—Emerson.

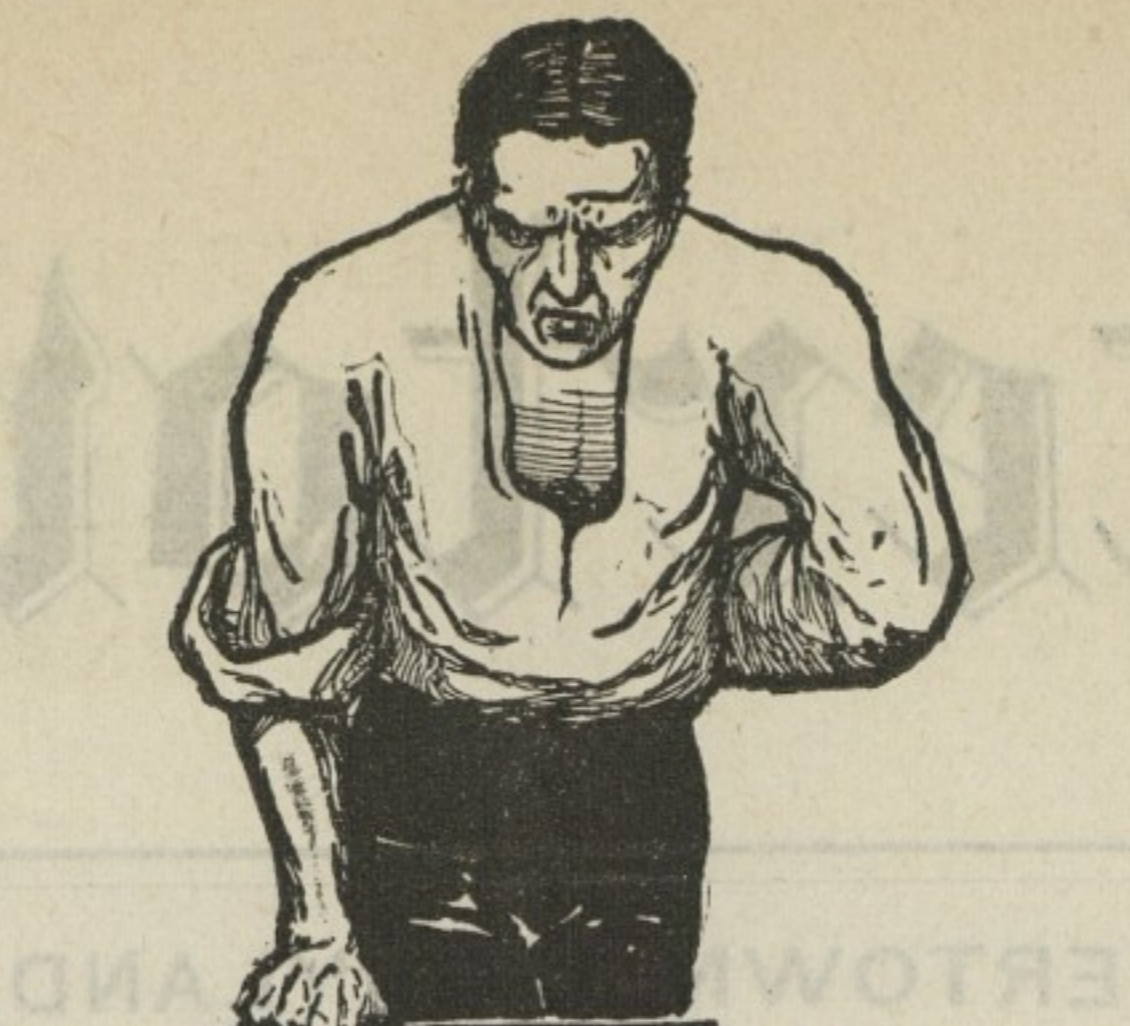

It is difficult to determine what is success. A knowledge of the way to obtain it is not so difficult. Summed up, it is just this: Do your best every day whatever you have in hand. The principal failures in 'business, so far as I can judge, are due to lack of definite plan, shiftlessness, trying to find out some new way to suddenly leap into a high position, instead of patiently plodding along the old roads of industry and integrity.—John Wanamaker.

The real meaning of a successful man, is the man who has made the most of himself in the best sense—physically, mentally and spiritually, who has done the most he could day by day to brighten, cheer and better other lives as he went along, who has controlled his selfish impulses, and left the people he has associated with a little happier and better for knowing him. Such a man, if he is a billionaire or a homeless wanderer like Christ—is a success.—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

"I believe in superfluous knowledge. I have little faith in the thing called genius. I think any young man can attain success, and great success, by good, hard, studious labor, not intermittent labor, but conscientious, constant effort. The men who have achieved success are the men who have worked, read and thought more than was absolutely necessary, who have not been content with knowledge sufficient for the present need, but who have sought additional knowledge and stored it away for the emergency reserve. It is the superfluous labor that equips a man for everything that counts most in life."

His Life Saved by Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy.

"B. L. Byer, a well known cooper of this town, says he believes Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy saved his life last summer. He had been sick for a month with what the doctors called bilious dysentery, and could get nothing to do him any good until he tried this remedy. It gave him immediate relief," says B. T. Little, merchant, Hancock, Md. For sale by M. A. Toulson, druggist, Chestertown, Md.

Mr. A. L. Barnes, of 413 North Main avenue, engineer at the Scranton Electric Lighting Station, Scranton, Pa., says: "I injured my back by a fall and it affected my kidneys. There was severe pain in the loins, accompanied with irregularity of the secretions. They were highly colored and contained sediment. I got Doan's Kidney Pills at Matthews Bros.' drug store, and they entirely relieved the pain and regulated the secretions. I believe Doan's Kidney Pills are fully up to representation, and I will reply to any one questioning this statement and enclosing stamps, corroborating it in every detail."

THAT BOY NEEDS SHOES AGAIN

CAN'T HELP IT. This kind of weather keeps boys out of doors, rushes them into games and sports, and plays sad havoc with their Shoes.

We've had a special line of Shoes made up for this very period.

Some are staunch Black Russia Calf, some are Box Calf, and some Kangaroo Calf.

These are for those ruddy roisterers who wear out more Shoes in one year than a man does in three.

They are laced, with flexible oak tan, sewed soles. Fast hooks and eyelets. Black stays and some have circle studded heels.

A Trial Will Convince You that our shoes will last the boy much longer than the ordinary shoes. All prices according to size.

Concerning Fertilizers

Fifty years ago a young merchant, having been in a new business just long enough to learn some of its successes and many of its disappointments, was standing in the doorway of his store wondering what was the best thing to do; business was fearfully dull and bills coming due. While thus occupied, an old gentleman came up to him and said, "Be true to your customers, be true to yourself, do just as you agree, never misrepresent your goods, and trade will come to you from the most unexpected places and in the most unexpected way."

That was a prophecy of three generations ago. It did not apply to any one business, but covered all businesses, and when, in 1902, T. R. HUBBARD & SON'S FERTILIZERS were being shipped to Ohio, to the truck farmers of Virginia and the South, to New Jersey, to Pennsylvania, to Delaware and to Maryland, some of it unsolicited and to utter strangers, the old maxim of the old days forces itself strongly upon us.

We have been in the fertilizer business for over a quarter of a century, and in all that time, if any of our goods has been changed it has been to better them. The same bone we ground at first we grind today—its quality unchanged. It was pure then and it is pure now. We are reaping the reward of being true to our customers.

There is nothing that is harder to vary than the truth. A witness on the stand who has made a clear statement of the plain truth, never varies his story, even under the fiercest cross-examination. It is the teller of fairy-tales who changes his statements with each varying condition and season.

The fertilizers we offer you for 1903 are the best we have ever put out. Each year has its experiences. We learned something in 1902, and the users of HUBBARD'S FERTILIZERS will get the benefit of it.

A poor article may sell rapidly for a time if it is pushed energetically, but a record of steady gain over a period of 58 seasons among the same people can only be achieved by a good reliable article.

You can only judge the future by the past. If you have used HUBBARD'S FERTILIZERS in the past, you may be assured they will give you satisfaction in the future. If you have not tried them, we ask you if a record of 29 (twenty-nine) successful years with the farmers of the Middle States is not a sufficient guarantee to justify you in using our goods.

Soliciting your patronage, and thanking all our friends for their substantial support in the past, we remain,

Very truly yours,
WILBUR W. HUBBARD,
Manufacturer of Standard Bone Fertilizers,
CHESTERTOWN, MARYLAND.
